

HAS BULGARIAN ARMY WON GREAT VICTORY?

STORIES OF BATTLES DURING EARLY PART OF THE WEEK WOULD INDICATE IT.

FIGHTING CONTINUES

Turks Apparently Are Losing in the First Flush of the Struggle for Control of European Turkey.

London, Eng., Nov. 2.—Graphic descriptions of the week-long battle between the Turkish and Bulgarian armies in the southeastern corner of the Balkan peninsula now are reaching London. It would appear that nearly 400,000 men have been engaged in the struggle which, according to some accounts, still is in progress.

The fighting on the left wing of the Turkish army, according to one correspondent, was terribly severe. In their attack on Luleburgaz, the Bulgarians found Torgut Sherket Pasha with his troops in position on the slopes behind the town.

The Bulgarians brought up six batteries and shelled the position on Monday evening. They then carried out an infantry attack which was unsuccessful. On Tuesday the Bulgarian artillery settled down to a methodical preparatory bombardment to which the Turkish artillery replied vigorously.

In the artillery duel no superiority was shown by either side. On Tuesday afternoon it became clear to the Turkish commander that the Bulgarians were pushing up masses of reinforcements into the firing line to give weight to their attack. This meant that the position at Luleburgaz was becoming untenable.

The Turkish advance line fell back to Torgut Sherket Pasha's main position on the left, guarding the railway bridge across the river Erkene. The town itself remained unoccupied by either side during Tuesday night and throughout Wednesday when it was set on fire by the explosion of Turkish shells.

Close battle was joined between the opposing forces at dawn on Wednesday and raged with equal fierceness along the whole front for a distance of twenty miles. The Bulgarians began by a determined effort to take the railway bridge, but the Turkish troops entrenched near the head of the bridge drove them back with a sweeping fire.

Toward noon the Bulgarian artillery concentrated its fire on the center of the Turkish position, a prelude to an assault. The "shrapnel" fire was perfectly timed and the Turkish infantry suffered heavily. Nevertheless, there, as elsewhere on the field, the losses were only what was to be expected from the severity of the battle.

Long columns of wounded were passed to the rear after receiving first aid on the field. No description of the latter stages of the battle has yet come through, but the reports from Sofia assert that the Bulgarians carried everything before them.

Berlin, Nov. 2.—Germany has accepted the proposal made by the French premier, Raymond Poincaré, regarding the form which intervention in the Balkan situation by the European powers shall take. According to an announcement made by the foreign office here today the proposal does not contain any plan for the settlement of the Balkan territorial situation. It is understood that the French proposal represents the Anglo-Russian views.

PETTY QUARREL LED TO PITCHED BATTLE

Portuguese Cavalry Called Out to Disperse Mob That Took Sides in Lovers' Dispute.

Lisbon, Nov. 1.—A scene of jealousy recently occasioned the calling out of a regiment of cavalry, a battalion of infantry and the entire police force and resulted in the killing of seven persons and the wounding of twenty others in the streets of Oporto.

A well-known and wealthy local merchant had a few weeks ago married a rich and beautiful woman. While walking on one of the principal streets of the city he met an unsuccessful suitor for his wife's hand. Hot words passed between the two men, quickly followed by blows, and revolvers were drawn. Meanwhile a number of friends of the two men had come up. In all some 250 persons assembled around the two disputants. Sides were taken and a regular pitched battle ensued, arousing the city.

The governor turned out the whole police force and directed them to the battlefield, but at their appearance the two parties joined forces and turned their weapons upon the police, who were completely routed, leaving two killed and six wounded on the ground.

The Twenty-ninth Infantry Regiment and the Seventh Cavalry were then called out. The soldiers surrounded the combatants and after a short resistance scattered them in all directions, the troops riding hard at their heels. Eighty people were arrested.

The growth of the clandestine immigration from Portugal is causing considerable anxiety to the Portuguese authorities, and it is understood that the Portuguese government will shortly denounce the Hispano-Portuguese convention of 1887 for the suppression of the traffic.

The measures taken by the Spanish government, it is claimed, are totally inadequate to stop this traffic, which is proving a serious drain on the agricultural population. Labor contractors from Fuentes d'Oñoro, Vigo and Cadiz freely engage Portuguese laborers who are shipped off to North and South America. It is declared, with the tacit consent of the Spanish authorities, in total disregard of the provisions of the Portuguese government passing unheeded.

The result of this traffic is that Portuguese emigration to the two American continents, which a short time ago averaged only 30,000 to 40,000 annually, has now increased to over 75,000, and the country districts, especially in the north, are threatened with rapid depopulation.

The famous fighting bulls of Portugal displayed their aversion to motor cars recently when an automobile omnibus with ten passengers was proceeding along a country high road near Cintra, Portugal.

A herd of fighting bulls from a celebrated breeder's establishment suddenly appeared around a corner. Frightened by the throbbing of the engine, the bulls got out of hand and charged down on the vehicle. The driver hastily turned his machine and, pursued by the herd of infuriated animals, but being ignorant of the neighborhood he drove the heavy conveyance over a precipice into a ravine 30 feet below.

The driver and three passengers were killed outright, while the others were all seriously injured.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 2.—For the first time in her history Pennsylvania has this year supplied New York, Ohio, Indiana and other of the so-called "border" states as the real battleground of a presidential election. For almost half a century the only question in connection with an election in the Keystone state has been as to the size of the Republican majorities. Today, a fact almost without precedent, real doubt exists as to which one of the three leading candidates for president will obtain the electoral vote of this state.

ROOSEVELT REPLIES TO WILSON'S WORDS ON TRUST QUESTION

Criticizes Governor for Not Carrying Out Promise to Curb New Jersey Corporations.

Oyster Bay, Nov. 2.—Theodore Roosevelt issued a statement today devoted largely to answering Governor Wilson's remarks upon the trust question in his speech last Thursday night at Madison Square Garden.

"In view of Mr. Wilson's insistence upon the importance of the 'trust problem,'" says Col. Roosevelt, "I desire to call attention to Mr. Wilson's record on the trust question as governor of New Jersey and to his previous attitude." Col. Roosevelt quotes from Mr. Wilson's speech when running for governor and later.

"In his first message to the legislature, January 17, 1911," the statement continues, "Gov. Wilson renewed with emphasis his promise to deal with the New Jersey trusts. He describes them as having 'slipped out of control of the very law which gave them birth and which can make and unmake them at pleasure' and declared:

"We now have got ourselves to control them soberly but effectively and to bring them within the regulation of the law. There is a great obligation as well as great opportunity an imperative obligation from which we cannot escape if we would. No man who wishes to enjoy the public confidence dares hold back and if he is wise he will not resort to shortcuts."

"There was ample opportunity," says Col. Roosevelt, "for Gov. Wilson to act either by securing legislative action or proceeding against the trusts without the intervention of the legislature. The supreme court of the United States has solemnly declared that the Standard Oil and Tobacco trusts have been guilty of fraudulent and unlawful conduct which the New Jersey statute declares to be a misdemeanor. Mr. Wilson has been governor for 22 months.

"He now says that he wishes to proceed against the directors and managers of these trusts individually. He has and for 22 months has had as governor of New Jersey ample opportunity and every possible means for thus proceeding against them, and for over a year has had the decision of the supreme court as a warrant for such procedure, but he never lifted his finger to take it."

Harvard Downs Old Rival Princeton

Crimson Lowers Tigers' Colors by Score of 16 to 6—Field Goals Play Important Part.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 2.—Tens of thousands of spectators streamed out to the great stadium on the banks of the Charles to see Princeton and Harvard battle today in the most important football game of the eastern gridiron.

The weather was superb both from the players' and spectators' standpoint. Harvard was a slight favorite on the betting up to the opening of the game but, the odds were narrow and there seemed to be little disposition on the part of the Princeton backers to lay wagers.

The seating capacity of the stadium had been increased by the erection of temporary stands providing an aggregate seating capacity of 37,000.

Princeton outplayed Harvard in the forward pass department during the first two periods of the game, and at the end of the half the score stood 6 to 0 in favor of the Tigers.

ART SCHOOLS FIGHT GROWS MORE BITTER WITH SALON OPENING

Critics and Public Take Part in Discussion of Works of New Radical Artists.

Paris, Nov. 1.—The artistic struggle being waged in France has become even more bitter since the opening of the Autumn Salon. Not only are the painters fighting among themselves, but also the critics, and to a certain extent, the public.

Unlike the Spring Salon, the autumn exhibition of the fine arts is always more or less convulsed by the very nature of its contributions. Of the thirty-five American artists represented—fifteen of whom are women—practically none comes under the more severe condemnation of the French critics. Of the South Americans, of whom there are perhaps half that number, several partake a little of the extreme radical variety. But even their products do not justify the inclusion of the western hemisphere in the region denoted by the critics as "the outer darkness of barbarism."

Out of more than six hundred and ninety artists exhibiting, perhaps thirty fall within the terms of the censorship. The fact remains, however, that public curiosity at the works of the thirty has drawn more patronage than any legitimate interest in the creations of the remaining six hundred and sixty.

This year the presence of an unusually large number of works by three leading modern radical camps—post impressionists, cubists, and futurists—has made the event even more exciting than in past years. As a matter of fact only a small proportion of the works of painting or sculpture exposed are by those belonging to those schools, although their aesthetic canons and standards get the lion's share of attention from visitors.

The best critics of the old school, writing in such newspapers as "Le Temps" or "Le Figaro," attribute a new reason for the "madness" of the three schools. It is that the men who are painting those queer works in Paris are not now "Frenchmen," blessed with the excellence of a strict and emic education, locally derived, but barbarians from the great outer darkness of Poland, Little Russia, Bohemia, Hungary, Norway, Finland, Siberia, and so on. This too sudden immersion into the artistic atmosphere of Paris gives them an inordinate desire to express themselves suddenly in some shape or other, and because they have not the training adequate for expression through the old recognized mediums they tackle the problem in a new way, interesting only for its oddity and got an entirely incoherent and inarticulate result. On their side, however, the radicals reply by pointing to the distinguished master, Henri Matisse, who has been hailed as the head and front of all their manifestations, and as well as the radical tradition in painting which ran down through the last years of the nineteenth century in France and which boasted as its champions men now recognized as the most notable creators of their period. Only a few years ago, say the radicals, Japanese prints looked just as queer as cubist works do now.

It is difficult to describe how the new works look, unless it suffice to say that whereas the post impressionists paint figures and landscapes with characters which remind one of the drawings in a text-book of plane geometry, the cubists recall solid geometric shapes, and the futurists, angular, smashed-up, or a kaleidoscopic, where, realist details being innumerable, if not actually discoverable in the general haze and collision of colors and forms.

Of the special features attached to the Salon—among which is an exhibition of a number of well-known nineteenth century portraits—by far the most interesting is a display of rooms, suites and little houses decorated after some of the general principles expressed by the most extreme of the modern painters whose works are to be seen in the radical section of the show. The application consists, for the most part, in angular furniture and papers with every possible arrangement of color on them.

HEAVY LOSS OF LIFE FROM FLOOD IN MEXICO

Tixtla, Guerrero, Mex., Nov. 2.—The towns of Mochitlan and Querehuitanango, near here, were almost destroyed Thursday by a flood resulting from torrential rains. Refugees report that a quarter of the population perished.

REPUBLICANS FILE REPORT OF CAMPAIGN EXPENSES

Madison, Nov. 2.—The republican state central committee's financial statement filed today shows expenditures of $4,517.78 and contributions of $6,453.67.

A POINTED QUESTION

How many times in the course of a month do you read the Gazette page of classified advertising? That's the real test of their efficiency. If you read them often you may be sure that many others do also, and if you watch your opportunities there are others doing the same. If others can interest you in their wants, just as surely can you interest them in yours. The classified page is for your use.

ORDER TRANSPORTS PREPARED TO CARRY SOLDIERS TO CUBA

Government Prepared to Intervene in Cuba Should Disorders Arise Following Elections.

Fort Monroe, Va., Nov. 2.—The army general staff has ordered four transports in reserve here to be prepared within four days for instant readiness to carry 2,800 troops to Cuba.

Washington, Nov. 2.—The preparation of the army transports at Newport News for immediate service is one of several steps taken already by the general staff to have the army in readiness for service in Cuba should disorder arise demanding intervention.

CHEMISTS TESTIFY IN LINDLOFF CASE

Refute Testimony of State's Poison Experts—Declare Presence in Viscera Inclusive.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Mrs. Louisa Lindloff, the seeress, today concluded the submission of testimony to hear out a prediction she professed to have read in her magic crystal "ball of fate" that she would be freed of the charge of murdering her 15-year old son, Arthur, for which she has been on trial here for the last week. The crystal gazer maintaining her innocence not only of this crime, but as well of the corollary charges by the state that she had poisoned four others of her kind, called to the witness stand several chemists. They refuted testimony by the state poison experts declaring that mineral poison found in human viscera would not give evidence of whether it had been taken in an organic or inorganic state. This was to maintain her defense that the poison she admitted was found in the bodies of her relatives was taken in patent medicines which the victims used to combat a blood disease.

MADE ASSAULTS UPON NON-UNION WORKMEN

Witnesses in "Dynamite Conspiracy" Trial Say Violence Preceded Use of Explosives.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 2.—Various assaults alleged to have been made on non-union workmen were described by witnesses at the "dynamite conspiracy" trial today as a form of violence which preceded the use of explosives. James A. Wolf, and Frank Denk, Cleveland, testified that when they continued working after the iron workers union had called a strike, they were assaulted by gangs of men. Denk said that one of his assailants was Peter J. Smith, now a defendant charged with complicity in the dynamite conspiracy.

FRANCE IS TO CELEBRATE SUPREMACY IN THE AIR

Paris, Nov. 2.—To celebrate the supremacy of France in aerial navigation a great banquet of over 2,000 covers is to be given tomorrow under the auspices of the French National Committee of Military Aviation. The scene of the banquet will be the largest of the great dirigible hangars on the aviation field at Issy les Moulineaux. The gathering will be exceptionally brilliant, the guests including members of the cabinet, heads of the army and navy, several members of political and social organizations who have helped to give to France the eminent position she holds as "Queen of the Air."

EXTENDS THREE YEAR RULE TO ALASKA HOMESTEADERS

Washington, Nov. 2.—Commissioner Dennett of the land office today ruled that the recent legislation reducing to three years the period of residence required on homesteads, is operative in Alaska as well as in the United States proper. The decision establishes an important principle bearing on homesteading work now under way in that territory.

SCHOONER LIES STRANDED OFF COAST OF VIRGINIA

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 2.—With two of her crew lashed to the rigging and the others undoubtedly lost, an unknown schooner lies stranded today three quarters of a mile southeast of the New Inlet life saving station, being battered to pieces in a fierce gale. Lines were shot from shore over the ship, but the two men appeared to be too weak to seize them.

TWO GERMAN OFFICERS KILLED BY AN EXPLOSION

Kiel, Germany, Nov. 2.—Lieut. Commandant Jacobson and petty officer Fuels were killed and Lieut. Plinke seriously injured today by the explosion of a sea mine during practice. They all belonged to the cruiser Yorck.

GIVEN RIGHT TO VOTE AT ELECTION TUESDAY

Madison, Nov. 2.—Cornelius McKune of Kenosha, a former Waupun prisoner, was restored to citizenship by executive order today.

WISCONSIN SCORED IN FIRST HALF OF GAME AT MADISON

Chicago Plays Excellent Ball, Holding Badger Line Down—Gillette Not in Goal Kicking Form.

Madison, Nov. 2.—Fifteen thousand people witnessed the football game here today between the University of Wisconsin eleven and the team from the University of Chicago.

Every train yesterday and a succession of "specials" today brought "rooters" from Chicago, Milwaukee and other cities, while autos by the score whirled into town from the immediate vicinity.

The city was a mass of color, shopkeepers having declared a half-holiday and decorated their buildings. While the cardinal of Wisconsin predominated, there was enough maroon in evidence to keep the early Chicago arrivals from feeling entirely lost.

Neither team had been defeated this season and both had disposed of strong opponents. Because of its higher backs, smoother defense and greater number of experienced players, Wisconsin was favorite among betters at odds of 4 to 1.

Chicago had the heavier line, but the Wisconsin backfield was the more weighty. The line-up of the teams was in doubt right up to game time. Chicago's left halfback and right end positions were unsettled. The possibility that Van Riper, Wisconsin's star back, might play despite injuries received in recent contests, made Coach Juneau wary about announcing the Wisconsin eleven.

The line-up announced by the coaches for the game is as follows: Wisconsin: ... Hoefel (capt.) ... Lamp ... Van Ghent ... Schmidt ... Powell ... Butler ... Ostlie ... Gillette ... Tormey ... Alexander ... Tandberg ... Hackett, West ... Benbrook, Michigan, and Endsley, Purdue.

Wisconsin started the game with a rush, and while the Chicago line held well and their backs made some good gains through trick plays, the Badgers managed to hold them down and made gains through their line. When the first period ended the ball was in Chicago's territory, but six inches from the goal line.

In the second period, Tormey went across the line for a touchdown, by a line buck, and Gillette failed at a try for goal. Score at the end of the half, Wisconsin 6, Chicago 0.

The third quarter was intense. The vast crowd, while estimated at 15,000, is really much larger. Every available space on the big field is occupied. In the third quarter Wisconsin made another touchdown and kicked goal. Score: Wisconsin 13; Chicago 0.

Chicago was penalized 15 yards during the period. In the third quarter Wisconsin piled up two more touchdowns while Chicago got one. Both Wisconsin's touchdowns came by rapid fire play, the gains being made in four or five downs each for crossing the line. Chicago's touchdown came after a fluke kick which gave them a clear field. Score stood with but a few minutes to play Wisconsin 27 Chicago 6.

SHERMAN IS BURIED WITH SIMPLE RITES

BODY TAKEN TO CHURCH AFTER BRIEF SERVICE HELD AT THE HOME.

EULOGY IS DELIVERED

By Dr. M. W. Stryker, President of Hamilton College—President Taft and Senators Present.

Utica, Nov. 2.—Arrangements for the funeral rites over the body of Vice President Sherman were completed at an early hour today. The program provided for a private religious service at the Sherman mansion, the transfer of the body from the residence to the First Presbyterian church; the public service at the latter place; the removal of the body to Forest Hill cemetery and its commitment to the Sherman Mausoleum. The First Presbyterian church is the largest in the city, but the fact soon became evident that it would not be large enough to seat more than a small portion of those who would desire to attend. The house services were reserved for the family and such intimate friends as they chose to invite. Rev. L. H. Holden, D. D., pastor of the Reformed Dutch church was to conduct the ceremony at the house while services at the church were under the direction of Dr. M. W. Stryker, president of Hamilton college, assisted by Dr. Holden. The program for the house service contained no provision for a sermon or eulogy. Its principal features were prayers from the Dutch church liturgy and scriptural readings. Provision at the church was made for only the briefest service possible. It was arranged it should be largely choral and in addition to the music, prayers and scriptural readings.

The program also included a brief address by Dr. Stryker. President and other members of the governmental party came as guests of the United States senate, which body had in charge the official end of the ceremonial. Dr. Stryker's address at the funeral of Sherman was very brief. He said in part:

"In solemn and united mourning, but with calm gratitude and devout hope, we meet in this house of faith to remember him whose form is here in all the mysterious dignity of death. We represent while we deeply share a general public sorrow. The high representatives of the nation and the state meet with us with keen human sympathy to make, however inadequately, a fitting tribute of manly regard and affection to the name of a faithful fellow citizen. We want and an endearing companion. We mourn the vice president, but most we mourn the man. The community gathers to have part in these devotions aware that one is gone who was for long years their preeminent fellow citizen, but also one whose cordial courtesy and impartial kindness made him a counselor and a helper of innumerable men. In your names I assure all this household of your alert and profound heed for their distress. In their names I thank you for your presence and for the swift telepathy which identifies your grief with theirs as you put out to them such warm hands. Good servant, great heart, gentle friend, farewell. We, the pilgrims of the night still lodging in tents, halt by their secure abode where all shadows are swallowed up of day. Left the mortal part on mortality. Thanks be to God for every good fight ended for every victory won through faith for every grace, hands to where beyond these voices there is peace."

Leave New York. New York, Nov. 2.—President Taft, Chairman Hill of the republican national committee, Justices Hughes and Putney of the United States supreme court and many senators and congressmen left here at 8:35 today on a special train for Utica to attend the funeral of Vice President Sherman.

Fire Salutes. Washington, Nov. 2.—Vice Presidential salutes of 19 guns were fired at noon today on ships of the navy, the revenue cutter service, and all army posts and coast fortifications in observance of the funeral of Vice President Sherman.

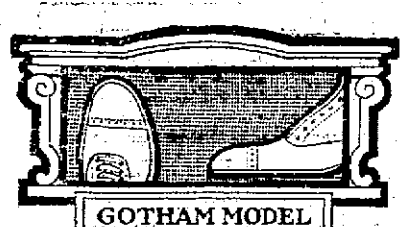

SCOTCH BAR WOMEN FOR SAKE OF TODDY

Male Members of St. Andrew's Society at Washington in Hiding After Decision to Keep Women From Banquet.

Washington, Nov. 2.—Scotch fathers, husbands, and lovers, members of St. Andrew's society of the District of Columbia, practically are in hiding today as a result of their decision last night to abolish women from their official banquet, because their presence would necessitate that absence of Scotch whiskey at the function. Indignant Scotch women are threatening reprisals. The vote for whiskey as against women virtually was unanimous and was taken after a heated discussion at the annual election of the organization.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND'S PHYSICIAN IS DYING

Washington, Nov. 2.—Major General Robert M. O'Reilly, surgeon general of the army from 1902 until 1909 and personal physician and close friend of Ex-President Cleveland, is dying from uremic poisoning in this city.

Here is a special shoe, made particularly for the man who wants custom-made style, but doesn't want to pay for it with corns—GOTHAM MODEL.

It breathes, is light, yet has a slight, almost concealed swing which favors the little toes; the heels medium.

Black Smooth King Calf and Tan Russia Calf Plain Last with Stout Single Sole, or Black King Calf Blucher, with heavier Half Double Sole. Price, $4.00.

SECOND HAND SEWING MACHINES

I have just traded in some Sewing Machines which are in first class condition and which can be bought cheap.

Come in and look them over.

A. R. STEELE

126 Corn Exchange.

NIGHT WEAR

"Brighton"—means superior quality, materials, extra full size and fine workmanship.

For ladies, or men, outing flannel gowns, at 75c and $1.00 each. Muslin gowns, for ladies or men, at 50c, 75c and $1.00 each.

HALL & HUEBEL

PIPE SALE

Closing out pipe line; very special prices.

RAZOOK'S CANDY PALACE

MEN'S SUITS AND OVERCOATS

Now is the time to have them FAULTLESSLY DRY CLEANED

And this is the place to bring them

JANESVILLE CHEMICAL STEAM DYE WORKS

C. F. BROCKHAUS & SON

If you want to get highest prices for your Iron, Rags, Copper, Rubber, etc. go to the

IRON KING

You will surely get the highest market price and this is

S. W. ROTSTEIN IRON CO.

60 So. River St.

Rock Co. phone 1212. Bell, 459.

IF YOU CAN'T BE WRONG—YOU CAN'T BE RIGHT.

If you can't get courage to try Ford Clothes and see how much better they are for the same money you will never progress in the eyes of your fellow man. Now is right!

FORD

Dainty Lunches AT RAZOOK'S

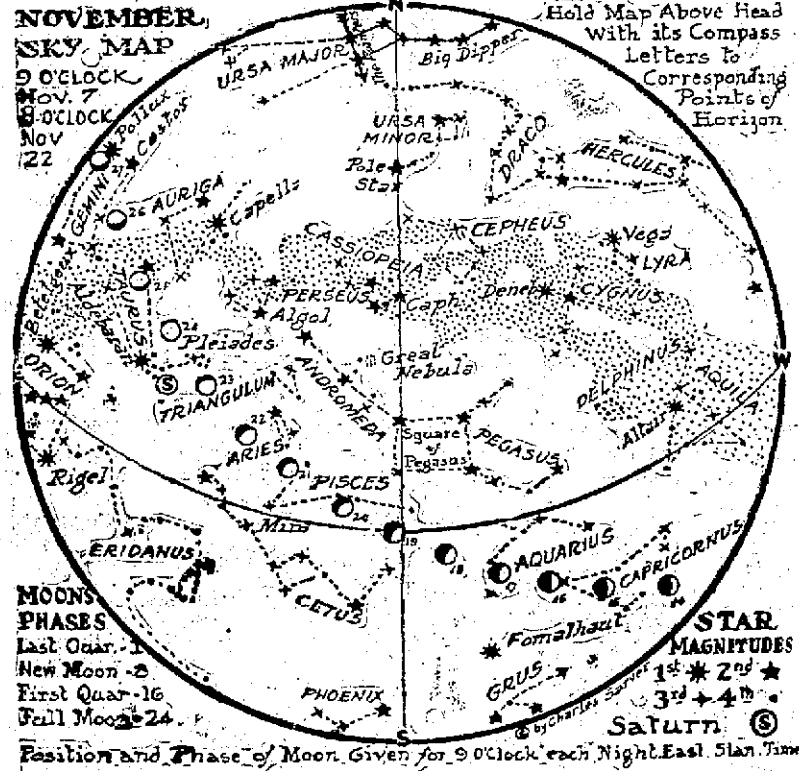

You'll perhaps, be interested to learn that next week, we'll start serving light, but appetizing lunches in our ice cream parlors.

See later announcement for details.

RAZOOK'S CANDY PALACE

"The House of Purity."

30 S. Main St. Both Phones.

THE HEAVENS IN NOVEMBER.

November evenings afford the first view of the brilliant winter star groups, and the eastern horizon grows more attractive every night as the month advances. The Twins (Gemini) are low in the east at the hour of the map. Castor and Pollux, the sailor's stars, mark the heads of The Twins, whose feet are bathed in the stream of the Milky Way. Southward, across the Milky Way, the giant Orion, most magnificent of constellations, as well as one of the most interesting to the student, is mounting into view.

Orion stands facing The Bull (Taurus), which is perpetually charging down upon him. His huge shoulders are marked by two bright stars, the larger of which, Betelgeuse, is of a duller red than its neighbor Aldebaran, the fiery eye of The Bull. Betelgeuse, or Betelgeuse, as it is often spelled, is a variable star. It is so far away from us that astronomers have found it impossible accurately to ascertain its distance and it ranks as a sun of immense magnitude, thousands of times as brilliant as our own star of day. Rigel, a splendid white star, often beautifully iridescent when near the horizon, is in one of the giant's feet. It is at least as distant and as great as Betelgeuse, being, according to Newcomb, probably ten thousand times as bright as our sun.

Orion's "belt of gold," consisting of three almost perfectly matched stars of the second magnitude, is midway between Rigel and Betelgeuse. The northernmost of the three lines nearly on the celestial equator. It will be noticed that the three differ a little in color, the two northernmost, Minikar and Anilam, being white, while the other, Anilam, is slightly tinged with yellow. The color contrast is more striking through an opera glass than to the naked eye. The belt is three degrees in length, and serves as a convenient measuring stick in this part of the sky, as do The Pointers, five degrees apart, in the polar region. It is sometimes known here by its English name of "The Yard and Bill."

Southward from the belt hangs the giant's sword, a curved line of stars, one of which has a hazy appearance, belonging to no other star visible to the naked eye. An opera glass makes this peculiarity more apparent. A small telescope resolves the star into several bright points involved in a shapeless mass of luminosity.

This is the great Nebula of Orion, one of the most astonishing objects in the heavens. The telescope reveals it as a tremendous chaos—huge beyond any standard or terrestrial comparison, the primordial stuff out of which system of suns and planets are manufactured. In fact the process of their making is here bared to our eyes. For here and there in the disorderly mass shine conspicuous points of light. Where these are thickest, the nebulous substance seems most attenuated, and there can be no doubt that these luminous points are embryo suns, formed from the substance of the great nebula. Seen with a telescope of moderate power, this nebula is one of the most impressive sights in the heavens, and one which never loses its mystery and charm.

Orion's head is represented by the group of small stars just above the middle of the line joining the two shoulder stars.

The Pleiades have now risen to a point convenient for observation, clear of the horizon mists and not too high for the comfort of the watcher. They will be found almost due east at the hour of the map and not quite half way up to the zenith. Anybody with good average eyesight can distinguish six or seven stars of this interesting group. On a clear moonless night, as many as nine or eleven can be counted. With an opera glass as many as forty or fifty may be seen, with others twinkling just at the limits of visibility. There are, celestial photography shows, more than 3,000 stars in this tiny group, many of them "hazy" and of times more lustrous than the sun. Alcyon, the brightest of the group, is believed to be intrinsically many times more brilliant than Sirius, the Dog Star, which rises a couple of hours later than Rigel and is beyond comparison the brightest star in our heavens.

Castor and Pollux are two stars around which much legendary interest lingers. The Twins were sons of Jupiter and Leda, of mythological memory. They took part in the famous voyage after the Golden Fleece and in other adventures of note. After their death and translation to the skies, they came to be regarded as the special patrons of sailors, who relied on them to counteract the malign influence attributed to Orion and The Hyades.

Though Pollux, a star of the first magnitude, is now considerably brighter of the two, it seems well enough established that Castor was once more brilliant than his twin. Whether Castor has waned or Pollux waxed cannot be determined, for, though the astronomers of ancient times roughly grouped the stars according to their magnitudes, their records are not exact enough to settle such a question.

At the hour of the map the vernal equinox, one of the two points where the equator and ecliptic intersect, is on the celestial meridian, the great circle that passes through the zenith and the poles. This "Greenwich of the sky" is the point from which astronomical reckonings are made corresponding to those of terrestrial longitude. There is no conspicuous star in its immediate neighborhood. Unfortunately, but a line drawn from the Pole Star through the stars forming the eastern side of the Great Square of Pegasus and prolonged about 15 degrees southward indicates its position very nearly.

FRIENDS SAY MRS. CLEVELAND AND PROFESSOR WILL BE WED IN SPRING

Mrs. Frances Folsom Cleveland.

Fads and Fashion

New York, Nov. 2.—New separate blouses have a collar either on the Robespierre or Directoire order. Collars on dressy frocks are conspicuous only by their absence. Beaded fringes and embroideries are extensively used. Touches of wool embroidery are often intermingled with beads. Tiny tassels of silk, jet, crystal, silver and gold are used as trimmings, and single line trimming in brilliant or rhinestones.

The extremely heavy laces of former winter seasons are rarely seen now. There are some beautiful imitations of duchess and rose-point used in the form of panels and scarf ties, and Bohemian art pieces, very popular for draperies, bandings, etc., but the new shadow and maline laces are very extensively used, and are in most attractive designs.

One of the simplest ways of decorating a plain blouse is by attaching new collars and cuffs, and even expensive waists of chiffon and satin may be improved in this manner. A very good looking and serviceable collar has long pointed ends both in front and in back with cuffs to correspond.

For the silk or chiffon blouse the best choice is the chiffon collar and cuff set matching the waist, which may easily be made by any needle woman. A hemstitched border is easily made, or a narrow silk braid may be used to hold the hem in place. Plain mull collar and cuff sets are trimmed with hemstitching, while expensive sets of the finest line are elaborately inset and edged with beautiful Irish crochet. Most of the collars belonging to these sets are large, following the style of the revers and lapels on the new suits, which extend to the waistline and below it.

Maline choix and stocks have always been more or less fashionable for wear with the colored coat, for there is something exquisite about becoming about the twist of tulle around the neck, or the smart bow of tulle beneath the chin, in contrast with the trim lines of a tailored suit. The new tulle or maline neckwear has a further touch of daintiness in the way of pearl bead trimming. If the bow is a simple affair with loops at either side there may be a clasp made of pearl bead strands around its center and perhaps a tassel or ornament of the pearls will hang from the clasp. The maline stocks have strand necklaces with clasps set at intervals, the pretty pearl necklace being tucked lightly to the outside of the stock.

New bands of fur trimming are used on evening and house gowns of chiffon, net, brocade, satin, velvet and chamoise. Fur scarfs are nearly as wide as wraps. A wide long scarf of Hudson seal is attractive when trimmed with a band of white fox, and moleskin trimmed with ermine is very fashionable. Wraps of mottled velour are often trimmed with marabout. Bands of fur are used as trimming on frocks of all fabrics, from the practical serge to the creation of lace.

Very smart girdles are made of soft chiffon velvet, or velvet ribbon, and narrow girdles of chiffon or net, solidly beaded to match the color scheme of the gown, have ends extending down the side of the skirt finished with tassels of beads.

Velvet jackets are worn with skirts of broadcloth. They vary in length from 22 to 26 inches. Coat sleeves are long and set into the armholes with very little fullness. The seams of those cut in sections are corded.

Velvet flowers are still used as corsage decorations. Huge scarves, roses, or those in full bud, give a distinctive touch, and sometimes are the only bit of color on evening gowns. Small flowers by the yard are also used, made of chiffon, or narrow ribbon in delicate pastel tints. A pretty conceit is the placing of a tiny flower to match the corsage bouquet on the vamp of the shoe or slipper. The flower is attached by means of a small patent fastener, and can thus be renewed as often as necessary.

All-over beaded hats, seen with the thinnest beads imaginable and very close together, are used for the upper part of evening gowns, the chief make-up of the gowns being velvet in rich dark tones, or simple chamoise and chiffon. In many cases when the skirt is slashed at the foot below the drapery a section of beaded net is introduced with charming effect. These beaded nets are in pearls, crystals, combinations of both with net, cut steel and some gold and silver, usually on black or white foundations.

Buttons in remarkable shapes and sizes are seen in great profusion, ranging from small bullet buttons to huge cabochons, squares, octagons and rectangles. Beaded and buckled of red dyed to match the color of the costume are among this season's novelties.

It is impossible to say that any one style of trimmings predominates in millinery at the present time, although there is a decided tendency to trim hats of all kinds low. While some of the smaller shapes are shown with high front trimmings, the majority of hats intended for either formal or informal wear have low, or medium low, trimming arrangements.

It is impossible this season to place trimmings on any portion of the hat. Front, back, side, all around, top crown arrangements and upper brim and under brim trimmings are shown in such a variety of styles that they baffle description. Any arrangement that will suit the style of the wearer is correct. The general tendency is toward the more simple trimming effects. The street hat of felt or plush is often seen without any trimming.

Ostrich feathers, which are perhaps the most popular trimming for hats at present, are used elaborately, often trailing gracefully down the back or side of the hat or swirled around the crown. They are used in both curled and uncurled effects, with a preference given the latter. Novelty effects in ostrich plumes are very much in vogue, as well as paradise and fancy feather effects. Picot edge ribbon and velvet and silk flowers are used considerably. Wings are very popular in the trimming of tailored hats, white being preferred to color.

This fall there are some particularly gorgeous tea gowns or robe in time effects in reds, a color once considered to garish for tea gown elegance. The new materials are so beautiful in shading and design that they have a strong appeal. There are exquisite, picturesque robes in red broche crepe or brocade chamoise, trimmed in dark fur and old toned lace, with sometimes touches of gold. It sounds like the description of a stage queen's attire, but it is extremely lovely if the color scheme and the linens are right.

Fur appears upon many of the beautiful negligee, just a line-here or there, bordering a filmy lace or chiffon or tulle and bringing out the richness of silk or velvet.

FLORENCE FAIRBANKS.

The Old Days.

Plenty of people who have not yet become grandparents can remember when nearly every lovely girl was called Molly.

What boys name?

Light Your Farm With Electricity

Enjoy the comforts of city life on the farm. Electricity is within your reach, Mr. Farmer, for a small amount. You've wanted it for some time, now act. Take advantage of this new plant and cheaper prices.

Here are the prices, with and without engine:

WITH ENGINE:
15 light plant	$250
30 light plant	$325
50 light plant	$410
WITHOUT ENGINE:
15 light	$210
30 light	$260
50 light	$345

Always plenty of light at any time without danger. On arriving home late in the evening. For early morning milking. In case of sickness when light is needed quickly you have it instantly. And it lowers your insurance rate.

Frost Engine Co.
Evansville, Wis.

H. E. Ranous & Co.
Both Phones.

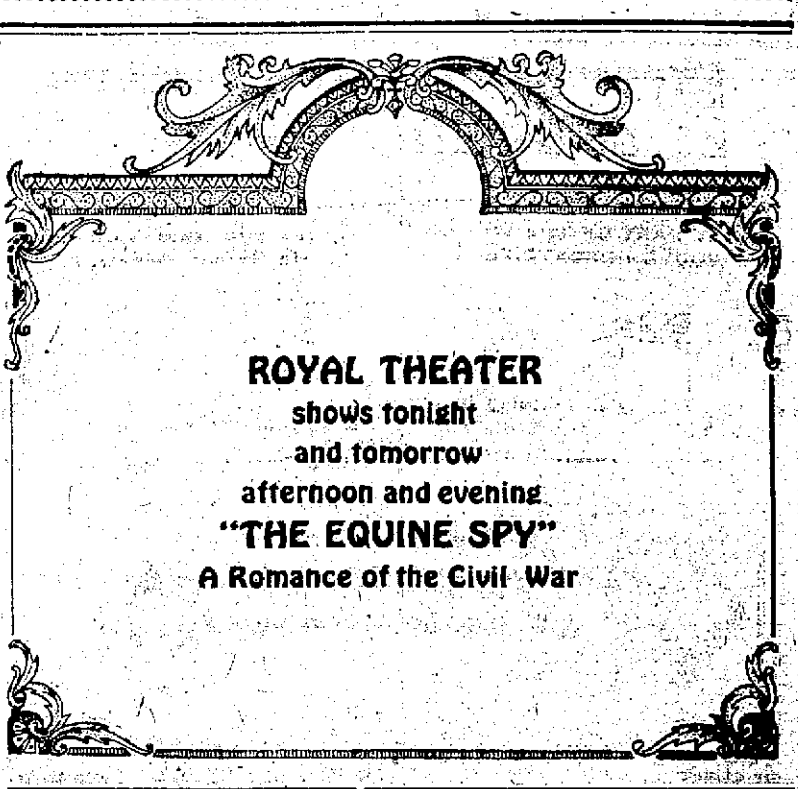

ROYAL THEATER

HONEST WATCH WORK.

The science of watch repairing is only comprehended by the man who understands how to make a watch. That accounts for the great success we have attained in watch repairing. We employ only the most skillful workmen.

OLIN & OLSON, Jewelers.

First Appearance

In Wisconsin

of Miss Asta Nielsen

(the German Bernhardt)

in "The Traitor"

at Royal Theater, Monday.

The first time a great film has been shown in Janesville

Brand New.

Rehearsal at 5 P. M. Monday for the press and profession.

Victim of Snakes He Hunted.

After destroying upwards of 2,000 vipers in the course of his career as a snake hunter, M. Henry Sausseureau died recently in Paris, from the bite of a snake. He was hunting snakes in the woods near Bouloire (Sarthe), when a viper bit him in the hand and arm, and he died in terrible agony twelve hours later.

Learning From the Fish.

"That's the tenth can of sardines you have ordered," said the railway magnate. "Aren't you afraid you will make yourself sick?" "I'm not eating them," replied the employee with inventive genius. "I think I'm on the track of a way to get more people into a street car."

The Home Light.

is an absolutely new light made by the Welsbach Company for

The New Gas Light Co.

It has decided improvements over any other light on the market at this time.

The HOME LIGHT is composed of the very best material.

The HOME LIGHT is lined with sheet aluminum at all places where the heat from the Gas comes in contact with the burner.

The HOME LIGHT has a new, novel and effective arrangement for holding the glassware, doing away with thumbscrews.

The HOME LIGHT is equipped with the very toughest of heat-resisting quality of glassware and a standard Reflex mantle.

All of which we guarantee against breakage for three months from date of installation.

Mark these exceptional terms:

Ten days after installation pay 75 cents; 30 days later, 75 cents, and 30 days later, 75 cents more—$2.25 in all.

Watch For The Home Light Man.

New Gas Light Co.

All Gas Co. Employees Wear Bridges.

MRS. WORRY.

BY C. A. VOIGHT.

Sport Snap Shots

by Dan M. Coyle

"The Cubs next season will be a second division team and everybody knows it," declares Frank Chance, skipper of the Chicago National league baseball club. "Murphy alone is responsible. He refused to give me money with which to get new players, and he is now faced to face with the condition that I predicted."

A new game—basket ball in the water—is to make its appearance in Chicago this winter. The sport will embody the game or rugby polo, less the objectionable points, and will have all the good points of basket ball. It will be known as "basket polo."

Fight fans are agreed that when Ad. Wolgast and Joe Mandot meet at New Orleans on the night of November 4 there will be a most interesting battle. It is freely predicted that Mandot will get nothing worse than a draw. He has met and defeated a number of the husky ones, including Joe Rivers, who gave Ad a hard fight not so long ago. Mandot is a clever boxer and a good slugger with both hands, although he is not as strong a fighter as dangerous a biter as the champion. Ad is always best in a long distance affair and as the New Orleans fight is only to be for ten rounds, there is some apprehension among the Cadillac boy's friends lest the little Frenchman come off the victor.

Fifteen big league players distinguished themselves during the season just closed by making five hits in a single game. The National leaguers who turned the trick were Byrne, Miller, Hoblitzel, Daubert, Doyle, Sweeney, Lobert. The American league players guilty of this feat were Olson, Yerkes, Collins, Cobb, Schalk, Carisch, Baker, Lajoie.

Walter Camp, Sr., is on the job all the time at the Yale field, and is proving a great help to Captain Spaulding's eleven. With Camp on the job it's a pretty hard proposition to beat the Elis.

"All that I ask," remarked Manager Griffin of the Washington Senators the other day, "is that Boston play the same brand of ball next season as she played against the Giants. If Stahl will only stick to this place, there'll be a guy named Walter Johnson pitching the series of 1913, which will end in five games. Johnson will pitch the first two games, rest a day and then then off the last two. And if some team's lucky in these four games he works, they may tear of a run."

Dalton L. G. Merriman
Canon C. G. Van Lone
Stewart R. G. Friedrich
Cummings R. T. King
Connell (Capt.) R. E. Dreing
J. Stewart Q. B. Richardson
Elder L. H. Thompson
Gardner

Falter R. H. Bean
Ryan F. B. Cornell
Subs: Janesville, O'Connor, Smiley,
Jones, Beloit, Ralston, Gardner, Martin, Lundgren, Mayer.

Touchdowns: Elder 3; Falter, 2.
Goals from touchdowns: Ryan, 3.
Referee: Warner; umpires, Acheson, Rawson. Time of quarters, 15 minutes.
By winning this game, which makes five straight, the locals are in a class with Madison and should play them. The following are the games played this season:
Janesville 23, Stoughton 0.
Janesville 49, Northwestern 35.
Janesville 41, Jefferson 0.
Janesville 41, Whitewater 12.
Janesville 33, Beloit 0.

FOOTBALL NOTES.
Captain Thorpe, of Carlisle, is getting away with the field goals as of yore.

Brown's rushline this fall has a familiar look, but Robinson's backfield is pretty much made up of new men.

Foster Sanford, the old Yale star, is getting back into the game by helping to coach the Fordham college team.

One of the candidates for the Michigan eleven is a Greek who three years ago was a stevedore on the docks in Buffalo.

In Martin and Myer Yale has about as husky a pair of substitutes as can be found on any gridiron in the country.

The Yale-Harvard game will see two left-footed kickers booting out the punts if Pelton and Flynn are in the game together.

Having McConnell out of the game for the balance of the season on account of a broken leg, is a severe setback for the Purdue University eleven.

The Princeton Tigers' rushline this fall is said to average between 175 and 178 pounds, in which case it will be about 10 pounds to a man lighter than Harvard's line.

Steve Philbin says he's through playing football, but he still remains as Yale's most valuable scout for the games the Harvard team is playing in the Stadium.

BASEBALL NOTES.
Jim Mutrie, who managed the New York Giants in the late '80's, is running a news stand on Staten Island.

Batting for .400 and fielding for 1.000 in a world's series is a record that "Buck" Herzog can well feel proud of.

"Bunk" Congalton, formerly of the Boston Red Sox, and last season with the Columbus Senators, has opened a cafe in Columbus, Ohio.

Catcher "Gabby" Street, the old Washington backstop, is once more on his way. The Providence Club has shipped him to Chattanooga.

First baseman Hal Chase is managing and pitching for a bunch of New York Yankees on a barnstorming trip through New York and New Jersey.

By the time the National League moguls get through canning managers John McGraw and Fred Clarke will be the only veterans on the job. Chicago fans paid $110,800 to see

ELECTION'S APPROACH HAS NO TERRORS FOR TAFT; HIS SMILE AS BROAD AS EVER

Left to right: President Taft, Secretary of the Navy George von L. Meyer, Miss Elsie Calder and Miss Kathleen Fitzgerald.

The approach of election day brings no terrors to President Taft. He is seen in the accompanying picture, wearing the usual broad smile, which has become quite familiar to Republican campaign workers.

The picture was taken in New York Wednesday after the christening of the new battleship New York. The president and the navy secretary were among those who witnessed the ceremonies. Miss Elsie Calder, daughter of Representative Calder, christened the battleship and Miss Kathleen Fitzgerald, daughter of Representative Fitzgerald, acted as flower girl.

The White Sox slaughter the Cubs for the Windy City championship. Each Sox got $870, while each Cub took down $519.

Roger Bresnahan's St. Louis Cardinals were the only National League team to win a series from an American League outfit this fall—and then Roger gets the gale. What's the use?

The Giants lost a "world's" series with Charley Faust chasing the jinks, and repeated the losing stunt without the services of Charles. That shows an average of .500 per cent for the Kansas bug.

Great Duck Shooting At The Lake

The ducks are beginning to get this way, fellows. Shooting is pretty good around here. Better get in the game again. Good place here to get your ammunition. We've got all standard loads.

We have the U. S. Black Shells.

PREMO BROS.

Successors to F. F. Pierson.

21 No. Main St.

HARVARD GRADUATE COACHES CRIMSON

Dick Wigglesworth.

Dick Wigglesworth, who was one of Harvard's gridiron stars last year, is back at Cambridge again this season, this time in the capacity of a graduate coach. Some of the other old Harvard players who are back as coaches are Ham Corbett, Charles Hanna, Fred Huntington, Bob Fischer and Bill Browne.

YOU as an every day business man are not accustomed to acting upon advice from anyone. But this question of smoking affects you vitally; affects your health. Don't smoke the heavy "fellows." They're injurious; get instead mild, light, domestic like.

Imperial

PERFECTO 10c CIGAR

—OR—

Max No. 10

A MIGHTY GOOD 5c CIGAR

Then you'll enjoy 'em all, none of 'em will be too strong or too heavy. Get them from your favorite dealer; cheaper by the box or canister.

Baby a Real Midget.
The month-old child of a gypsy, which was the subject of an inquest at Wandsworth, England, not long since, was described by a doctor as the smallest baby he had ever known. It only weighed 3 pounds, 14 ounces, instead of the normal 7½ pounds, and its length was only 1 foot, 5 inches, as compared with the average 2 feet 3 inches.

Might Get Even With Mosquito.
An observer in India has found a small fly of the midge class with its proboscis inserted in the abdomen of a mosquito, engaged in sucking the mosquito's blood. There is comfort, if not benefit, in this bit of news. Why can't we import this midge? The mosquitoes would know how it is themselves then, perhaps.—Farm and Fireside.

Years of Suffering

Cataract and Blood Disease—Doctors Failed to Cure.

Miss Mabel E. Dawkins, 1314 Lafayette St., Port Wayne, Ind., writes: "For three years I was troubled with cataract and blood disease. I tried several doctors and a dozen different remedies, but none of them did me any good. A friend told me of Hood's Sarsaparilla. I took two bottles of this medicine and was as well and strong as ever. I feel like a different person and recommend Hood's to any one suffering from cataract."

Get it today in usual liquid form or chocolate tablets called Sarsatabs.

Political Advertisement. Authorized by the Republican State Central Committee and to be paid for by F. P. Starr, chairman, at the rate of 35c per inch.

Legislative Record of John C. Karel, Democratic Candidate for Governor.

(Legislative session of 1901)

MR. KAREL VOTED AGAINST a bill compelling railroads to issue 1000 mile mileage books at 2 cents a mile.

AGAINST a railroad rate regulation bill.

AGAINST increasing the license fees of taxes of railroads which at that time were ridiculously low.

AGAINST a bill to tax railroad property as other property is taxed.

AGAINST the anti pass law.

AGAINST a primary election law.

HE VOTED FOR a bill to cripple the anti-pass law.

HE VOTED FOR a bill to reduce the workingman's wage exemption from $180 to $60 for a period of three months.

HE VOTED FOR a bill to permit race track gambling at the state and county fairs.

He voted for the special interests and against the people's interests every time.

The Truth About The Income Tax

The population of Wisconsin is about 2,400,000, but there are only 45,638 taxable incomes in the state.

Incomes of less than $800 for unmarried people, $1200 for man and wife, and $200 additional for each dependent child, are exempt and do not pay an income tax.

The total income tax assessed in the state is $3,304,969.

The total to be collected, after deducting personal property offsets, is, $1,981,551, of which the towns, villages and cities will receive $1,387,086; the counties, $396,310; and the state $198,155.

The cost of collecting the tax is about $85,000 which will be paid by the state.

The Democratic state platform in 1910 declared:

"We favor the immediate enactment of a graduated income tax law pursuant to the amendment of the state constitution."

Now the reactionaries controlling the Democratic party in this state demand its repeal, although the justice and effectiveness of the law have been demonstrated.

This is the people's law; it is in your interest, that is why the special interests oppose it.

A vote for the Republican state candidates is a vote for this law.

HOSPITALITY

You are proud to offer your friends a drink that is as delicious as

Buob's Beer or Ale

(OUR OWN NEW BREW.)

The sparkle, foam and tonic qualities of these excellent beverages delight the eye and satisfy the most fickle taste.

Don't make the mistake of chilling your beer; have it cool, just cool enough; let it produce a foam and then you'll get the delightful tonic properties and the richness of a fully aged beer.

M. BUOB BREWING CO.

Prompt Deliveries.

Both Phones 141

JANESVILLE ELEVEN DOWNS OLD RIVALS BY A LARGE SCORE

Beloit Team Weakens in Last Half of Morning Game And Locals Romp Away With Game 33 to 0.

Janesville high school trimmed Beloit on the local gridiron this morning without a question of a doubt. When the struggle finally ended the local players emerged on the winning end of a 33 to 0 score, and Beloit with hopes laid low and championship aspirations killed was ready to concede the laurels to Janesville.

Janesville set a fast pace at the start and kept it up throughout the game. Beloit held well for the first half but weakened perceptibly in last half allowing Janesville to score four touchdowns. Janesville's line held somewhat better than in the game with Whitewater and Beloit was unable to make any consistent gains.

There was a large crowd present to witness the struggle. Over one hundred loyal rooters came with the Beloit team, while some 500 Janesville followers cheered the locals on to victory. Both sides were vigorously supported by the school yells as the rivalry between the two schools is long standing.

Bean of Beloit won the toss and chose to defend the west goal. Promptly at 10:45 Cornell kicked to Falter who ran back ten yards. The ball was carried 20 yards in the first four plays by Ryan, Elder and Falter. A forward pass failed and a series of line plunges lost the ball to Beloit on downs. Beloit started with a spurt and by several brilliant end runs carried the ball 35 yards when the first quarter ended without a score.

The second quarter opened with the ball on the 40 yard line in Beloit's possession. They lost on downs. A pass Elder to Connell was intercepted by Beloit and Beloit kicked to Stuart. By a series of brilliant plays Janesville carried the ball to the 15 yard line. Elder ran the distance for a touchdown. Ryan kicked goal. The half ended with the score 7 to 0 in Janesville's favor.

In the third quarter Ryan kicked to Bean who ran back 15 yards. Beloit failed to gain and punted to Falter. The ball was lost on downs but recovered the ball when Falter intercepted a forward pass. Falter was sent over the line for the second touchdown and Ryan kicked goal making the score at the end of the quarter, 14 to 0.

In the fourth quarter Beloit was plainly weakened and Janesville rushed the ball across their line three times for touchdowns. Elder made the first score of the quarter on a 25 yard run. Ryan missed goal. Falter intercepted a forward pass and made a 35 yard run for the second score. Ryan again missed goal. Beloit lost the ball on downs and the locals carried the ball to the 25 yard line when Elder broke away for the last score. Ryan kicked goal and the game was won by the decisive score of 33 to 0.

The lineup was:

Janesville: L. E. A. Connell
Kuhlow L. T. D. R. Connell
Elder

The Janesville Gazette

New Bldg. 200-204 E. Milwaukee St.

ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT JANESVILLE, WIS., AS SECOND CLASS MAIL MATTER.

BUSINESS OFFICE OPEN SATURDAY EVENING.

MEMBER OF ASSOCIATED PRESS.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Fair tonight and Sunday with slowly rising temperature; light to moderate west winds.

Daily Edition by Carrier.

One Month $5.00
One Year 50.00
Six Months, cash in advance 25.00
Daily Edition by Mail.

CASH IN ADVANCE.

One Year $4.00
Six Months 2.00
One Year, Rural Delivery in Rock Co. 1.50
Six Months, Rural Delivery in Rock Co. 1.50
WEEKLY EDITION—One Year 1.50

Editorial Rooms, Rock Co. 62
Editorial Rooms, Bell 76
Business Office, Rock Co. 77-2
Business Office, Bell 77-3
Printing Department, Rock Co. 27
Printing Department, Bell 77-4
Rock County lines can be interchanged for all departments.

GAZETTE PRINTING CO.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT.

For glory? For good? For fortune or fame?

Why, ho, for the front where the battle is on!

Leave the rear to the dolt, the lazy, the lame;

Go forward as ever the valiant have gone;

Whether city or field, whether mountain or mine,

Go forward, right on to the firing line.

Whether newsboy or plowboy, cowboy or clerk,

Fight forward, be ready, be steady, be first;

Be fairest, be bravest, be best at your work;

Exult and be glad; dare to hunger, to thirst,

As David, as Alfred—let dogs skulk and whine—

There is room but for men on the firing line.

Aye, the place to fight and the place to fall—

As fall we must, all in God's good line—

It is where the manliest man is the wall.

Where boys are as men in their pride and prime,

Where glory gleams brightest, where brightest eyes shine,

Far out on the roaring red firing line.

—Joaquin Miller.

When Bulgaria called for troops to go to the front, in the Turkish war, now in progress, an army of two hundred and fifty thousand men and boys of all ages responded. The white-haired grandfather, and the ruddy-faced school boy stood side by side, eager for marching orders, and ready to join in the thick of the fray on the firing line.

The little kingdom of Bulgaria, is influenced by the same spirit which prompts Greece, and the other principalities involved, for Turkish tyranny and oppression had become intolerable, and the war is the culmination of the demand for religious freedom and protection.

The love of country is expressed through patriotism and it is as sacred as the love of home, but the nations now engaged in attacking Turkey are not influenced by this kind of patriotism. To them the faith of the fathers and the sacredness of the old established church is of supreme importance, and like Japan, in the late conflict with Russia, it is considered an honor to die in defense of the faith.

There is something about war, where any great principle is involved, which places all classes of men on a level. Men who lack the courage or determination to go to the front in the ordinary enterprises of life, are prompt to respond to the call of the firing line.

This latent force which comes to the surface under the stress of a great emergency, is a common heritage which only needs to be recognized and appreciated, to be utilized.

Secretary Wilson, of the Department of Agriculture, said in an after dinner speech, the other day, that no state in the union was producing half the agricultural products of which it was capable, and the statement is true.

He spoke of one old farmer in central New York who had been raising potatoes on the same land for fifty years, without changing the seed. As a result his harvest had dwindled to twenty bushels to the acre.

An agent from the department of agriculture called on him and suggested how he might better his condition. He had the good sense to listen to advice, and last year, the same land was made to produce 225 bushels of potatoes to the acre, while increased value was added to the neglected soil.

The department of agriculture has a little army of some 12,000 men engaged in this kind of work, and under intelligent supervision and liberal support, much is being accomplished along the line of soil production.

This little squad is only one of a number of well organized forces which are out on the firing line in the field of agriculture, and thus it is in every department of industry. The advance guard blazes the trail, and the next generation constructs the highways.

We step aboard a Pullman car at one of the great terminal stations, and speed across the continent, with no thought or appreciation of the advance guard who sacrificed life itself in delving through the mountains, overcoming all obstacles in the interests of modern transportation.

The world has great admiration for the men and women who represent the vanguard, in the realms of science and industry and when they fall out by the wayside their memory is revered, and their accomplishments exploited as object lessons worthy of imitation.

It is not given to many of us to be a Barabank or an Edison, or to go out and fight with nature for the right of way from ocean to ocean. About all that is required of the average mortal is to utilize the facilities at hand for self-development, and this task is large enough to command our best efforts.

The individual kingdom, where destiny is wrought out, has a firing line, which many of us are too timid to occupy. The forces of good and evil are always contending for the mastery, and the enemy, who seeks to destroy, is ever on the alert to discover the weak spots in our fortifications.

The game of life is a fascinating game and there are periods in its passing when a spirit of daring possesses us, and we take long chances on results.

In the early stages of the journey, when the warm blood courses through our veins, and the glow of health is on our cheeks, we feel equal to any physical strain and the warning signals are passed by unheeded.

This is the age when advice of any kind is not welcome. The same confidence which good health inspires, influences our moral nature, and neglecting to hold our forces on the firing line, the enemy finds us an easy victim, and before the race is fairly begun, we find ourselves handicapped with habits that may result in our undoing.

A young man, not long ago, applied for a position, in answer to an advertisement. It was a responsible position, and he felt well qualified to fill it, but after an interview, he turned away disappointed.

A friend, who was present said to the manager, "What was the matter with the boy? He is bright and intelligent and full of ambition."

"I have no doubt of that," was the reply, "but did you notice his fingers? I never employ a cigarette fiend."

The tell-tale stains told the story of how the enemy found the firing line deserted, and once across the border the attack on the citadel was not difficult. Many a boy has lost out at the start by not being able to score on account of thoughtless surrender to some temptation.

The great battlefield of life is at close range—a hand to hand conflict between the forces within us. The captain of the forces for righteousness does not herald his advance with a blare of trumpets and orders are so simple that they are easily understood.

The word of command, more silent than the ticking of a watch, but just as persistent, is "the still small voice" which is ever saying, "Do right." It is with us on the firing line to inspire courage, and its melody cheers the long marches on the dusty highway. While obedience is voluntary, none of us can afford to disobey.

—Joaquin Miller.

Noiseless Gun for Killing Horses.

A curious horse-killing gun used in England to kill horses which have been injured is now being adopted by American anti-cruelty societies because of its noiselessness and surety of action. By a slight blow a bullet is noiselessly driven into the brain of the animal, killing it instantly, without a sound to attract attention in a city street.

—Joaquin Miller.

Diffident Function.

"I presume you never quarreled with your wife?" "Certainly not," replied skippy little Mr. Hennyneck.

"I am merely a husband, not a lion tamer."—Exchange.

That Car.

He owned a handsome touring car, to ride in it was heaven.

He ran across a piece of glass—Bill—$14.97.

He took his friends out for a ride, 'Twas good to be alive.

The carburetor sprang a leak. Bill—$40.95.

He started on a little tour. The finest sort of fun.

He stopped too quick and stripped his gears. Bill—$90.51.

He took his wife down town to shop. To save car fare was great.

He jammed into a hitching post. Bill—$278.

—Joaquin Miller.

War, Ing.

Beware of the man who knows too much, especially if it happens to be yourself.—Life.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

By ROY K. MOULTON.

A Metamorphosis.

Under the spreading chestnut tree
The village smithy stood,
The smith, a mighty man was he,
Industrious and good.

He did repairing in those days
At very slight expense,
And very seldom did his bill
Run over 50 cents.

He lived within a humble cot,
And poverty he knew,
And luxuries that came his way
Were very, very few.

Then came the metamorphosis
He's now a millionaire;
He has a mansion and a yacht
And railroad bonds to spare.

He doesn't tinker wagons now,
Where once he made a dime
He charges $90 for Five minutes of his time.

The humble blacksmith is no more,
He is a man of means,
He's running a high-toned garage
And tinkers limousines.

Mr. Lightfoot's Adventures.

Mr. Lucius W. Lightfoot, the celebrated steple-jackist, who has climbed a great many church steeples for the purpose of painting them, fixing the weather vanes, etc., had a rather thrilling experience the other day. Mr. Lightfoot, he it is known, is one of the most eminent climbers in the state. While he was greasing the weather vane which surmounts the steeple of one of the prominent houses of worship the other day the rope, by which he had intended to descend, escaped from its moorings and fell to the ground. Mr. Lightfoot does not stay up on top of steeples all the time. He has to get down to the ground at meal times. He was in a queer predicament. He could wrap himself around the steeple at its sharp point and hang on, but he could not slide down that way as one would slide a flagpole because a steeple broadens out as one proceeds toward the foot and keeps growing larger and it would be impossible for one to keep his arms and legs around it all the way down. Mr. Lightfoot, being a man of resource, immediately remembered that once upon a time a man who had been caught on top of a high chimney has raveled his sock and let the yarn down and by it pulled up a string and then a rope, which had been fastened on by an admiring constituency below. Unfortunately, however, Mr. Lightfoot is one of those free and untrammelled citizens who do not wear socks. After Mr. Lightfoot had been a prisoner on top of the steeple for three days, and was almost ready to let go, a genius on the ground made a bow and arrow and shot an arrow over the steeple. Attached to the arrow was a string. The rest was easy. Mr. Lightfoot hauled up a rope and made his escape to the ground. The moral is that a man who climbs steeples should wear socks.

That Car.

He owned a handsome touring car, to ride in it was heaven.

He ran across a piece of glass—Bill—$14.97.

He took his friends out for a ride, 'Twas good to be alive.

The carburetor sprang a leak. Bill—$40.95.

He started on a little tour. The finest sort of fun.

He stopped too quick and stripped his gears. Bill—$90.51.

He took his wife down town to shop. To save car fare was great.

He jammed into a hitching post. Bill—$278.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

—Joaquin Miller.

Royal Baking Powder

Absolutely Pure

Royal Baking Powder exceeds others in leavening power, in purity and wholesomeness, and is used generally in families, exclusively in the most celebrated hotels and restaurants, by the United States Army and Navy, and wherever the best and finest food is required. Teachers of cooking schools and lecturers upon culinary matters use and recommend the Royal.

Royal is the only baking powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar. It is admittedly the best and most healthful baking powder made.

When you know what is best, please ask for it.

Looking to the Future.

"It is comfortable to see one's husband sitting down after dinner to enjoy his cigar, and then there is something rather soothing about the aroma of a good cigar, too." "Oh, I don't care anything about the comfort of it or the aroma; but as long as my husband smokes, it will always be easy to tell him how to begin when he insists that we have got to economize."—Judge.

Would Be More Important.

A scientist declares that the speed mania has converted a great many automobilists into nervous wrecks. We would like to have him diagnose the case of the man, who has, to dodge them.—New York Herald.

No Signs on That Road.

There are no signboards along the road to success. We have to paint our own, as those who have found the road are generally too busy to attend to the matter.

Porto Rico's New Wonder.

From far away Porto Rico come reports of a wonderful new discovery that is believed will vastly benefit the people. Ramon T. Marchan, of Barcelona, writes, "Dr. King's New Discovery is doing splendid work here. It cured me about five times of terrible coughs and colds, also my brother of a severe cold in his chest and more than 20 others, who used it on my advice. We hope this great medicine will yet be sold in every drug store in Porto Rico." For throat and lung troubles it has no equal. A trial will convince you of its merit. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by People's Drug Co.

J.M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

What Underwear:

Warmth isn't wholly a question of weight. You should be warm, but what is right for one isn't right for another. The material that suits one doesn't please another; and occupation and work, and indoor and outdoor life are also to be considered. There's health as well as comfort in right underwear, perhaps more than in anything else a person puts on. All the weights—from almost the thickness of carpet to gauze; all the materials that are good; silk, wool, cotton linen and mixtures; correct shaping—underwear that will fit; and a price range from the finest to the least cost.

Read the Want Ads.

MAIL ORDERS

When accompanied by check or postal order will be filled in the order of their receipt for The Season's Most Notable Event.

FRECKLES

By Gene Stratton-Porter

Author of

"The Girl of the Limberlost" and "The Harvester"

A SUPERB SCENIC PRODUCTION

To be presented at

MYERS THEATRE, 18

PRICES—First 5 rows orchestra, $1.50; balcony orchestra, $1;

first 4 rows balcony, 75c; remainder balcony, 50c; gallery

25c; box seats, $1.50.

Regular seat sale opens Friday, Nov. 15.

MYERS THEATRE

A Big Musical Bargain

Sunday Evening

Tomorrow Evening

Seamans and Anthony Present

"The Girl Who Dared"

30 Singing, Dancing Artists

20 Song Hits

Music by Alfred Robyn. Book and Lyrics by Thos. Railey. Elaborate Scenic, Electric and Costuming Paraphernalia.

PRICES: 25c, 50c, 75c and a few at $1.00. Seats now on sale.

MYERS THEATRE

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 4

High Cost of Living Reduced by bringing the family to ME for their necessary Dentistry.

I DO PAINLESS work.

DR. F. T. RICHARDS
Office Over Hall & Sayles.

ESTABLISHED IN 1855.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Capital $125,000
Surplus and Profits $135,000

DIRECTORS

A. P. Lovejoy T. O. Howe
N. L. Carle V. P. Richardson
G. H. Rumrill A. J. Harris
J. G. Rexford

General Banking

We solicit your business.

CHAS. T. PEIRCE

Dentist

Nature's best substitute for a bad set of natural teeth is a good set of artificial ones.
Teeth I make are guaranteed to fit exactly and never drop down.
Big discount for cash in all branches.

It Is Getting Cold

SNOW FELL TODAY. HOW ABOUT THAT?

Window Glass

Better put it in now before severe weather. We have a complete stock.

Bloedel & Rice

The Main Street Painters.
35 So. Main St.

BLAIR & BLAIR

Insurance, Real Estate, Surety Bonds

W. H. BLAIR ARCHITECT,
424 Hayes Block.

NOTICE

Have your carpets and rugs cleaned by new Rotary Carpet Cleaner.

FRED HESSENAUER
Both Phones.

MISS BESS BURCH
TEACHER OF VOICE.

310 Clark Street,
New Phone 968.

DON'T TAKE CHANCES ON FREEZING UP YOUR AUTO. GET SOME

Denatured Alcohol

IN YOUR RADIATOR. WE SELL IT.

Baker's Drug Store

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

WANTED—Two good men Monday morning. S. W. Roitstein Co.

FOR RENT—House on South Main St. Good location. $10.00 per month. Inquire C. P. Beers.

FOR SALE—One blue Wilton rug; 1 green velvet rug, dining room table. Inquire 202 Sinclair St.

WANTED—Men to busk standing corner W. O. Douglas, Janesville Rte. 5. Footville phone.

WANTED—Competent girl for general housework in family of two Mrs. Arthur Granger, 301 Court St.

WANTED—Two boys over sixteen years of age. Janesville Rug Co.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS.

Gigantic Removal Sale Bargains are many. Tremendous money saving possibilities at Mahoney & Newman, 19-21 So. River St.

For Sale, at St. Joseph's Convent, a new set of Rosary beads, Medallions, Statues, Crucifixes and Prayer Books at reasonable prices.

The W. C. T. U. Rummage Sale at 109 W. Milwaukee St. today and tomorrow.

Come prepared to take advantage of the many bargains involved and made necessary by our Gigantic Removal Sale. Thousands of dollars worth of merchandise must be sold at terrific price reductions. Mahoney & Newman.

What She Meant.

"My husband is a mental division," said a woman witness, in an English court. The clerk presumed that she intended to say "mentally deficient."

EXCELLENT SERVICE REGARDING RETURNS HAS BEEN ASSURED

Plan Completed for Receiving Results Election Night at the Gazette Office.

Tuesday next is election day and despite the apparent lack of interest in the outcome, the results will be most eagerly watched for. That Janesville may know the probable victor as early as possible the Gazette has made special arrangements for a special leased wire-service with the Western Union Telegraph company and also has completed plans for a special service throughout the county by means of correspondents at each polling place, and for the state at large through the medium of the Associated Press from their Milwaukee office.

These reports will be given upon a screen directly across Milwaukee street from the office as fast as received. Manager Myers has also arranged for two special performances of musical comedy at this theatre, and will likewise receive the Gazette bulletins, to be read from the stage. He plans an innovation this year by keeping the theatre open after the second performance until the reports cease. Reservations for seats on the part of many ladies have already been made.

The old style of political spell binders have fought shy of Janesville this year. They have appeared in many towns in the county during the past few weeks, where the street corner talks have been given, but they evidently belong to the days of the past, of the torch light parades and marching clubs. Senator La Follette, Governor McGovern, former Secretary Thurston, Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, Hon. Dan Grady of Portage have been among the speakers, but with the exception of La Follette, who endorsed no candidate and confined his talk to self exploitation, there has not been much enthusiasm.

Reports from various parts of the county appear to indicate that Taft will have a clean victory by a handsome majority, not plurality. It is also stated that Karel, the democratic nominee for governor, will make a most excellent record, but they carry Beloit and Janesville by small margins. The income tax and McGovern flop to the Progressives it is believed will hurt his vote considerably.

The assembly contests promise to be merry ones in both districts although Richardson and Rosa will doubtless win. Paul, democratic candidate against Richardson however is making a strenuous campaign and it would not be surprising to see him the victor, but by a narrow margin.

There seems to be no question that the republican county ticket will be victorious and the following gentlemen are listed in fact one hears very little about cutting the county ticket, the talk being all relative to the head of the nation and state ticket, with perhaps a few cuts on the legislative candidates.

For Clerk of Circuit Court—JESSE EARLE.
For County Clerk—HOWARD W. LEE.
For County Treasurer—FRANK F. LIVERMORE.
For District Attorney—STANLEY G. DUNWIDDIE.
For Register of Deeds—F. P. SMILEY.
For Sheriff—C. S. WHIPPLE.

Due to the fact the election will be conducted with ballots it will be late Tuesday night, or early Wednesday morning, before the final returns will be available. However the general news will start shortly after seven, owing to the difference in time and will be flashed on the canvas at the Gazette office as fast as received.

SECOND OF THE FINE ENTERTAINMENTS AT CHRIST PARISH HALL, NOV. 5th.

"We are delighted; would not miss the next two for anything; expected a good concert but were given an exquisite artistic treat." Such was the verdict of those who attended the first of the series.

The program for the Second of the series will be given by Miss Dorothy White, pianist; Miss Elise Smith, soprano and violinist; Miss Jane Hardy, reader.

The Rec. Song with five little local girls dressed as Rose Maidens is beautiful and will please both old and young.

Miss Hardy will give dramatic and humorous readings. She is said to sway her audience at will.

Miss White has fine ability and always pleases.

Tickets for the two concerts will be sold for 75c. Single tickets, 50c. Children, 25c. at Peoples' Drug Store, McCue & Buss, J. P. Baker & Son, and at the door.

LAW ENFORCEMENT.
First Baptist Church, Sunday night.

Noted Lecturer Here Sunday

Rev. W. P. McKenzie Will Appear at Myers Opera House Sunday Afternoon

Rev. William P. McKenzie, C. S. B. of Cambridge, Mass., a Member of the Board of Lecturers of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, will deliver a lecture on "Christian Science, under the auspices of the local Christian Science Church, at Myers Opera House, next Sunday afternoon, commencing at 3:15 P. M. Mr. McKenzie has been a member of the Board of Lecturers of this Church a number of years. The title of his subject is "Christian Science: A Present Redemption." You and your friends are cordially invited to come and hear him. Admission Free.

REMEMBER
the entertainment at Christ Church Parish Hall, Tuesday evening, Nov. 5th.

NOT TO EXTEND LINE BEYOND CITY LIMITS

It is Probable the Janesville Traction Company Will Build No Line To The Two Cemeteries.

It is probable that the line of the Janesville Traction Company will not be extended into Oak Hill and Mt. Olivet cemeteries. The trustees of Oak Hill Cemetery Association have tried for years to have this extension made. A waiting room, with conveniences, was built. Many negotiations were had between the officials of the Janesville Traction Company and the trustees, but no satisfactory arrangement could be made. Late this summer it was finally agreed by the officials of the Janesville Traction company that the extension would be made by it, provided the right of way across the cemetery grounds were granted, the grading done, the gravel hauled without expense to the company, and a satisfactory franchise obtained from the township of Janesville for the new road which the railway would be obliged to run over the township road. The matter was taken up by the trustees with the supervisors of the township of Janesville, but no satisfactory arrangement could be made. The conditions suggested by the supervisors, under which they would allow the street railway to run over the highway, were so onerous and apparently unreasonable that the trustees have not thought it worth while to submit them to the officials of the Janesville Traction Company. The trustees say that the extension was not urged for the benefit of the railway company. It was advocated because it would be an accommodation for the many people not owning their own conveyances, who desired to visit either of the cemeteries. The railway company probably realizes as much money under present conditions as it would if it went to the expense of laying half a mile of track and putting in the necessary overhead work. The people who are obliged to walk from the present terminus of the tracks to the cemeteries are the ones who will suffer.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mrs. John Hough has returned to her home in Rockford after a week's visit with her mother, Mrs. R. F. Dobson.

W. S. Pond and son, Edwin, attended the Chicago-Wisconsin game at Madison today.

Charlotte Charlton is spending a few days with friends at Madison.

Simon Smith of Beloit spent the day in Janesville.

Leo Brownell attended the Chicago-Wisconsin game at Madison today.

Mrs. Pauline Backer and Mrs. Emma Dagner left last night for their homes at Windsor, N. W., after a visit with their cousins, Mrs. John Keenan, and Mrs. George Miller.

Mrs. Salina Wilkins, who has spent the summer with her daughter, Mrs. A. R. Gibson, and her granddaughter, Mrs. D. B. Clark, left this morning for Chicago where she will visit a cousin for a week, whom she has not seen for thirty years. Later she will go to Cleveland and spend the winter with a daughter, Miss Lela A. Wilkins.

Miss Keziah Hibbard of Chicago, is expected to arrive in the city today for a visit with her mother, Mrs. A. Hibbard and other relatives and friends. Miss Hibbard is a trained nurse and will visit in Janesville until after Thanksgiving day.

Miss Theodora Chaffee of Evanston, Ill., arrived in the city this evening to be the guest of Miss Mable Lee over Sunday.

Charles Noyes attended the Chicago-Wisconsin football game at Madison today.

OBITUARY.

Samuel J. Cleland.
A. M. Fisher of this city received a telegram today conveying the sad information that his uncle, Samuel J. Cleland, died at Emporia, Kansas, yesterday.

The cause of his death being apoplexy. He was about sixty years of age, and was born in the town of Center, his father being James Cleland, one of the earliest settlers in Rock county. He removed to Kansas about thirty years ago. Mr. Cleland leaves to mourn his loss his wife, six daughters, and one son, also a sister, Mrs. A. L. Fisher of Albany, Oregon, and two brothers, Will and John Cleland, Portland, Oregon. He was the father of Mrs. Jennie Cleland Phelps. Funeral services will probably be held from the home in Emporia tomorrow.

Infant Daughter.
Elizabeth Wilkins, three weeks old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wilkins, passed away at nine-thirty o'clock last evening at the home on North Main street. The little one had been in ill health since birth. Her death is a severe shock to the father and mother, and small brother, Donald. Funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock from the Rev. T. D. Williams officiating. Interment will be made in Oak Hill cemetery.

William Yuengst.
The funeral of William Yuengst will be held from the home of Edwin Badger, 1921 North Washington street, at two o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The Rev. J. C. Baker will conduct the service, and interment will be made in Oak Hill cemetery.

Andrew J. Pearl.
Last services for Andrew J. Pearl were held at two o'clock this afternoon at Oak Hill chapel, the Rev. Dr. Beaton officiating. Members of the G. A. R. post, of which he was a member, conducted the services at the grave.

Save money now; we're quoting unheard of prices on all merchandise in our store. A Gigantic Removal Sale is the reason. We've got to dispose of this stock and do it quickly. It's your opportunity. Take advantage of it! Mahoney & Newman, 19-21 So. River St.

Call for Gratitude.
Seek to cultivate a buoyant, joyous sense of the crowded kindnesses of God in your daily life.—Alexander McLaren

SOON TO ADVERTISE FOR BIDS ON TRUCK

City Council to Take Steps Toward Purchase of Motor Fire Apparatus Within Short Time.

Bids for a motor propelled combination hose wagon and fire police patrol will be advertised for by the city of Janesville within a very short time, according to a statement made by Mayor Fathers this morning. Prompt action is necessary if the city is not to suffer unnecessary delay in obtaining the new apparatus, as the companies selling it manufacture it according to order. Many weeks and sometimes months elapse before an order can be filled. There are perhaps not more than five companies in the United States that are exclusive manufacturers of motor propelled fire apparatus. Most automobile manufacturers will build fire apparatus to order if desired but the city council and chief of the fire department believe the safest course to pursue would be to purchase the new truck from an established manufacturer of fire apparatus.

Before bids are advertised for the council and fire chief will draw up a set of specifications to be followed in building the truck such as the character and quantity of equipment, the horse-power of the engine, speed and gear ratio, and carrying capacity. In determining upon the specification the city officers will consult the experience of other cities using automobile fire apparatus so that the truck purchased by the city will be up-to-date and first-class in every particular.

PHILOTAIANS ENJOY A DELIGHTFUL BANQUET.

Fifty Members of Society Hold Entertainment at High School Last Evening.

Fifty members of the Philotaxian society of the high school enjoyed a delightful Halloween party and banquet at the high school building last evening. The decorations, costumes of the guests and manner of entertainment were in conformance with the traditions of the day. The following menu cleverly disguised with names of witchcraft was served:

Hot Dog in Disguise.
Sandwiches—Hobobin Salad
Nervous Tonic—Goblin Eggs
Nightmare—Moonshine
The committees in charge of the affair were:
Social—Frances Brown, chairman; Marion Fletcher, Mary Butters.
Decoration—Marion Fletcher, chairman; Frances Brown, Eva Badger.
Supper—Frances Brown, chairman; Grace McElroy, Alma Gesteland, Marjorie McGee, Mary Butters, chairman; Bernice Austin, Emily Moeser.

JANESVILLE SENDS LARGE DELEGATION TO MADISON

Two Hundred and Fifty Bower City People Attend Big Game Between Wisconsin and Chicago.

Fully two hundred and fifty Janesville people left this morning for Madison to attend the big game there this afternoon between Wisconsin and Chicago. All the trains on both roads had extra coaches which were well filled. A special from Chicago carrying university students passed through here on the Northwestern road at eleven o'clock. There were seven parlor cars and two coaches all the way loaded with fans. The Northwestern reports nearly 150 fares to Madison from Janesville and the St. Paul a similar number.

LAW ENFORCEMENT.

First Baptist Church, Sunday night.

MILDRED TAYLOR HOSTESS ON HER TWELFTH BIRTHDAY.

Miss Mildred Tyler entertained a number of her little friends yesterday afternoon at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Taylor, 825 Thomas street. It was her twelfth birthday and the afternoon was spent with games and concluded with a fine birthday supper.

PRESBYTERIAN CHOR AT FULTON LAST NIGHT.

Anthems and Solos Given Before Large Audience Last Evening.

The Presbyterian choir went to Fulton last night and gave a concert. The choir rendered six anthems with solos by Arthur Scholten, Margaret McCutcheon and Laila Sorensen. "Oh That We Two Were Maying" was sung by Miss McCullough and Mr. Scholten. They report a very good time and the concert was very much appreciated by the Fulton people.

IMPORTANT TIME CHANGES ON THE NORTHWESTERN LINE.

Several important time changes in trains on the C. & N. W. railroad through Janesville were announced today and will become effective tomorrow. The train to Chicago at 7:40 p. m. daily will leave at 7:10 p. m. under the new schedule. The local to Harvard will run at 3:30 p. m. instead of 3:50 p. m. and the train leaving for Madison and points north at 4:25 p. m. at present will leave at 4:15 p. m.

CHANGE IN DATE.

Dr. Goddard will make his next visit to Janesville Thursday, Nov. 7.

WASHINGTON STREET OPEN TO TRAVEL NEXT THURSDAY

Pavement on East Side of Street to Cemetery Will Be Finished by That Time, Says Croft.

The pavement on the east side of Washington street from Market Point avenue to the cemetery will be completed and open to travel by next Thursday according to George Croft, superintendent for Gund & Graham, the contractors who are doing the work. All excavation will be finished by a week from tonight if weather is favorable and in three weeks' time the entire job will be completed. Supt. Croft has thirteen teams and eighteen men at work. Stone is being hauled from the city crusher at the rate of 100 cubic yards a day.

SECURE INJUNCTION TO STOP ALL WORK

Question As to Payment of Money to St. Paul Road by Orfordville Residents Questioned.

A temporary injunction has been served on the president and board of trustees of the village of Orfordville, restraining them from paying to the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company the sum of Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars ($250.00) as compensation for the removal of its passenger station buildings about one hundred feet westerly from the present location in that village. It seems that some of the residents object to the present location of the station buildings, and suggested to the Village Board that it would suit them better if the buildings were removed one hundred feet or so westerly. The Village Board took the matter up with the railway company, and its officials stated that the present location is satisfactory, but if the village would pay all the expense of removal, which was estimated at two hundred and fifty dollars ($250.00), the company would change the location of the structures.

At a regular meeting of the board of trustees, held on the 11th day of last month, it was ordered that the president and clerk of the village sue an order for two hundred and fifty dollars in favor of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway company, to be turned over to its agent when the passenger station building was removed one hundred feet or so westerly. The sentiment of many of the people in the village is opposed to the appropriation of any money for this purpose. A meeting of a large number of the taxpayers was held the next day after the session of the board of trustees which made the appropriation, and it was resolved to prevent, if possible, the payment of any money to the railway company for the purpose mentioned. Legal action was agreed upon, and N. A. Brunsvold and Henry Howe were instructed to begin action on behalf of the taxpayers. An action was therefore begun in the circuit court of Rock county, and an injunction order issued. The action will probably be tried at the February term of the circuit court.

In talking about the dispute, some of the residents of the village stated that they had always understood that the people living south of the railway tracks, and who would be benefited by the removal of the buildings belonging to the railway, agreed to pay all expense incident to the change, but when these people were solicited to contribute, they were not as generous as it was supposed. They would be. They stated further that at least two of the members of the village board are interested in property south of the railway tracks, and that they were instrumental in having the village board make the appropriation for the taxpayers. He began the action for injunction, while Ryan, Fisher & Fisher will represent the village board.

DON'T FORGET the entertainment at Christ Church Parish Hall, Nov. 5th.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS.

I. O. O. F. No. 14: Regular meeting of Wisconsin Lodge No. 14, I. O. O. F., Monday evening, Nov. 4. All members are requested to be present. Work. Visitors welcome. Ed. O. Smith, N. G. H. W. Lee, Secy.

No Matinee: There will be no matinee of "The Girl Who Dared" at the Myers theatre Sunday, owing to the Christian Science lecture. The regular evening performance will be given, however.

State Taxes Apportioned: A statement has been received from the secretary of state by the county clerk, giving the apportionment of state taxes for Rock county. The total amount is $33,444.94.

Up to School Boards: Rural teachers may attend the state teachers' meeting at Milwaukee next week with the permission of the school boards. The matter of closing school for the two days rests with the board members.

May Accept Plans: Members of the school board of the Riverside district were expected at the county superintendents' office this afternoon to look over the plans and specifications for a new school building.

St. John's Church.
St. John's German Luth. Church.
—Corner bluff St. and Pease court.
S. W. Fitch, pastor.

Day of Reformation.
Communion service at 10:00 a. m.
Prayer service at 10:00 a. m.
Evening service at 7:30.
All Lutherans cordially invited.

Provides for Care of Dumb Animals.
A new club appealing to lovers of dumb animals is in the course of formation in London, under the patronage of many well-known people. A novel departure will be the dogs' cloakroom, consisting of premises, with attendants, which will be utilized for the purpose of taking charge of members' dogs when visiting the club.

Boarding the animals at the club will be one of the features, and there will be a catering section where dogs can have their meals.

He Knew Teacher.
"A small boy dropped into a store on the North Side on his way to school to get some candy," says the Holton Signal. "While he was looking over the assortment displayed in the case the salesman called his attention to some fresh lemon drops. 'Now,' the boy said, 'Gimme some jelly beans. I want something the teacher can't hear me eat. Teacher can hear a feller eat lemon drops clear across the room.'—Kansas City Star.

Lost and Found.
The ferryman, whilst plying over a water which was only slightly agitated, was asked by a timid lady in his boat whether any persons were ever lost in that river. "Oh, no," said he, "we always finds 'em agin, the next day."—Life.

TO START CAMPAIGN TO ADVERTISE WEEK OF BIG EXHIBITION

Fred Blakely Will Start Out Monday With 12,000 Circulars—Plan for Monster Auto Tour.

The various committees of the local merchants who are in charge of the monster sale week which will be held Nov. 11 to 16, the date of the manufacturers' exhibition, have already prepared their bills and circulars, which have been printed and are now ready for distribution. Every city and village in this part of the state, as well as every rural route in Rock county will be canvassed so that every person in a radius of fifty miles will be certain to hear of the monster event to be staged in Janesville.

On Monday, Fred N. Blakely, and a large crew will start out to post 12,000 bills at various points around the county and in towns adjoining. Forty-one hundred notices will be mailed on the same day to farmers living on rural routes on the county; and in addition the monster auto tour will serve to put the final touch to the advertising campaign.

The circulars which have been prepared emphasize the manufacturers' show at the auditorium and set forth the advantages of trade in this city during that week. The rebate of railroad fare is explained and the list of merchants who will participate in the sale, is given.

It is probable that a large amount of additional advertising matter will be prepared for the big auto expedition and each merchant will doubtless carry bills proclaiming the special bargains which can be secured at his store. No detail will be left untouched to make the event the very biggest ever pulled off in this city.

SUFFRAGE WORKERS IN FINAL MEETING

Gathering at Home of Mrs. Archie Reid, Monday Afternoon, to Settle Business Affairs.

Members of the local political equality league will hold a meeting at the home of Mrs. Archie Reid at four o'clock Monday afternoon for the purpose of making final arrangements of business and settling up affairs of the league before election day.

An automobile load of suffragists went to Clinton on Tuesday last, where they canvassed the town and spoke before the high school pupils. Thursday they went to Avalon where an enthusiastic meeting made arrangements for bringing the campaign to a close in the townships of Johnston, Harmony, La Prairie and Bradford.

Hiccough Epidemic.

The epidemics of hiccough, which have occasionally been observed are probably due to hysterical contagion and to the nervous predisposition of the majority of the individuals who are affected by it. It is to functional derangement of the nervous system, owing to a slackening of the circulation that the hiccough of the death struggle, remarkable more particularly in a period of abundant hemorrhage, is to be ascribed.

Pronunciation of Z.

The pronunciation of the letter Z as zee is an Americanism. The English pronunciation is zed, from the old French zede, which in turn is derived from the Latin zeta, the name of the sixth letter of the Greek alphabet, corresponding to the English zed. Shakespeare in King Lear, act II, scene 2, gives the English pronunciation, which is still in vogue: "Zed! thou unnecessary letter."

ALL DEPOSITS MADE IN THIS BANK ON OR BEFORE NOVEMBER TENTH WILL DRAW INTEREST FROM THE FIRST OF THE MONTH.

DEPOSIT SOME MONEY THIS NEXT WEEK AND JANUARY FIRST WE WILL PAY YOU TWO MONTHS' INTEREST AT THE RATE OF 3%.

The Rock County Savings and Trust Co.

Office with The Rock County National Bank.

Good Coffee
Dedrick Bros.

Good Baldwin Apples

PK. 25c. BBL. $2.35. TALK QUICK.

Taylor Bros.

415-417 W. Milw. Both Phones.

Good Baldwin Apples

PK. 25c. BBL. $2.35. TALK QUICK.

Taylor Bros.

415-417 W. Milw. Both Phones.

Fair Store

DRY GOODS DEPT.
Comforters, silkoline covered, filled with white cotton, full size, $1.25, $1.49 and $1.69.
Blankets, fine values, 98c, $1.25 and $1.45.
Bed Spreads, 98c and $1.35.
Couch covers, 73c and $1.25.
Lace curtains, white or corn, 98c and $1.35 pair.
Muslin ruffled curtains 35c.
Table linen, 72 inches wide, 75c and 98c yd.
Unbleached and red linen 25c.
Turkish towels 10c, 15c and 25c.
Ladies' wool sweater coats, white and colored, $2.25.
Children's sweaters, 50c, 98c and $1.25.
Flannel shirts 35c and 50c.
Black sateen, skirts 50c, 98c.
Heatherbloom, skirts $1 to $2.50.
Black silk shirts $2.75.
Ladies' flannel gowns 50c, 73c and 9

FIRE LAST VOLLEYS INTO ENEMIES' CAMP

CONGRESSMAN DENT AND DANIEL GRADY ADDRESS BIG DEMOCRATIC MASS MEETING.

ASSAIL EXTRAVAGANCE

Grady Indicts State Income Tax as Feeder of Lavish Expenditure—Dent Condemns Tariff.

Confronted by the largest audience which has attended a political rally in Janesville during this campaign, baring the visit of Senator La Follette, Congressman S. H. Dent of Alabama and "Fighting Dan" Grady of Portage last night gave the final appeal from the public platform for the support of the Democratic national and state tickets by Rock county voters. Volleys after volleys of hot shots were fired into the Republican camp, and others, no less keenly aimed, lodged in the corral of the Bull Moose. The Wisconsin state administration suffered a heavy bombardment and when Mr. Grady fired his parting shot there was not an argument in its defense which was not badly shattered. The national administration came in for a no less severe scoring by Congressman Dent.

Both speakers were introduced by Ex-Mayor John C. Nichols and spoke from the Auditorium platform. Congressman Dent was the first to take the floor. He announced that he would confine his address strictly to national issues as he was unfamiliar with the political condition in the state, but nevertheless he asked support for the Democratic ticket from top to bottom.

"This is a remarkable campaign in many ways," said Mr. Dent in opening his speech. "It is remarkable in the first place that it has led to no business disturbance in the country. This year the Republican plea that panic follows Democratic victory falls upon deaf ears. Why? Because one of the very hardest panics we ever had, and the last one was in a Republican administration and when the highest protective tariff was in force. As a matter of fact business is better now than it has been in any political campaign since the Civil War. "The campaign is remarkable in another respect. The people made up their minds several months ago that there was to be a change in the administration at Washington. But the Democratic convention at Baltimore had made known its candidates for the presidency the people made up their minds as to whom they would vote for. Knowing members of all parties admit that Wilson will win. Taft followers are interested solely in seeing Taft run a good second, and the Roosevelt followers are anxious only to beat Taft. It has been conceded for two months that Wilson will be the next president.

Congressman Dent went on and enumerated at some length the accomplishments of the Democratic congress. To their credit he placed the liberalizing of the House rules, enforced publicity of campaign expenses and contributions before and after election, the submission of a constitutional amendment for the direct election of United States senators, the abrogation of the treaty with Russia because of the unfair treatment of Americanized Jews in that country, and the establishment of a children's bureau. Other bills which would be passed as soon as the Democrats had a president who would not veto them, were a bill providing for trial by jury in cases of contempt committed outside of a federal court, eight-hour law for all government work, and various tariff reduction measures.

The speaker condemned President Taft's tariff vetoes. He declared that the placing of sugar on the free list would have saved the people of the country $150,000,000 a year and that the passage of the farmers' free list bill would save the farmers of the country not less than $300,000,000 a year. The tariff was dishonest at that it put a premium on industry at the expense of agriculture and commerce. It was at the root of the high cost of living and the mother of trusts.

"The Progressive platform is one of glittering generalities and superabundant platitudes," said Congressman Dent in opening his remarks on that party and its leader Roosevelt.

"The only message Roosevelt ever sent to congress asking for tariff revision was during the anthracite coal strike. Then he asked that anthracite coal be placed on the free list, not knowing that it was already there."

"The greatest objection to the Roosevelt candidacy," said Mr. Dent "is his defiance of the never-before broken and respected third term tradition."

With an array of well chosen statistics, wide knowledge of state political and economic history, and the issues of the present campaign, Attorney Daniel Grady, who followed Congressman Dent to the platform was able to refute ad undermine the strongest arguments for the continuance of the La Follette-McGovern machine in political power in Wisconsin. Mr. Grady talked straight from the shoulder and his charges were so well supported that they carried conviction to almost every listener.

"Wisconsin," said Mr. Grady, "has seen the expenses of the state government nearly quadruple since the Democrats were last in power. In 1894 the state expenses were $4,000,000; in 1911, $11,000,000, nearly one million dollars a month. Is it not plain that the present administration has lavishly and wastefully expended the public monies? What, answer have they to give? They say it is not so great as it seems the expense appears to be higher than it really is because of the changing of funds to different heads in the books. But what do the books show? They show that they have collected $11,000,000, if they have not spent it, what have they done with it?"

run on $20,000 a year by the Democrats now costs $150,000 a year. "It is said in defense of these figures ADD FIRE LAST VOLLEY—ures that the high cost of living, the higher prices for all kinds of supplies is reasonable. Let me show you. In the state of Iowa the cost of the state government per capita is $2.08; in boss-ridden Illinois it is $1.98 per capita, but in "progressive Wisconsin" it is $4.60 per capita. Let them explain this if they will. The facts and figures are not to be gainsayed.

"Need we be surprised that Mr. Governor should ask for an income tax law and announce from the house-tops that he was going after the rich tax dodgers? When McGovern found out that the expenses which he and his associates had incurred were approaching the breaking point and would soon bring upon their heads the vengeance of a disillusioned people he conceived the idea of enacting a state income tax law. If he could have this law passed he could continue to maintain and hold his extravagant establishment, at the same time making the people believe that the rich were paying the bills.

"McGovern and his supporters say this law will hit only the rich. Were this true the law is unconstitutional and should be repealed for that reason alone. That statement does not hold. An unmarried man must pay the tax if his income exceeds $800, and married man if his income exceeds $1200, an additional $200 being exempt for each child. The law even obliges a man to pay rent for the house in which he lives, even though he has clear title to it.

"Merchants, manufacturers, and laborers are injured by the state income tax law. They are placed at a disadvantage in competing with those in other states. The tax means a new overhead expense in carrying on their business.

"In defense of the state income tax law it is said that it will take the place of the personal property tax; all taxation will be upon land and income. This is where the farmer will 'get his.' McGovern has been hoodwinking the farmer, making him believe that this tax will not affect him. I venture to say that few farmers had statements sent to them this fall.

"Suppose the farmer has a poor crop and a tax of $6,000,000 is raised by the income tax, and a like amount by land tax. How would the farmer take to that? We are on the verge of putting into practice the most radical taxation ideas of Henry George and the Socialists.

"The state income tax has always been a failure. It has been tried in twelve different states and repeated after trials of from 10 to 50 years. All economists of repute and standing declare that the principle of a state income tax is unsound and that it can under no circumstances be made to work without gross injustice. It is easily evaded by the man it is intended to reach because he can change his legal residence and still run his business as before.

"You have to choose between McGovern and Karel. McGovern who says the state can not be run for less than $12,000,000 and Karel who says that he will run the state for $4,000,000 if he is given the chance. McGovern begrimed and besooted in the Roosevelt tar-barrel but nevertheless supported by Senator La Follette who fears that should he be defeated he will lose control of his political machine."

Mr. Grady assailed La Follette for his statement that he would not vote for any of the presidential candidates, declaring that it was highly inconsistent with his precepts on good citizenship. He said that La Follette believed himself the only man of presidential calibre and if his hearers did not believe it advised them to read his biography in the American magazine. "You will find," he said, "no less than twenty-five 'Is' to a page. He closed his talk with a defense of Judge Karel's record and a fine tribute to his character. He said that in voting against the primary election law and appointive railway rate commission he showed a foresight greater than any of his associates who support them. Were it not for the primary election law McGovern could not have obtained Republican nomination by fraud or the state been defamed by two senatorial election investigations.

LA FOLLETTE MAKES BRIEF TALK AT BRODHEAD DEPOT

Senator Passes Through Green County On Way to Milwaukee Yesterday Afternoon.

Brodhead, Nov. 2.—Senator Robert M. La Follette passed through Brodhead Friday afternoon on the 3:50 passenger train to Milwaukee. He spoke but a moment as he was very hoarse. A large crowd was at the depot to greet him.

F. W. Lucas, attorney at Madison, came to Brodhead Friday noon and was the guest of his mother, Mrs. Baseline Lucas.

"NEARLY A TRAGEDY." Hiram, what's initiative, referendum and recall? I'm gittin' ready to go down and vote an' I want to know at all vote an' I want to know it all got me puzzled too.

Jes, step in an' ask Miss Prouty, I reckon she'll tell you.

Hi Hawkins, me go and ask Miss Prouty how I should cast my vote.

Afore I'd think of sich a thing I'd go and cut my throat.

Look here my dear Belinda, you shouldn't talk that way.

For you was mighty thick with her jest a week ago today.

Hi Hawkins, I'm aware of that its ben jest about a week.

Since she snubbed me at the social and now, sir, we don't speak.

Now Hiram, dear, please tell me what's Predatory wealth?

It must be suthin' terrible, the speaker said twuz bad as death.

You seemed to know all about it when listin' to the speech.

Every time he said 'Predatory' you'd laugh an' cheer and screech.

You've got be agin' Belinda, sink er hook and line.

To tell the truth, old woman, its suthin' I can't define.

Law me! I wish I'd knowed ye right from the very start.

Ye blat an' bluster 'bout other parties but yer own ain't got a 'flaw.

When it comes to preachin' politics ye can talk the set clean out off a saw.

But when I ask you to explain to me why yer votin' for this or that.

Why yer a Bull Moose progressive, a Republican or Democrat.

You jest simply hev to own right up thet the whole thing's Greek to you.

Still yer opposed to Woman suffrage; ye say thet wouldn't do.

You sure think yer some pumpkins when yer blowin' on the street.

It's Teddy, Taft or Wilson, with every man yer meet.

Yer a dandy, fine example of our wise, well posted 'mies.

'Better read up a bit Ill Hawkins, 'for ye open yer trap again.

Now Hiram, where ye goin'? I ain't meanin' what I say.

Whenever I git a chance to talk, you take it the wrong way.

Now don't get mad, dear Hiram, you know 'twill worry me.

I'll take back every word I've said, right here on the bended knee.

I know full well, dear Hiram, that yer up to all the tricks.

In national, state, congressional and county politics.

An' when the time arrives to vote, I'll go along with you.

An' the party thet's been gittin' one vote from us will now be gittin' two.

SIMON T. CAMPBELL, Avalon, Wis.

Wife Remembers.

Every father is sure he had a whole lot more sense when he was young and in love than his boy exhibits. But he didn't. Ask his wife, and she will tell you he was so silly that she came near throwing him over in disgust.

H. L. Blomquist, a very well known merchant of Esdalle, Wis., states:—"My wife considers Foley's Honey and Tar Compound the best cough cure on the market. She has used various kinds, but Foley's Honey and Tar Compound gives the best results."

Best for children and for grown persons. Contains no opiates. Badger Drug Co.

New York as New City.

If people make a city, then New York is the newest city on the continent, for only one New Yorker out of five had American ancestors three generations back.

HANDY TIME TABLE.

Chicago via Clinton—C. & N. W. Ry.—*4:20, *5:20, *6:40, *6:25; 18:00, *9:25, A. M.; 12:45 P. M.; *2:50 P. M.

Political advertisement; paid for at the rate of 25c per inch per inch.

ALEXANDER M. PAUL Democratic Candidate For Assembly First District Rock County

I am a plain man speaking to the voters of the First Assembly district of Rock county.

I do not profess to be what I am not. I am a tax payer and a citizen.

I want to conserve your interests and mine.

I do not want to pay excessive taxes for the political prostitution of the State University; I believe that the University should be divorced from politics.

We are spending too much for experiments; too little for actual results.

I believe in an income tax, a national one, not the present malformation the McGovern administration has saddled us with, this relic of the Inquisition, giving the state authorities the right to pry into people's personal business and beliefs. I will demand its repeal if elected.

Rock county is agricultural. We raise herds of cattle which, under the law that goes into effect June 1st, 1913, means confiscation of personal property. Will you stand for it?

If elected I will introduce a bill to nullify this law.

Laws for the public good I endorse, but laws for personal grandization I oppose.

I am opposed to the excessive increase in the cost of administration of state affairs; money wasted for personal ends of office holders.

Cut down expenses, then you will cut down taxes. That hits your pocket book.

I am a practical business man, not a dreamer, not an idealist. I stand for the people and their interests.

A vote for me next Tuesday for Member of the Assembly of the First District of Rock County means simply:

Government for the People, Government by the People.

Sincerely,

Alexander M. Paul.

FREE LECTURE

ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

BY

REV. WM. MCKENZIE

OF CAMBRIDGE, MASS.

Member of the board of lectureship of the mother church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON, NOV. 3, 1912

MYERS OPERA HOUSE AT 3.315 O'CLOCK.

YOU are invited to visit the Flower Shop and Green Houses during Merchants and Manufacturers week, November 11th to 16th.

We will give a special sale of Ferns at the South Main Street Greenhouses, offering a 25% reduction on all grades of ferns.

Chrysanthemums, Carnations, Roses, Violets and all Cut Flowers in season.

Special effort will be made by us to help entertain you during this week.

JANESVILLE FLORAL CO.

EDW. AMERPOHL, Proprietor.

Office and Flower Shop 50 So. Main St., Plant Houses 334 So. Main St., Rose and Cut Flower Houses, So. Jackson St., Ornamental Nursery, Racine St.

In the Churches

First Baptist Church.—Corner of Jackson and Pleasant streets. Rev. Joseph Chalmers Hazen, pastor. Regular Sunday morning worship: 10:30. Sermon by the pastor. Subject: "The Little Foxes." "Crown Him With Many Crowns."

Quartette.—Bancroft. Solo: "Fear Ye Not, O Israel!" Dudley Buck.

Sunday School.—12 noon. Music by the School Orchestra. A class for everyone. K. W. Shipman and G. W. Grant, Supt.

Young People's Society.—6:30 p. m. A cordial invitation is extended to all young people to attend this service.

Regular evening service.—7:30. Subject: "Law Enforcement in Janesville." This subject was carried over from two Sundays ago. The discussion will cover our need what it has done elsewhere and what it will do for Janesville.

"The Soft Sabbath Calm." Shelly. "The Sun Shall No More Go Down." Brown. The service will close in one hour.

You are invited. Next Lecture Course number by Dr. L. C. Randolph Monday evening, Nov. 18. Prayer meeting Thursday evening.

First Congregational Church.—First Congregational church—Corner of South Jackson and Dodge streets. Rev. David Deaton, A. M. minister. Services at 10:30 a. m. and 4:30 p. m.

Subject of morning sermon by Dr. Deaton: "The Broader Mission of the Church." Many men and women ask whether the church is an absolute institution concerned only with dead issues. Has the church a message and mission for our own day. This will be the theme of the sermon today.

Quartette.—"Far From My Heavenly Home." Tours. Duet: "Peace To This Dwelling." Smith.

Miss Heddles and Mr. Miller. Vesper Bible Lecture service at 4:30. Lecture: "The Inspiration of the Bible." It is of special interest to those who care for the modern interpretation of the Bible as teachers and parents.

Quartette.—Selected. The Sunday school meets at 12:00 noon. Notice change of hour for Sunday school. This requires church service at 10:30 a. m. sharp, to be dismissed at 11:50 a. m.

The kindergarten meets this morning at 10:30. Parents requested to send children under seven years. Miss Jacobs in charge Nov. 3.

The Y. P. Society will meet at 5:30 p. m. at the close of the Vesper service. All young people cordially invited to attend this meeting. Subject: "Christian Virtues"—Zeal. Miss Lutz Griswold, leader.

The public are cordially invited to these services.

Cargill Methodist Church.—Cargill Methodist Church—Rev. T. D. Williams, minister. Miss Hattie Kissell, deaconess. 9:30—Love Feast. Rev. T. D. Williams, leader.

10:30—Sermon by the pastor: "The Atonement." Communion.

7:30—Sermon by pastor: "What Our Country Needs." An election sermon, a discussion of some national questions to which all are cordially invited.

Music by Chorus Choir in charge of Mrs. F. T. Richards. Sunday school: 11:45. T. E. Benbison, Supt.

Junior League: 3:30 p. m. Epworth League: 6:30 p. m. Pentecostal service Tuesday at 4:00 p. m.

Methodist Brotherhood banquet Tuesday at 8:30 p. m. Prayer meeting Thursday at 7:30 p. m.

Trinity Episcopal Church.—Trinity Episcopal Church—Rev. Henry Williamson, rector. Sunday in Octave of All Saints. Holy Communion: 7:30 a. m.

Sunday school: 9:30 a. m. Holy Communion and sermon: 10:30 a. m. A special anthem at this service.

Choral Evensong: 7:30 p. m. Monday: Meeting of St. Agnes' Guild at Rectory: 2:00 p. m. Thursday: Requiem Holy Eucharist: 7:30 a. m.

Dinner Stories.

Parson—Why do you persist in drinking more than is good for you? Toper—To drown my sorrows. Parson—And do you succeed?

Toper—(sighs)—No—they can swim. Toper—(sighs)—No—they can swim.

The banquet hall was adorned with many beautiful paintings, and the president of the little college, was called upon to respond to a toast. Wishing to pay a compliment to the ladies present he designated the paintings with an eloquent gesture and said: "What need is there of these painted beauties when we have so many with use at the table?"

After a dinner given by Stephen Price, of Drury Lane Theatre, all guests but Theodore Hook and the Rev. Edward Cannon retired. Price

An Early Error. "When Eve ate of the Tree of Knowledge of Good and Evil, she did not eat largely enough. We recognize Good and Evil, but we miss the finer shades." "Grit Lawless," by F. E. Mills Young.

Howard Chapel. A platform meeting at 2:30 p. m. Introductory Prayer: S. Richards. "What Is Christianity?" C. H. Howard.

"Christianity in Business Life."—L. H. Groat. "Why I Am a Christian." C. E. Lashwit.

"The Comforts of Christianity," by Brother Penny. "What Christianity Has Done For Woman," Mrs. White.

"Christianity in the Home," Mrs. Webber. "Christianity in Neighborhood," Mrs. Pease and Mrs. Patten.

Other testimonies will follow as to influence of Christianity on individual life. Brief concluding remarks by Rev. William Scott.

Closing Consecration Prayer, Wm. H. Howard. The song service, in the afternoon will be conducted by Mrs. C. H. Howard.

United Brethren Church.—Church of the United Brethren in Christ. C. J. Roberts, E. D. pastor. Preaching: 11:00 a. m. Subject: "Conditions for Intellectual Prayer." Evening: 7:00 p. m. Subject: "The Coming Election." A patriotic service.

Sunday school: 10:00 a. m. Christian Endeavor: 6:00 p. m. Prayer meeting Thursday evening.

Mrs. Roberts will entertain in the interest of the Helping Hand Society on Thursday afternoon.

At each of the public services Sunday, the vote will be taken for delegates to the General Conference, which convenes in Decatur, Ill., next May. All members of the church are expected to be present.

The public are cordially invited to all the services.

Presbyterian Church.—Presbyterian Church—Rev. J. W. Laughlin, D. D. pastor. Morning worship: 10:30. Bible school: 12 o'clock.

Evening worship: 7:30. Subject for the morning sermon: "The Church a Social Power." Subject for the evening sermon: "Life's Challenge To Men."

The music will be rendered by a well trained Chorus Choir under the direction of Prof. J. S. Taylor with Mrs. F. F. Lewis as organist.

You are cordially invited to these services.

First Christian Church.—Meetings in Carpenter and Sutherland building over Rehberg's store. 10:00 a. m.—Bible school. A class with a good teacher for every one.

11:00 a. m.—Preaching. Subject: "A Great Gathering." 7:30 p. m.—Preaching. Subject: "Unto Death."

Frank L. Van Voorhis, state superintendent of missions, will preach at both services. Every one invited to these meetings. Comfortable room. Home-like surroundings. A hearty welcome.

Mid-week prayer meeting, Wednesday: 7:45 p. m.

Christian Science Church.—First Church of Christ, Scientist, holds services in Phoenix Block, West Milwaukee street. Sunday morning at 10:30 and Wednesday evening at 7:45. The subject of the Lesson Service Sunday morning will be "Everlasting Punishment." Sunday school meets at 12 o'clock. Reading room open daily, except Sunday and holidays from 2 to 4 p. m.

St. Peter's English Lutheran.—St. Peter's English Lutheran Church—Corner of Jackson and Center streets. Sermon by the pastor, Rev. E. O. Hoffmeister at 11:00 a. m.

Sunday school at 9:45. No evening services. A cordial welcome is extended to attend these services.

St. Mary's Catholic.—St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, Rev. Wm. Gogel, pastor. First Mass 8:30 a. m.; second Mass 10:30 a. m.

Vespers and benediction at 7:30 p. m.

St. Patrick's Catholic.—St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church, Corner of Cherry and Holmes Sts. Dean E. B. Reilly, pastor. Rev. Wm. Mahoney, assistant pastor. Residence 315 Cherry Street.

First Mass, 7:00 a. m.; second Mass 8:30 a. m.; third Mass 10:30 a. m. Vespers and benediction, 7:30 p. m.

St. Peter's English Lutheran.—St. Peter's English Lutheran Church—Corner of Jackson and Center streets. Sermon by the pastor, Rev. E. O. Hoffmeister at 11:00 a. m.

Sunday school at 9:45. No evening services. A cordial welcome is extended to attend these services.

St. Mary's Catholic.—St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, Rev. Wm. Gogel, pastor. First Mass 8:30 a. m.; second Mass 10:30 a. m.

Vespers and benediction at 7:30 p. m.

St. Patrick's Catholic.—St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church, Corner of Cherry and Holmes Sts. Dean E. B. Reilly, pastor. Rev. Wm. Mahoney, assistant pastor. Residence 315 Cherry Street.

First Mass, 7:00 a. m.; second Mass 8:30 a. m.; third Mass 10:30 a. m. Vespers and benediction, 7:30 p. m.

HURTS RIGHT WRIST IN CORN SHREDDER

John Fraser of Footville is Victim of Painful Injury at His Home Yesterday.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Footville, Nov. 2.—John Fraser, a young man living at this village, sustained a badly sprained right wrist in a corn shredder accident yesterday. In endeavoring to loosen the corn which had become caught in the feeder of the machine, his wrist was badly wrenched. The ligaments were badly torn and his physician states it is more serious than a broken bone. This is the second serious accident which Mr. Fraser has suffered this year, as he broke his leg while playing ball here on the afternoon of July 4th. This is the first shredder accident in this part of the county this season.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

SMALL BINGES. A little runt of a boy came shyly forward to meet Mrs. Jones, who, tired with her shopping, sat down on a stool in the towel department of the big store.

Mrs. Jones owned a large hotel and was buying supplies. It was the boy's first day at the counter. He had just been promoted from the stock room, where he had made good.

"What is this bolt of towel, worth—hotel rates?" The stripling's eyes bulged.

"I'll have to ask the head of the department. This is my first day selling goods. Please excuse me, madam, for just a moment."

Rushing to his senior, he eagerly made the inquiry. "Are you sure she wants a whole bolt?" said the department head. "Tell her I'll be there in a moment and wait on her myself."

The boy's face fell. And— "What was it? Something in the drooping face of the young salesman? Anyway, when the head clerk came forward, briskly rubbing his hands, Mrs. Jones said:

"Excuse me; this boy is waiting on me. If you will give him the prices we shall get along very well." They did get along. And when the woman's bill was footed up it came to $90. Ninety dollars! Wouldn't they stare when he turned in his little sales book on his first day's showing?

And this is the sequel: Mrs. Jones became a regular customer of the boy, who was always attentive and obliging, and brought her friends to the counter.

Very soon the boy got a raise in salary and is now the head of the department. And he will go higher.

It was a little thing for a tired woman to do, but— It was a big thing for the boy and gave him his first chance as a salesman.

"The fact is— Little things are the binges on which big things turn.

Why not emulate the woman's thoughtfulness? You and I probably never will do any big things in our lives, but we can do little things in a big way.

Can we not? A thoughtful hint, a kind word, a little boost—these are worth more than reams of paper read at the woman's club or banquet speeches on the "uplift."

Big Stick for Cupid. In a few isolated cases it would be better if Cupid could throw away his bow and arrow, and break the monotony by swinging a club.

At The Theatre

"KINDLING." Theatre patrons find "Kindling" so very elemental and so very human that it's appeal is irresistible. It is easy to suffer and plan with Helene Schultz and his wife, Maggie. Maggie follows the suggestion given her by all the people with whom she comes in contact and steals in order to get the great west. She almost falls into the clutches of the law but the fact that she finally realizes her great hope gives a particularly pleasant receive $500 in cash, go to a small town, live a moral life, attend church, seek employment and assume a becoming modesty. "Do this," his chum tells him, "and in a short time the richest girl in the town will propose to you." Duncan accepts his friend's proposition, tries the game and it succeeds—he also succeeds in business and after the banker's daughter has proposed to him he finds he is in love with a girl who has no fortune.

Se is the daughter of a druggist and an inventor, with whom he becomes a partner. Fortune favors him in the drug business, and he makes enough money to discharge his obligation and marry the girl of his choice.

The cast to be seen here includes Denton Vane, Fred E. Hand, Theodore Rook, Grace Childers, Ethel Roland, Harry Ellis and others, all of whom have helped make this play one of the delights of the season.

"FRECKLES." A. C. Delamater who is responsible for "Freckles," the dramatization of Gene Stratton-Porter's popular novel, to be presented here soon, instructed the dramatist to incorporate every character in this play that appears in the book, and to adhere as closely as possible to Mrs. Porter's charming story. Consequently "Freckles," the plucky wail who guards the Limberlost timber leaves; The Swamp Angel of whom Freckles dreams materializes; McLean, a member of a Grand Rapids lumber company, who befriends Freckles; Mrs. Duncan who gives mother love and a home to Freckles; Duncan, head teamster of McLean's timber gang; The Bird Woman who is collecting camera studies of birds for a book; The Man of Affairs, brusque of manner but big of heart; Lord and Lady O'Moore who comes from Ireland in quest of a lost relative; Wessnes a Dutch timber thief, who wants rascality made easy; Black Jack, a villain, to whom thought of repentance comes too late; and Sears a camp cook; all appear in important roles.

"THE GIRL WHO DARED." Theatre goes where appreciate stage picture with all the beautiful, electrical coloring that modern stage mechanism has made possible have a rare treat awaiting them in that pliant musical mixture, "The Girl Who Dared," which is to be presented at the Myers Theatre, Sunday, matinee and evening Nov. 2.

"THE FORTUNE HUNTER." Janesville will have its first opportunity to see "The Fortune Hunter" when that most delightful comedy, which has had its run of two years at the Gaiety Theatre, New York and half as long at the Olympic Theatre, Chicago, comes to the Myers theatre on Monday, Nov. 4 with a perfect cast.

This delicious comedy by Winchell Smith tells a story of a young man who goes to a country town in quest of a rich girl who will bring him a fortune. This young man, Nat Duncan, has run through with a fortune and for five years has been living off a well-to-do former college chum.

Duncan finally awakens to the fact that he must do something for himself and his friend, offers to provide him with a certain amount of cash if he will live up to the rules prescribed by him.

Under this agreement Duncan is to ending to the story, Sarah Padden's emotional power has ample range in the role of Maggie and she has scored a genuine triumph in the part. She will be supported by William Macauley, Alice Ringling and an excellent cast.

The attraction will play at the Myers Theatre, Saturday Nov. 2, matinee and evening.

"THE GIRL WHO DARED." Theatre goes where appreciate stage picture with all the beautiful, electrical coloring that modern stage mechanism has made possible have a rare treat awaiting them in that pliant musical mixture, "The Girl Who Dared," which is to be presented at the Myers Theatre, Sunday, matinee and evening Nov. 2.

Drying Bottles and Lamp Chimneys. Take the handle of an old broom and cut it into 12-inch lengths. Fasten these sticks in upright position to a board one inch thick, placing them seven inches apart. After rinsing the bottles, vases, etc., turn them upside down over these sticks to dry. If a handle is placed at each end of the board, it will be an easy matter to move it about from place to place—Woman's Home Companion.

Robley Male Quartet

At

Presbyterian Church

Thursday Nov. 7th.

Tickets 35c.

Season Tickets 4 Numbers $1.00

This is the First number in the Lecture Course.

Chrysanthemums

A Beautiful Lot of Pompons At 50c Per Dozen

Splendid assortments of pot plants for the home at from 25c to 50c.

Included in the pot plants are Cyclamen Chrysanthemums, Primulas, Boston Ferns, Asparagus Ferns.

Special Attention to Funeral Work. Reasonable Prices.

Center Street Greenhouse

Between Linn and Locust Sts. New phone 548 white; Bell 186. CHAS. RATHJEN, Prop.

Grandfather's Record. "Did any of your ancestors do things to cause posterity to remember them?" asked the naughty woman. "I reckon they did," replied Farmer Cornossel. "My grandfather put mortgages on this place that ain't off yet."

She Knew. "Laura," said the fond mother, "what are the intentions of that young man whom you are permitting to call on you so often?" "Never mind that," answered the maiden; "I know what my intentions are."

Let Us Show You. If you are a sufferer of piles or hemorrhoids in any form, come to our store and let us show you Meritol Pile Remedy. It is one of the hemorrhoids in any form, come to best preparations ever handled and is sold on a positive guarantee. Reliable Drug Co.

Objected to Chastisement. A young man named Dubois is bringing an action against his sweetheart at Marseilles, France, because she boxed his ears for being late to take her to the theater.

"Watch Us Grow"

New Subscribers to the Rock County Telephone Co., since Aug. 1st. Cut it out and attach to your directory.

Blue 685	Allen, B. A.	Residence
Red 744	Arndt, Mrs. Katherine	Residence
White 1261	Antisdell, Mrs. C. H.	Residence
White 750	Burke, John	Residence
Blue 501	Baker, Mrs. Gertrude	Residence
Blue 499	Bergdoll, Fred	Residence
Blue 637	Belting, Dick	Residence
Blue 739	Blackford, F. L.	Residence
Blue 817	Brundage, Horace	Residence
Black 989	Boothroyd, G. C.	Residence
Blue 380	Baker, S. C.	Harness Shop
Black 902	Cohen Bros.	Residence
Red 692	Caldwell, Jas.	Residence
Blue 553	Caldow, Geo.	Residence
Blue 547	Calhoun, J. J.	Residence
Black 465	Colton, C. B.	Residence
Black 1250	Clemens, Ernest	Residence
White 401	Carter, Vincent	Residence
White 415	Cordell, R. B.	Residence
White 253	Dearborn, J. B.	Residence
Black 874	Dennett, Bert	Residence
Blue 1240	Elsner, Mrs. Minnie	Residence
Red 897	Fitzgerald, Mrs. John	Residence
Black 741	Fieri, Wm.	Residence
Black 954	Fisher, Mrs. I. J.	Residence
Red 780	Foot, Mrs. E. T.	Residence
Black 857	Glass, G. K.	Residence
Black 612	Grasslin, Chas.	Residence
Black 1273	Greelers, Restaurant	Residence
Red 813	Hughes, H. B.	Residence
Black 447	Halverson, Martin	Residence
Blue 991	Hilton, L. L.	Residence
Red 958	Hinkle, E. J.	Residence
Blue 415	Inman, O. C.	Residence
Black 298	Imlay, J. N.	Residence
Black 956	Jessup, L. E.	Residence
Blue 338	Jones, E. R. C.	Residence
Red 798	Janesville House Wrecking Co.	W. Mirpolskey
Red 748	Kingsley, Frank	Residence
Blue 590	Kinnie & Son, Penn. Oil	Residence
Black 301	Kelley, Jas.	Residence
Red 742	Knipp, Louis F.	Residence
Blue 895	Kingsley, Arin	Residence
Red 916	Kemmerer, R. W.	Residence
Red 836	Lawrence, Mrs. C.	Residence
Red 1273	Lyle, A. V.	Music Store
Blue 1266	Malbon Bros.	Cigar Factory
Black 759	Manthe, Frank	Residence
Black 646	Mathison, Mrs. P.	Residence
White 1281	Maloney, Robert P.	Residence
Red 1271	Mawhinney, Geo.	Residence
White 760	McCarthy, Mrs. E.	Residence
Black 1233	Marsh, Geo.	Residence
Red 670	McDearmid, A.	Residence
Blue 155	McNeil, Wm. R.	Residence
Blue 729	McQue Bros.	Residence
Blue 958	Miller, Wm.	Residence
Red 395	Mitchell, Bertha I.	Residence
Blue 788	Matson, Mrs. Emma	Residence
Blue 924	Morrison, Walter	Residence
Blue 1286	McNitt, Mrs. Clara	Residence
Black 361	Nolan, Thos. S., Attorney	Residence
Black 810	Nolan, Thos.	Office
White 593	O'Leary, Mrs. A.	Residence
Blue 920	Olson, Albert	Residence
White 741	Porter, G. D.	Residence
White 859	Persson, H.	Residence
Blue 265	Palmer, Maitland	Residence
Blue 447	Page, Merle	Residence
Black 1237	Pappas, Nic	Residence
White 667	Parker, Mrs. Martha	Residence
Black 886	Packard, Geo. T.	Residence
Black 965	Quinn & Heffron, Coal and Wood	Office
Red 258	Reed, H. J.	Residence
Black 706	Rendall, Harold	Residence
White 271	Rock Co. Abstract Co.	Office
White 857	Rotenstein, Frank	Office
Blue 1261	Russell, A. A.	Residence
Black 83	Sullivan, Phil	Residence
Black 213	Spaulding, Wm.	Residence
Blue 401	Swanson, Geo.	Residence
Red 681	Strampe, E. A.	Grocery
White 665	Tift, Mrs. Helen	Residence
Black 836	Tainter, Mrs. M.	Residence
Black 693	Thiercer, Dr. G. B.	Residence
Blue 740	Taylor, J. G.	Residence
Blue 908	Tervilliger, Mabel	Residence
Red 1218	Van Voorhis, F. L.	Residence
White 1220	West Side Feed Store, S. Sherman	Residence
Black 477	The Woolen Mills Co., Ed. Arneson, Prop.	Residence
Black 695	Ward, C. E.	Residence
Black 280	Weber, J. W.	Residence
White 631	Whitmyre, H. R.	Residence
Black 1220	Willie, Chas.	Residence
White 1203	Ziegler, H. M.	Residence
	Austin, Glen T. Farm	Janesville
	Austin, Alva G.	Janesville
	Bunker, N. W., Store	Johnstown
	McKewan, Lawrence, Farm	Afton
	Williams, Frank	Johnstown
	Wehler, C. J. Farm	Johnstown

Rock County Telephone Co. 501 Jackman Bldg.

LIVESTOCK MARKET
HAS STEADY CLOSE

Hogs are slightly higher. While all prices hold generally steady.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—The livestock market closed with prices for all grades steady, without fluctuation. Hogs were favored with another advance of five cents. Receipts were generally light. Quotations follow:

Cattle—Receipts 500; market steady; beefs 5.20@11.00; Texas steers 4.25@5.05; western steers 5.50@9.25; stockers and feeders 4.25@7.50; cows and heifers 2.70@7.25; calves 6.50@10.50.

Hogs—Receipts 2,000; market steady; 5c higher; light 7.25@8.00; mixed 7.45@8.05; heavy 7.25@8.00; rough 7.15@7.50; pigs 5.25@7.40; bulk of sales 7.70@8.00.

Sheep—Receipts 2,000; market steady; native 2.40@4.55; western 3.50@4.60; yearlings 4.50@5.65; lambs, native 5.00@7.20; western 5.25@7.00.

Butter—Steady; creameries 26 1/2@30 1/2; dairies 22 1/2@28.

Eggs—Steady; receipts 314 cases; cases at mark, cases included 19 1/2; ordinary firsts 23; prime firsts 25.

Cheese—Steady; dairies 17 1/2@17 3/4; twins 16 1/2@17; young Americas 17 1/2@17 3/4; long horns 16 1/2@17.

Potatoes—Steady; receipts 45 cars; Wis. 43@48; Mich. 45@48; Minn. 42@45.

Poultry—Live: Steady; turkeys 16; chickens 11 1/2; springs 12 1/2.

Veal—Steady; 50 to 60 lb. wts. 9@14.

JANESVILLE WHOLESALE MARKET.

Janesville, Wis., Oct. 26, 1912.

Feed—Oil meal, $1.90@2.00 per 100 lbs.

Oats, Hay, Straw—Straw, $6.00@7.50; hay, loose, $16; baled, $17@18; barley, 60 lbs., 40c@50c; rye, 60 lbs., 53c@58c; bran, $1.20@1.25; middlings, $1.40@1.55; oats, 25c@30c for 32 lbs.; corn, $1.8@2.2.

Poultry—Hens, 10c lb; springers, 11c 12 1/2 lb; old roosters, 6c lb; ducks, 12c lb.

Steers and Cows—$4.50@7.50.

Hogs—Different grades, $8.00@9.40.

Sheep—Mutton, $4.00@5.00; lambs, light, $4.00.

Butter and Eggs—Creamery 30 1/2@31c; dairy, 25c@29c.

Eggs—27 cents dozen.

TRAINING SCHOOL NOTES.

On Friday noon the training school students celebrated the close of the first quarter of work by serving dinner in the training school rooms. It was an enjoyable affair, and arrangements have been made to repeat this kind of a program several times during the year. The training school has invested in some dishes and the young women will be trained to prepare for and carry out social functions in proper form. It is considered that the social training involved and the development of school spirit and loyalty make the event well worth any time and effort spent upon it. The principal plans specifically to make the social influence helpful.

Norma McCarthy had the misfortune Tuesday evening to fall and break her arm and the injury to the ball and socket joint at the shoulder is considered by the surgeon as very serious. Miss McCarthy was taken to Chicago on Friday to receive expert treatment.

Margaret Mayhew was out of school several days the past week on account of illness and left for her home near Lima on Friday.

Frances Byrne attended a church festival near her home Tuesday evening.

The training school instructors will attend the annual meeting of the State Teachers' Association in Milwaukee next week.

There will be a school next week Thursday and Friday on account of the meeting of the State Teachers' Association.

The new report cards will be passed out to the students next Wednesday. The reports indicate that a good deal of work has been accomplished during the first quarter.

Alice Wilder of Evansville visited the training school on Thursday. Miss Wilder is a member of the last year's graduating class and is doing successful work in a country school near Orfordville.

Miss Edna Hemingway, deputy county superintendent of schools took dinner with the training school students on Friday.

The school is now equipped with mimeographs, for both the autographic and the typewritten work. It is expected that some of the students will learn to do the duplicating.

Mary Cullen of Milton will begin her practice teaching next week with a view to completing her course the latter part of January. Miss Cullen has had most of her work in the Whitewater Normal.

Plans are being made to have a Thanksgiving banquet on Wednesday, Nov. 27. A suitable literary program will probably be presented on this occasion.

Few teachers adequately appreciate the need of drill in the fundamental subject of the elementary schools. If the teachers of the country schools would deliberately plan to make use of the law of repetition as an aid to the memory the high schools and the training schools would not find so many young people deficient in the school. Arts like reading, computation, spelling, writing and oral language drill is the necessary means of securing skill, but it must be intelligent, purposeful drill. Drill must proceed under the guidance and inspiration of high ideals.

The following books have been added to the reference library: "The Basis of Practical Teaching," "Charters in Rural Progress," "The Standard of Living," "The Country School and the Rural Problem," "All the Children of all the People." These books deal with rural problems and problems of teaching and will be especially helpful for the training school students. The instructors will read from these books for opening exercises, and reports on them will be given at rhetoricals by members of the literary society.

The closing examinations were in progress the last three days of this week. In the training school no student is exempt from this written work. It is valuable training.

TODAY'S EDGERTON NEWS

CULTURE CLUB GIVES
ITS ANNUAL BANQUET

Delightful Social and Halloween Event Enjoyed at Culton Hall Last Evening.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Edgerton, Nov. 2.—Undoubtedly one of the most successful events in the history of the Culture Club of Edgerton was the annual banquet given by the local club Friday evening, Nov. 1st, at Culton Memorial Hall. The members, dressed as ghosts, entertained their husbands, and for once the men had all the talking to do, as the ghosts refused to talk, merely answering by the movement of the head. At the conclusion of the banquet an interesting musical program was rendered by the members of the local club. Two special numbers of interest were Sousa's Band and Madam Shuman Heinek, which brought forth great applause. Mrs. James Conway, dressed in the height of fashion impersonated Madam Heinek, and the members of the club comprised the "band." The happy event closed at a late hour, the gentlemen complementing the ladies as royal entertainers.

Cigar Makers Dance.

The members of the local cigar makers' union, which includes all cigar makers employed in the two local manufacturing plants, gave a most

TODAY'S EVANSVILLE NEWS

GAVE NOVEL PARTY
THURSDAY EVENING

Miss Esther Franklin Entertained Twenty Friends on Halloween—Other Items.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Evansville, Nov. 2.—Miss Esther Franklin very pleasantly entertained twenty girl friends at a typical Halloween party last Thursday evening. Those invited were requested to come masked and costumed. Many represented ghosts, one was dressed as an Indian, and one portrayed Buster Brown. The guests entered the house through the cellar, passing through an avenue made of leaves and branches. Unattended except by ghosts which flitted to and fro, the guests had to find their way to the attic, where they removed their wraps, immediately returning to the cellar, where a fortune teller read their palms. The supper was unique in itself, one feature of which was broth, served by a witch from a caldron to each of the guests in tin cups. Molasses cakes also, with the thimble, penny and ring in were eagerly received. The ideas were certainly original and provided a number of young ladies a very delightful evening.

Misses Ada Fletcher and Gladys Franklin of Janesville attended the party given by Miss Esther Franklin. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fryer and daughter, Nellie, with Mrs. Frank Bidwell of Rockford, were Orfordville visitors Thursday.

Miss Nina Worthing of Brodhead spent Friday with local friends.

Mrs. Vie H. Campbell returned today from an extended visit in Minnesota.

Dan Williams of Redfield, South Dakota, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Williams of this city.

The Woman's Relief Corps had a cake and cooked food sale in Lee's meat market today, the first of a series to be held every two weeks for the next two months. Judging from the first they will be well patronized.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Baker recently returned from Barron, Wis., where they visited their daughter, June.

Miss Nina Park returned Thursday from Sun Prairie where she visited her brother, A. Park.

Mrs. C. Cowell is visiting in Albany.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Kiney and daughter, from the Rosebud Indian reservation, North Dakota, are visiting the latter's brother, E. H. Morrison, and family.

Mrs. B. H. Standish visited relatives in Oregon Thursday.

Miss Mable Alson of Brooklyn, was a caller here Thursday.

Mrs. D. B. Bennett has presented to our eager public library, the following volumes: Development of Sunday school, 1870-1905; Organized Sunday school work in North America, 1905-1908; Organized Sunday School work in America, 1908-1911;

pleasant social dance last evening in the T. A. and B. hall. The members of the union with their ladies were out in full, as well as invited friends. The orchestra consisted of five members and was also made up of members of the union. A most pleasant evening was enjoyed by all the participants.

Edgerton News Notes.

William Hutson left today for Joliet, Ill., to again take up his home there.

Miss Marie Kealy and Mrs. William Barrett spent the day yesterday in Stoughton with relatives.

Miss Marion Doty went to Madison yesterday to remain over Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Allan Earle.

Mrs. Gertrude McCarthy returned yesterday from a stay of a number of days in Chicago. She was accompanied here by her sister, Mrs. Patrick Sweeney, and son, who returned again today.

Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Miller are rejoicing over the arrival of a son into their family circle born yesterday.

Carl Spillman is home over Sunday from Watertown where he is attending college.

Sunday at the Churches.

At the M. E. church there will be services both in the morning and evening, conducted by the pastor, Rev. North.

At the Congregational church Rev. Schoenfeld will conduct two services—morning and evening.

At the German Lutheran church

Sunday School the world around; World-wide Sunday School work. Also the following new books have been placed on our shelves: How it is Done, Williams; Household management, Ferris; Art of Louvre, Potter; Science of Living, Sadler; American birds, Finley; Field book of wild birds and their nests, Mathews; The great illusion, Angell.

Mrs. Ida Gray goes to Beloit, Sunday for an indefinite time.

Mrs. Nancy Hyne is on the sick list.

Mrs. B. H. Standish recently returned from a visit in Winnipeg and Canada.

Mrs. Jessie Walton returned Thursday from a visit in Calville.

Miss Loreta Norton of Brooklyn was in town the latter part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Fulton expect to move to Janesville, Monday.

Mrs. Ida Sperry and Will Heron are spending this week with relatives in Chicago.

Miss Cora Beath went to Madison Friday to attend the mass meeting and remain over Sunday with her brothers, Sterling and Orville.

Bert Dunn has sold out his share of the firm, Dunn & Townsend to Ray Hyne. The new firm will be known as "Townsend & Hyne," and will occupy the basement of the Potter building. F. Hyne, owner of the building, is raising the building, the basement of which will be used as a garage by the new firm. The Tomlin brothers, Rev. J. C. Spillman will conduct regular services in the morning and children's services in the evening.

At the Norwegian Lutheran church, Rev. J. Linnestad will preach both in the morning and evening.

GET A PERMANENT BENEFIT FROM YOUR EARNINGS.

Money invested in our Savings Department draws interest at the rate of 4% compounded twice a year.

THE BANK OF EVANSVILLE

EVANSVILLE, WIS.

FOUNDED 1870.

Geo. L. Pullen, Pres.

Does your car need repairing or a general overhauling? If you want a first class guaranteed job in one day call on

JANESVILLE CARRIAGE WORKS.

Cor. S. Milwaukee and Bluff Sts.
Both Phones.

have opened a fine new electrical shop in the upper part of the building.

The opening of the Junior gymnasium team occurs next Monday evening 7:00 to 9:00. The class consisting of boys from thirteen to twenty years of age is in charge of and directed by Forrest Durner.

DISCUSS PROBLEMS OF BOYS' WELFARE

Methodist Brotherhood Enjoys Meeting at Home of Mayor and Mrs. A. E. Skinner.

Edgerton, Nov. 2.—The Methodist Brotherhood meeting was held at the home of Mayor and Mrs. A. E. Skinner at eight o'clock Friday evening Nov. 1st. Questions for consideration were, "What can be done for the boys of Edgerton?" "Is the Methodist church doing its duty to boys?" "Are the parents doing their duty to boys?" Although the subjects were for general discussion the principal speakers of the evening were: Prof. Frank Holt, Dr. Morrison, J. Fointon, Willard North, and Rev. North of the M. E. church. Following the program of the evening refreshments were served.

Cloyton Williams visited Madison University yesterday as a guest of Henry Mortisey also took in the great Chicago and Wisconsin game today.

Mrs. L. Wood, of Waukesha departed last evening for her summer home at Pleasant View and with her son Lyman of this city.

Miss Marion Doty, spent Friday and Saturday of this week with her sister Mrs. Allan Earle of Madison.

Mrs. N. A. Nelson entertained the Missionary society of the Congregational church, Friday afternoon. At the close of the program refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Earle accompanied by Prof. Holt of this city, and Mrs. Monet of Janesville, witnessed the Chicago and Wisconsin football game today at Madison.

Time Well Expended.

Life is not so short, but that there is always time for courtesy.—Emerson.

Mrs. A. A. Swager, Krok, Wis., a well known resident of Kewaunee Co., says: "I always use Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for my children, as I know it will always cure their coughs and colds, and they like to take it." Refuse substitutes. Badger Drug Co.

Very Likely.

Old Lady (on being congratulated on her hundredth birthday)—Ah, I shall never forget this day as long as I live.

Bees Multiply Quickly.

A hive which contains 10,000 bees in February has 15,000 in March, 40,000 in April and from 60,000 to 80,000 in May.

Few.

Few men would worry today over the mistakes of yesterday if it were not necessary to keep on paying for them.

J.M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

Make Your Plans to be in Janesville During Merchants' and Manufacturers' Week, November 11th to 16th. Something Doing.

Special Demonstration Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday,
November 4, 5, and 6

Of the World Famous Imported front laced
Modart
Corset

MISS SALLOW, an expert corsetiere, will be with us to explain the merits of these famous corsets, to help you the greatest wear out of your corset; tell you what tell you your best figure points; explain how to get the greatest wear out of your corset; tell you what styles to avoid; fit your figure perfectly.

Feel free to attend and interview Miss Sallow. She will be pleased to enlighten you on the corset subject. Corset Department, South Room.

ANNUAL FUR SALE

Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 4 and 5.

This Fur Sale affords an opportunity to the ladies of Janesville to purchase their furs from one of the largest and greatest fur lines in the country. The line includes

SABLE FOX	HUDSON SEAL
ISABELLA FOX	NATURAL WOLF
NATURAL FOX	BLACK WOLF
RED FOX	BLACK FOX
ICELAND FOX	MANCHURIAN LYNX
NEAR SEAL	MANCHURIAN MINK
RIVER MINK	JAPANESE MINK
RUSSIAN PONY	BEAVER
MARMOT	MARTENS
FITCH	MARTEN OPPOSSUMS
SIBERIAN LYNX	ISABELLA OPPOSSUMS
BLUE WOLF	BLUE OPPOSSUMS
PERSIAN LAMB	CIVIT
	KOHNISKY

Never have we been able to show such a collection. The traveling representative will be here and you will have the opportunity to purchase any sample in the line.

This Means a Saving of at Least 25%.
Prices Range From $7.50 to $500.

Simpson's GARMENT STORE.

Merchants and Manufacturers' week Nov. 11 to 16. Be sure and be in Janesville between these dates. There will be something interesting for you in this store.

WOMAN'S PAGE

SNAPSHOTS
BY BARBARA BOYD

One of the Small Clouds of Domesticity

HE was tying up a vine that had blown down, and he moved the step-ladder as if it weighed a ton, and cut the string with a vicious dab of the knife as if he would really enjoy inflicting suffering upon it. "Do you want the wisteria over the window or up by the porch?" he asked, and his tone implied that wherever it was wanted, it was altogether a waste of time to put it there.

His wife said meekly where she would like to have it. He tied it and muttered things about a rosebush that took occasion to prod him with a few thorns. Evidently the rosebush sided with the wife. "That iris should never have been planted there," he said, as he climbed down from the step-ladder, pointing to a clump of flag. "It's in the way."

Then he looked about for more grounds of complaint. "I'd have those lilies dug up in the spring," he went on, "and put somewhere else. They don't look well there."

"Seems to me that lilies are sickly looking. Cut it down. Nothing makes a place look so ordinary as scrubby-looking shrubbery."

At this point, his wife distracted his attention from proposing further improvements by asking him to tie up another vine which was not very securely fastened.

He dragged the step-ladder to it, mounted with the air of a martyr going to his doom, and secured the vine to the lattice. Then he came down, hastily took the ladder to the tool-house, and announced he must go down town.

"There were a few more things I wanted you to do," said his wife. "I haven't time. Hire somebody to do them. I can't spend all the morning working around the house. Business will go to the dogs if I do."

Then he washed his hands, brushed his clothes, cheered up, put on his hat and started for the office.

"I just don't see why you didn't make him finish while he was about it," said his wife's sister. "It'll be like pulling teeth to get him at it again. You're too easy with Dick. He imposes on you."

The wife smiled serenely. "It's funny," she said. "He likes the flowers and lawn to look nice just as well as I do. But he feels terribly injured when I ask him to do anything about them. He seems to think I ought not to expect him to work about the yard. Yet he'll fuss half a day over his tennis court and never think a thing about his business going to the dogs."

"You're too easy with him," repeated the wife's sister. "I'd just make him do it."

"Oh, no you wouldn't," replied the wife. "Not if you had to live with him afterward."

Barbara Boyd.

The Evening Chit-Chat
BY RUTH CAMERON

ON KEEPING TIME ACCOUNTS.

TIME is money. Doubtless you have heard that saw so often that you think it is good, but is it? Apparently that sentiment is supposed to make us realize the value of time. In reality it undervalues that precious commodity. Time is much more than money. For money is merely one of the good things of life; time is life itself.

And yet how very few people have any system in regard to their expenditure of time.

Almost every careful housewife keeps an account of her household money. She plans just how much shall be expended in each department, she files the bills, she jots down the expenditures in her expense account and insists upon tracing each missing penny to its lair.

But how many housewives have the slightest system about how they spend that which is even more precious than money, their time?

An alert young college graduate whose work as librarian has taught her the value of system, has recently become a housewife, and has made system the watchword of her days. Breakfast is over at a certain hour. The next half hour is devoted to picking up the room. In the next fifteen minutes the dishes are washed; ten minutes is then allowed for reading the morning paper, etc., and so on throughout the whole day.

Of course, the older housewives make great fun of her, but I notice that she gets more time to herself and a great deal more out of life than they do.

"What use is it to keep account of the way you spend your time?" says one of the stick-to-the-rut housewives. "It's gone and that's all there is to it."

And yet this woman would call anyone shiftless who did not keep an accurate account of household expenses.

Why not say, "the money is gone and that's all there is to it?"

The expense account shows you how you are spending your money. It makes you realize if you are devoting a disproportionate sum to any purpose, and it helps you to stop leaks.

Very well, why shouldn't the time account do the same?

Of course any housewife knows it isn't possible to stick absolutely to any exact system. Accidents and interruptions will happen in the best regulated of families. But to have a plan and stick to it as closely as it is possible and feasible certainly helps us to be more economical of our time.

In the words of Victor Hugo, "He who every morning plans the transactions of the day and follows out that plan, carries a thread that will guide him through the labyrinth of the most busy life. The orderly arrangement of his time is like a ray of light which darts itself through all his operations. But where no plan is laid, where the disposal of time is surrendered merely to the chance of incidents, chaos will soon reign."

The KITCHEN CABINET

GIVE pleasure. Lose no chance in giving pleasure. For this is the ceaseless and anonymous triumph of a truly loving spirit.

—Henry Drummond.

WHAT TO HAVE FOR BREAKFAST.

The American breakfast, compared to the English meal, is quite in the beginner's class. Here is a simple breakfast menu for August, taken from an English cook book: Bloaters on toast, collared tongue (whatever that may be), hot buttered toast, marmalade, white bread and butter, brown bread, and bread and milk.

Another—Pigeon pie, stewed kidney, milk rolls, dry toast, brown and white bread, mustard and cress, milk porridge.

A person who could digest such breakfasts as these in August ought to make a good soldier. It is said, and justly, that Americans eat too much, but we certainly are low on breakfasts, compared to the English.

We need follow no law except that of the individual in preparing our breakfasts, as each individual has desires peculiar to himself. Fruit is enjoyed by some and a source of distress to another. Cereal is enjoyed by one and a "soggy mass of indigestibility" to another. Coffee, the fragrant, refreshing cup, a joy to many, is blamed for much of which it is innocent.

Then there are the "no breakfast" advocates, an arrangement which certainly has its good points, for it does away with the hurried meal presided over by no house mother or a frowny one. Such a beginning is not a good start for the day's work.

A dainty breakfast, well served, is of far more value to the individual than the more food properties served. A far better day is in store for the man who leaves his breakfast table in an agreeable frame of mind, and he will return, usually, in the same mood. No greeting, however smiling, or dinner well prepared, will atone for a hurried scramble at the breakfast table.

It has been well said that children, to be well trained, should begin with their grandfather's. To have and serve a successful meal, we must begin the day before. A meal well planned is usually a successful one.

Nellie Maxwell.

DIET AND HEALTH HINTS

By DR. T. J. ALLEN
Food Specialist

MILK ONLY FOR 30 YEARS.

For more than thirty years, Thomas F. Laubach, of Hazleton, Pa., has not eaten any solid food, having lived on milk exclusively, of which he drinks four quarts a day. Though 84 years old he would not pass for more than sixty. Except for slight deafness, he is as good as he was forty years ago, and much better than thirty years ago, when he began living on milk only. He was advised by his physician to drink milk only for the cure of dyspepsia, and when he recovered he reasoned that the means by which he had regained health would be effective in maintaining it. The prevailing notion that dieting or choosing what one eats instead of eating at random is only for those who are sick, is a mistake. If the almost unanimous opinion among physicians is correct, that from 80 to 90 per cent of sickness is caused by wrong eating, it follows that the removal of the cause would prevent the sickness. It is not to be supposed that an exclusive diet of milk is best in all cases, for there are some in which it must be injurious, but as I have repeatedly shown, almost any article of food that contains the elements of nutrition in nearly the normal proportion is better than the ordinary mixed diet, and all such examples prove the importance of the mono-diet as a means of maintaining health as well as of restoring it, though judgment must be used in the application of it.

No Comparison.

Vicar—"The most wonderful organ I ever saw was the property of a private gentleman. It had nearly a hundred stops." Sexton—"Um! The most remarkable organ I ever heard is my old woman's tongue. It ain't got no stops at all."—London Tatler.

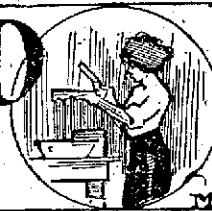

Sad Case.

Knicker—"Did the candidate get rattled?" Bocker—"Yes, he told the babies they lied and kissed the man who ran against him."

Daily Thought.

Don't put too fine a point to your wit for fear it should get blunted.—Cervantes.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Breslau Beef—One pint chopped cooked meat, one gill stock, two tablespoonfuls butter, half cup dry bread crumbs, half pint cream, one tablespoonful of chopped parsley, one tablespoonful of salt, half-tablespoonful pepper, yolks of three eggs. Bake 30 minutes in a quick oven in individual molds set in a pan of boiling water. Serve with tomato sauce.

It reaches the boiling point. In five minutes take from fire and strain. Baked Ham—Soak ham over night. Boil until tender, skin, leaving fat. Sprinkle heavily with brown sugar and cover with cracker crumbs. Lay in a pan, adding quarter cup vinegar and one cup water. Bake slowly three-quarters to one hour.

White Bread—One cup yeast, three cups lukewarm water and a tablespoon sugar. Put this in a warm place for 15 minutes. When this yeast has dissolved add salt and flour enough to knead. Add one heaping tablespoonful of lard. Put in a warm place and let rise for an hour. Then knead and put into pans and let rise for an hour. Bake.

Scotch Shortcake—Half cup sugar, half cup butter creamed together, two eggs well beaten, 1½ cups flour, 1½ teaspoons of baking powder, sifted with the flour, one teaspoon vanilla, half cup sweet milk.

White Pound Cake—Whites of 15 eggs, one pound butter, one pound sugar, one pound pastry flour, half teacup brandy. Beat whites of eggs add sugar, sifting through a flour sifter, beat until sugar is thoroughly dissolved, cream the butter and flour, mix with the eggs and sugar and add the brandy. Bake for two hours in a very moderate oven. This makes a very large loaf.

Fruit Cake—One pound brown sugar, three-fourths pound butter, one pound flour—more probably will be necessary; one cup molasses, 10 eggs, one teaspoonful soda dissolved in one cup sour milk, two tablespoons cinnamon, one tablespoon cloves, one tablespoon nutmeg, two pounds raisins, half pound currants, one pound citron, shaved fine. Dredge fruit with flour. Bake four hours.

Red Pepper Sauce. Two dozen sweet red peppers, seven large onions, one quart cider vinegar, 2½ cups light brown sugar, two tablespoons white mustard seed, two tablespoons salt. Take seeds out of peppers, grind onions and peppers separately, and let all boil 20 minutes.

Things Worth Knowing. When Making Mush—Grease bottom of kettle with lard and mush will not be so apt to burn. Also use a large wire spoon (heavier than the egg beater) to stir and mush will not be lumpy. Spoon will answer the same purpose when mixing sponge for bread; on stirring pumpkin.

Next time you have a lot of postage stamps all stuck together save your temper, also stamps, by pressing stamps with a hot iron. Will not hurt the "stickem" in the least.

Have suffered all fall from a badly cankered mouth, and this recipe has worked wonders. One ounce sage leaves, one large lump alum. Place in cup and pour boiling hot water over. Let steep like a tea, then wash mouth once or twice a day.

STATESMAN'S WIFE
NOT ANTI-ANYTHING

Mrs. Oscar Straus.

Mrs. Oscar Straus, wife of the New York statesman and diplomat, is the type of woman most truly admired by nine-tenths of the world—devotedly home-loving, yet warmly sympathetic toward all feminine effort that makes for progress and complete freedom.

She is not anti-anything. She does not turn up her nose at the woman who feels militant tactics are best in the suffrage fight. She feels a sisterhood with the woman who works in a shop and with the drawing-room lady whose thoughts revolve mainly around the bridge table, the modiste and the masseuse.

Work for Success. If success doesn't come to you don't blame the world. It is the same world in which others have made good. Get busy and go after it.

BARBERS PRAISE
NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

As the Best Remedy for the Hair and Scalp

"I have been using Newbro's Herpicide for the last four years and find it the best thing made."

Joseph Pizzitro,

1675 Richmond Terrace,

West Brighton, L. I., N. Y.

"I can truthfully say that Herpicide is the best remedy for the hair I have ever used."

O. A. Rathenbeher,

Virden, Ill.

"I have used many preparations in my shop, and find Herpicide best of all for falling hair and all scalp or skin diseases."

J. A. Oliver,

Leslie, Ark.

"Newbro's Herpicide has always given the best of satisfaction."

S. M. Chambers,

Teekwila, Wash.

While the barber necessarily carries other hair remedies, Newbro's Herpicide is one he swears by because he knows its merits. He can conscientiously recommend it to kill the dandruff germ and stop its long hair. In making an application of Herpicide he feels and knows that the customer is receiving full value for his money and will be benefited far in excess of his expectations.

Newbro's Herpicide in 50c and $1.00 sizes is sold by all dealers who guarantee it to do all that is claimed. If you are not satisfied your money will be refunded.

Send 10¢ in postage for sample and book on the hair to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R, Detroit, Mich.

J. P. BAKER & SON, Special Agts.

Plush Coats

The second season a plush coat is likely to show signs of apparent wear—somehow it doesn't look just right. All it needs to look like new is

Faultless
Dry Cleaning

Velvet and corduroy suits can also be rejuvenated through our careful experts. Rough, heavy materials of all descriptions we easily restore to their original beauty.

Janesville Chemical Steam Dye Works

C. F. BROCKHAUS & SON
East Milw. St. opposite Myers House.
Both Phones.

J.M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

Are You a Growing Girl?

If You Are—we are sure that you wish to grow shapely. Now don't make a mistake in your corset—it is important that you have a proper flexible shaping model, but one also that well supports your figure; one that braces the back, and that doesn't throw out your shoulder blades or a hip bone, but moderates each curve.

Now We Only Know One That Does This—only one make that has the comfortable shaping corset for the growing girl—and that is Warner's Rust-Proof.

We have a model that we are confident will help your figure to develop shapely lines.

ASK TO SEE

Warner's styles peculiarly suited to the developing figure. We guarantee them.

PRICE $1 to $5

Warner's
Rust-Proof
Corset

A WOMAN'S OBSERVATIONS
By Edna K. Woolley

A PRETTY GOOD SORT.

A Texas minister, addressing the Missouri Baptist general association at Kansas City, spoke of "gasoline Baptists" and declared that "the cost of maintaining a motor car is much more than the cost of maintaining a preacher in the less settled districts of Missouri. Unless these gasoline Baptists aid the cause, we may not expect to make material progress as rapidly as we should. Every Baptist who owns a motor car is able to support a missionary."

If it costs less to keep a Baptist minister in a country church than it does to maintain an automobile, it's something for the Baptists to be ashamed of, and not the automobile.

As to abandoning an automobile in order to support a missionary—Can it be proved that the auto owner is not as much of a missionary, in an indirect way, as the man who is sent out to convert the heathen to our way of thinking?

Every automobile that is driven today is the product of men who are earning honest wages, who are supporting little homes, raising good citizens, enabled to live a white man's life because the automobile has made a new industry which provides work for many thousands who would otherwise be idle or working intermittently at various times.

Automobiles have made life brighter for a good many of us. They have taken us to new scenes, given us a taste of travel, shortened distances between friends; and many a big-hearted auto owner makes it a daily practice to invite trudging acquaintances, or even strangers, to "get in if you're going my way."

Of course we find unscrupulous drivers and snobbish owners; but on the whole the possessor of a machine is a good sort, as generous as the space in his equipage. He is as courteous as any occupant of a carriage ever was, and usually not half so haughty—due, perhaps, to the fact that he may have to stop almost any moment to fix a puncture or get full of grease.

He's a pretty good sort of missionary—bless him!—though he doesn't pose as one by any means. And the only real grouchy any of us can have about him is that he helps materially to support the gasoline trust.

HANDS BURNING ITCHING, DISFIGURED

Cracked and Swollen. Could Not Sleep. For 2 Years Nobody Could Cure His Eczema. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Completely Cured.

905 Lowell Place, Chicago, Ill.—"I was troubled by my hands burning and itching and I rubbed and scratched them all one day I saw little red sores coming out. My hands were disfigured and swollen, and I could not sleep. I was in a terrible state of mind when the small sores broke a white matter would come out. I could not do any hard work; if I did the sores would come out worse."

"For two years nobody could cure my eczema, until one day I thought I would try the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I used warm water with the Cuticura Soap and after that I put the Cuticura Ointment on my hands twice a day for about two or six months when I was completely cured." (Signed) Sam Marcus, Nov. 28, 1911.

Not only are Cuticura Soap and Ointment most valuable in the treatment of eczema and other distressing eruptions of skin, and scalp, but no other emollients do so much for pimples, blackheads, red, rough skins, itching, scaly scalp, dandruff, dry, thin and falling hair, chapped hands and chapped lips, nor do so economically. A single cake of Cuticura Soap (2½¢) and box of Cuticura Ointment (50¢) are often sufficient when all else has failed. Sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address postcard "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Tender-faced men should use Cuticura Soap Shaving Stick, 25¢. Sample free.

WEST CENTER

West Center, Nov. 1.—Mrs. Henry, formerly of this place, but now of Minnesota, returned to her home after spending a couple of weeks with her parents and other relatives. She says they like it there, and have very good crops this year.

The many friends of Mrs. William Hennings of Footville are glad to learn that she is slowly improving from the injuries received in her recent fall down cellar.

About forty friends and schoolmates of Freddy Miller gave him a surprise party Monday evening.

Chas. Winkelman and mother called at the home of Mrs. Rowald, Sunday morning.

Gus Erdman and family spent Sunday at the home of August Bretzke.

Mrs. Wutstrack spent Wednesday and Thursday at the home of her brother, Robert Willing.

Wm. Harnack went to Janesville to day.

Auctioneer John Ryan will cry a sale for Herman Laevow, Nov. 6th.

Shedding has begun in this vicinity.

Municipal Affairs Of Vital Interest

MAINTAIN THAT CITY QUARRY LOSES MONEY

Madison City Officials Believe It More Profitable to Buy Stone—Quality Very Poor.

That the city of Madison is losing money each year on the city stone quarry because the stone which is obtained from it is practically worthless for use on the surface of streets was the opinion expressed by city hall officials recently. While the city quarry runs about even on its expenses each year, losing a little one year and gaining enough the next to make up the deficit of the previous year, the city is in the long run losing money both because of the depreciation of value of the quarry and because of the fact that a large sum has to be expended each year for the repair of streets which have been surfaced with stone from the city quarry. It is the opinion of a number of officials that the city would be saved a large sum each year by abandoning the quarry, or selling it and purchasing the stone for the streets from outside concerns.

It is said by those who have charge of the work on the city streets that the quality of stone taken from the city quarry is low, and that the stone is soft and will not stand up under the test for any length of time under the pressure to which it is subjected on the surface of streets even when used with a tar or asphaltic binder.

Besides the fact that the stone is not strong enough to be used for street surfacing, the city, it is said, is losing money on the value of the property which is depreciating every year in value because of the fact that stone is being taken away from it and the land is not worth much after the stone has been removed.

ST. PAUL NOW MAINTAINS ITS OWN PAVING PLANT

St. Paul, Minn.—The city is maintaining its own paving plant and for the snow flies several blocks of pavement will have been laid of excellent and economical pavement. It is estimated that more than $75,000 worth of pavement will be laid before the plant ceases operations. The saving will be between $7,500 and $10,000, which is more than enough to pay the mayor's salary and his office expenses. St. Paul is maintaining an asphalt manufacturing plant and is preparing its asphalt pavements. The work is said to be done better and quicker than under the contract system. When the city began its own work there was only one company equipped to do asphalt paving. Under the direction of its city engineer, St. Paul made an extensive study into the paving situation and unearthed conditions which prompted the establishment of a municipal paving plant.

When the city showed that it meant business by establishing a physical plant, dealers in supplies became eager to deal with the city. For the first time crooked blocks are being tried out as a paving material. Experiments are being conducted with other lines of paving substance. It is only a question of time when the city plant will be doing practically all of the paving.—Municipal Journal.

MARKED CHARACTERISTICS OF ENGLISH GARDEN CITIES

The most perfect type of the garden city, is at Hampstead, England. One of the cardinal principles in laying out such a suburb, was to leave the trees untouched so far as possible. The land is parcelled into large lots, so that, on an average, there are not more than two houses to an acre. The laws governing such a suburb building prevent land speculation and are all framed for the benefit of those who are to live there. Any kind of home may be built, from a cottage to a mansion, the building restrictions providing, however, against structures which would mar the architectural harmony. Large spaces are set aside for parks and playgrounds. The gardens are the distinguishing feature of these suburbs, as those dwelling in them are aided by the city in surrounding their homes with flowers.

Hampstead is laid out so that the view up and down every street ends in the sight of a handsome house. The suburb at Hampstead covers between 700 and 800 acres and is building for a population of 30,000. Factories are allowed but they are built in an area set apart for them, where they do not mar the beauty of the community. Care is taken to place them where the prevailing winds will blow the smoke and odors away from the city.

MILWAUKEE FIRE TRUCK MADE RUN TO RACINE

(Racine Times.) Pedestrians on Park avenue at 8 o'clock this morning were astonished to see a large red auto truck of the Milwaukee Fire Department race down the street at high speed. Wonderment arose as to whether a large fire had broken out or whether the strange fire engine was to be a new acquisition to the Racine Fire Department. Inquiry at headquarters proved that the auto was en route from Milwaukee to Kenosha and back in order to test the staying qualities of the machine before buying it. It is a new vehicle in its line, being called a "squad truck." It has a carrying capacity of ten men and a mean speed of sixty miles an hour.

A stop-over was made at the Racine fire barn on the return trip where Chief Cape looked it over. A demonstration was given for his benefit.

OSHKOSH MAY CONSTRUCT NEW BATHING PAVILION

(Oshkosh Northwestern.) If one of the requests made by the park board is accepted by the city council, the people of Oshkosh will next summer have the pleasure and satisfaction of viewing and making use of a fine concrete bathing pavilion in place of the ramshackle wooden structure that at present is anything but an ornament or adequate to popular demands in Menominee park. There is high hope that the council will grant the request and include in its budget of appropriations for next year an amount necessary to pay for the construction of such a bathhouse, as the park board plans to build it if it gets the opportunity and the money. The board estimates that $2,500 will be sufficient and that is the amount it asks the council to provide.

At a meeting of the park board yesterday afternoon its annual report to the council and budget for the ensuing year were adopted and will be presented to the council for its consideration. The total amount asked for is $10,791.12, of which $2,500 is set down for the much-desired new bathhouse or pavilion.

PITTSBURGH MAY DISCARD HORSE DRAWN VEHICLES

Pittsburgh, Pa.—A bond issue for $240,000 to be expended for substituting all horse-drawn vehicles of Pittsburgh's city departments with motor trucks, has passed the council and the mayor, upon the recommendation of Howard B. Oursler, director of the department of supplies, and will be submitted to the people for their approval at the next election. Nine motor hose and chemical wagons have already been put in service, and 26 horses displaced. In addition to the usual gas generators, tanks and chemical hose, the machines will carry 1,500 feet of regular fire hose for connection to plugs or steam engines.

LAKE BLUFF TO HAVE PARK BY AID OF STANLEY FIELD

With the aid of Stanley Field of Chicago, an extensive park will be built at Lake Bluff, Ill., and plans have been completed by the village to acquire the property needed along the lake front.

Owing to the large amount of money needed the improvements could not be made until Mr. Field offered to pay half of the expense. Mr. Field is building a beautiful country home at Lake Bluff on Sheridan road.

The property which will be converted into a park is almost in the center of the village. The citizens have offered to subscribe to a fund to make the improvements. The cost of the proposed park has not been estimated.

WORKING ON MADISON'S NEW SIGNAL SYSTEM

Five more police and fire signals remain to be installed by the fire department before it will be possible to connect up the new receiving table in the city police headquarters. The table is ready for use as soon as the boxes and lights are connected. It is probable that the new system will be in working order within the next two weeks.—Madison State Journal.

DENY THAT CONCRETE ROADS ARE WORST IN WISCONSIN

The charge that the concrete roads of Milwaukee county were the worst in the state was denied by speakers at a banquet of the county board of Kenosha county and a large number of citizens of Kenosha at the Hotel Pflister recently. The party inspected the roads of Milwaukee county with the idea of ascertaining the best grade of permanent road to be laid throughout Kenosha county, in which improvement it is planned to spend $50,000 this year. The members of the board expressed themselves pleased with the concrete roads.

Will Build New Bridge.

The city council at Green Bay last night instructed the mayor to enter into a contract with the Straus Bascul Bridge company for plans for a bridge across the Fox River, to cost $160,000.

BRODHEAD

Brodhead, Nov. 1.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fenton, Chicago, are guests at the home of the lady's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Christman, Mr. Fenton has sold his business in that city and will make headquarters here while looking for an opening elsewhere.

Mrs. Hyde, Mrs. L. Blackburne and the latter's children, were passengers to Janesville Wednesday, to visit friends.

Mrs. A. Moon returned Thursday from a stay of some time with Janesville friends. Her sister-in-law, Mrs. Miller, accompanied her and will be here for some time.

Mrs. Letha Smith of Milwaukee, is here at the home of her sister, Mrs. W. W. Lattner.

A Halloween social by the young ladies of the M. E. church at the church last evening, was a pleasant affair and well patronized.

Mrs. Charles French, returned to her home in Monroe Thursday, after a short visit with her daughter, Mrs. Robert Keen.

County Clerk J. W. Stewart and candidate for sheriff on the republican ticket, H. L. Ball, of Monroe, were Brodhead visitors on Thursday.

There will be no school next Thursday and Friday on account of the absence of the teachers, who expect to attend the state teachers' convention held in Milwaukee on those days.

Mrs. Edward Connor and baby, returned to their home in Rockford Thursday, after a short stay at the home of the lady's mother, Mrs. E. J. Dodge.

A slight flurry of snow this morning.

His Pleasure.

A famous king said: "If men only knew how pleasant to me it is to forgive faults, there is not one of them who would not commit crime."—From the Orient.

SIDEWALK KETCHES.

CAKE.

(By Howard L. Rann.)

CAKE is a vicious compound of eggs, flour, sugar and salt, which is highly thought of by everybody at the time it is being eaten. Some people eat cake with the utmost abandon and are able to mingle legally in the conversation for quite a length of time, while others have to be operated upon at once with a hot water bat.

Cake is usually made about fifteen minutes to six as a substitute for the evening meal. However, a housewife finds that she hasn't anything for supper but the vinegar cruet and a change of doilies. She stirs up a sponge cake and invites inspection of its contents. Sometimes this inspection is so satisfactory that most of the cake is left over for the next day and rendered into cottage pudding.

The most romantic form of cake is the bridal variety, which is built up in tri-colored layers and upholstered in frosting, into which is neatly etched the first name of the bride in red berries, producing a very pleasing memorial effect. Samples of this cake are always sent by mail to distant relatives of the contracting parties, whose presents were worth listing in the home paper.

It is a scientific fact that a section of bridal cake placed under the pillow of an old maid who is not married will cause her to dream of her future husband. If she eats the cake, she will not only dream of her future husband but of all his relatives, unto the third and fourth generations.

The most durable variety of cake is fruit cake. This structure is both fireproof and antiseptic, and will defy the tooth of time longer than a concrete garage. It is usually made in July and allowed to ripen and ferment in the vegetable cellar until Christmas, when it is carved with a cross-cut saw and eaten with a rap look by small boys, who are later seized with remorse and other lively emotions.

Angel food cake is a mixture of eggs and hope and can be eaten without saying good bye to the members of the family. Devil's food is a profane variety which is introduced by some other name when the new minister is present. It is a tenacious article of food, and should not be trifled with.

Read the bargains in the Want Ads.

TOWN LINE

Town Line, Beloit and Rock, Nov. 2.—Mr. and Mrs. D. Behling entertained for the day last Sunday the following relatives: Mr. and Mrs. Richard Behling and son, Harold; Mr. and Mrs. John Schooff and three sons of Janesville; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Antonson and two children of Beloit; Henry Bartling, Sr., Henry Bartling, Jr., Miss Minnie Bartling and Dorothy Snyder, town of Beloit. Miss Minnie Behling was also at home over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Knopes and family attended a party at the home of Henry Schumacher town of Janesville, Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Woll and son, John, and Lee Johnson, all of Beloit, spent Sunday at the home of Ira Larabee.

Mrs. Steinaker spent a couple of days last week with friends in Beloit. Miss Edith Beardsley of Beloit spent a couple of days last week with her cousin, Miss Florence Jones. Eugene Steinaker of Chicago Heights returned home Monday after a couple of days' visit at the home of his sister, Mrs. Ira Larabee.

Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Haugen and family called on friends in this neighborhood, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Barr visited at the home of Frank Jones last Sunday.

Arthur Jackson left Thursday morning for Kansas City in the interest of the F. M. Mfg. company of Beloit. He will be gone a week or ten days.

MAGNOLIA CENTER

Magnolia Center, Nov. 1.—F. B. Green, was a Chicago visitor, Thursday.

Mrs. A. Cole was called to Evansville this week by the illness of her mother, Mrs. G. Searies.

Miss Freda Postle has returned from her visit at Janesville.

L. Smith of Evansville was in town Wednesday.

Mr. Jones has a live badger which he found in one of his traps last Sunday.

day morning. Mr. and Mrs. John Hart are proud grand-parents of a grand-daughter, instead of a grand-son, which arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Hart, at Grand Forks, North Dakota, Oct. 6th.

Mr. Brigham of Evansville was in this vicinity Wednesday.

What explorer?

State of Ohio, city of Toledo, Lucas County, ss.

Frank J. Cheney makes oath that he is senior partner of the firm of F. J. Cheney & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid; and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by the use of HALL'S CATARRH CURE.

FRANK J. CHENEY, Notary Public.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D. 1886.

(Seal) A. W. GLEASON, Notary Public.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by all Druggists, 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

THE POCAHONTOS EGG COAL

we have it moulded into just the right size to burn in either a cook stove or a furnace and a trial order will convince you of its superior quality over the ordinary Pocahontas which breaks every time you handle it.

BRITTINGHAM & HIXON LUMBER CO.

Quick Deliverers.

Paid advertisement. Authorized by the Madison Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage. Mrs. Frank W. Hoyt, president, and $10.00 for this insert. tion paid by Jas. G. Flanders of Milwaukee, Wis.

A TRUE STORY IT HAPPENED IN OSHKOSH

RACE SAID TO CHASE

"Dr. Goddard cured me of my Rupture, without my losing a moment's time from my work, without pain or operation, and I believe he can cure you, too."

CHASE SAID TO RACE

"I can never thank you enough for recommending Dr. Goddard to me. He has also cured me of my Rupture without operation or pain."

In Jan. 1910—J. B. Chase, 27 West Polk St., Oshkosh, wrote the following letter to Dr. Goddard of Milwaukee, Wis.

Dr. N. A. Goddard, 121 Wisconsin Street, Milwaukee, Wis.

Dear Doctor:

In reply to your letter inquiring as to my rupture, will say that I am more than satisfied with the results of your treatment of my case.

I took my first treatment January 12 1910, and have taken in all six treatments and have not lost a moment's time from my business. Suffered no pain or inconvenience.

My general health has improved greatly, and the relief I have received at your hands I consider worth many times the amount of your charges. My side feels strong and firm and in every way as well as it did before I was ruptured.

You have treated me honestly and fairly and I am grateful to you for the relief you have given me.

I wish you all the success in the world in your work and you may refer any one doubting your ability to me at any time.

No mere words can express the happiness I feel in knowing that I am cured.

(Signed) Yours sincerely, J. B. CHASE, 27 West Polk Street, Oshkosh, Wis.

Such proof cannot be imitated or manufactured. If you have a Rupture and wish to be cured without the danger and suffering of an operation, write to Dr. Goddard for his free book entitled "Modern Methods of Treating Chronic Diseases Without Operation."

Then call on him and have a friendly talk on his next visit to Janesville, which will be Thursday, November 7th, at the Myers Hotel, but call before 4 o'clock p. m. Consultation is free and invited.

If you wish to investigate further write or call on Mr. E. W. Race, 12 Saratoga Street, Oshkosh, or on Mr. J. B. Chase, 27 West Polk Street, Oshkosh. Both gentlemen will gladly tell you of their experience in being cured by the Doctor. Such proof cannot be disputed.

Dr. Goddard also treats, without operation, Chronic Appendicitis, Gall Stone Colic, Gout, Varicose Veins, and Diseases of Women, and many other so-called Chronic Diseases.

Write for this book. It is intensely interesting. He also has one for Men Only. Address Dr. Goddard, 121 Wisconsin St., Milwaukee.

Next visit to JANESVILLE, Thursday, November 7th, at the Myers Hotel till 4 p. m.

On Aug. 27th, 1910—E. W. Race, 12 Saratoga St., Oshkosh, wrote the following letter to Dr. Goddard of Milwaukee, Wis.

Dr. Goddard, 121 Wisconsin Street, Milwaukee, Wis.

Dear Doctor:

I am glad to say that my Rupture is completely cured and I am again a well man.

I am perfectly satisfied with the manner you have treated me, and you have done as you promised me.

I took in all about six treatments and was not away from my work a single moment on account of your treatments. I shall be glad at any time to tell anyone you may refer to me how you have cured me without pain or an operation.

All I can say is that you promised to cure me and you have kept your promise. You have my heartfelt thanks and good wishes in your work.

Yours truly, E. W. RACE, 12 Saratoga St., Oshkosh, Wis.

Such proof cannot be imitated or manufactured. If you have a Rupture and wish to be cured without the danger and suffering of an operation, write to Dr. Goddard for his free book entitled "Modern Methods of Treating Chronic Diseases Without Operation."

Then call on him and have a friendly talk on his next visit to Janesville, which will be Thursday, November 7th, at the Myers Hotel, but call before 4 o'clock p. m. Consultation is free and invited.

If you wish to investigate further write or call on Mr. E. W. Race, 12 Saratoga Street, Oshkosh, or on Mr. J. B. Chase, 27 West Polk Street, Oshkosh. Both gentlemen will gladly tell you of their experience in being cured by the Doctor. Such proof cannot be disputed.

Dr. Goddard also treats, without operation, Chronic Appendicitis, Gall Stone Colic, Gout, Varicose Veins, and Diseases of Women, and many other so-called Chronic Diseases.

Write for this book. It is intensely interesting. He also has one for Men Only. Address Dr. Goddard, 121 Wisconsin St., Milwaukee.

Next visit to JANESVILLE, Thursday, November 7th, at the Myers Hotel till 4 p. m.

D. W. WATT Gives Details of Burr Robbins' Injury

Old timers all remember Burr Robbins and his circus and love to recall the days when this city was the home of what was then one of the big tent shows of the country. D. W. Watt was for many years connected with the Robbins show and his story this week deals with the accident which happened to Mr. Robbins in 1880 when he nearly lost his life while riding in a launch on the Rock river.

Shortly after the close of the season in eighteen hundred and seventy-nine Burr Robinson went to Chicago and ordered himself a steam launch for his own use on Rock River. It was to be delivered in Janesville soon after January the first of eighteen hundred and eighty. It arrived here on or about the fifteenth and was launched in Rock River near what was known as the Spring Brook winter quarters of the Burr Robbins circus.

On Sunday January the eighteenth my wife and myself were invited to the Burr Robbins home to take Sunday dinner. Mr. Robbins was very enthusiastic over his new boat and said that after dinner we would all take a ride up the river to the city. Mrs. Robbins and my wife, as well as myself declared that we had but little confidence in the captain and engineer. Mr. Robbins laughingly remarked "I am to be the captain," and Richard Brooks better known as "Sailor Dick," the boss animal man was to be the engineer.

After dinner was finished Mr. Robbins and myself went to the office, which stood south of Eastern avenue, and there remained for some little time. While we were gone Mrs. Robbins ordered the coachman to bring a carriage, and Mrs. Robbins and my wife came up town. This pleased Mr. Robbins and he said to me, "Now you will have to go on the boat or take a walk up the highway."

I said to him, "It was 20 miles it would be the highway for me," and that I had but little confidence in either the captain or the engineer. The boat was a fine launch built in Chicago at the expense of about $300. I walked up town and Mr. Robbins and "Sailor Dick" came in the boat. They landed at the rear of the Heimstreet drug store, which was located on North Main street. Here they visited with friends until nearly 6 o'clock and when they started for home it was quite dark.

The weather had been warm for several days and the melting of the snow had caused the river to rise all day rapidly. On their way home they passed safely under the Milwaukee street bridge, but when they came to the Court street bridge it was different. Mr. Robbins was standing in the front with his back to the bridge and directly in front of the smoke stack of the boat.

One of the timbers in the bridge struck the back of his head and drove it into the top of the smoke stack, cutting the upper portion of his nose off and separating the skull from the lower part of his face. The alarm was soon given and W. T. Van Kirk, a young man by the name of Blay, and Paul Young, who was then connected with the fire department and others soon came to the rescue with ropes, which were tied around Mr. Robbins and he was lifted to the bridge.

He was then put in a carriage and taken to the office of Dr. Palmer. The doctor examined him and told him he had but a short time to live and if he had any business that he wished to look after he should do so immediately.

Mrs. Robbins who was at home in Spring Brook was sent for as was William Reger his attorney who hurriedly drew his will. After the will was drawn Mr. Reger said to him, "Mr. Robbins I will sign your name and you can touch the pen where I mark the cross." Mr. Robbins, although totally blind said, "Mr. Reger place the pen in my hand and put it on the paper where you want my signature and I'll write Burr Robbins as well as I ever did."

He was then removed to the parlors of the Myers House where everyone including Dr. Palmer expected that every hour would be his last. Dr. Palmer removed many bones from his head, two of which were nearly if not quite three quarters of an inch square. And strange as it may seem there were but few hours from the time of the accident until his recovery that he lost consciousness.

He remained in the Myers House for several weeks. Peter Myers, the proprietor at that time closed up the main entrance which was on Main street and the only entrance to the hotel was on Milwaukee street, which was heavily carpeted to insure quiet. Many loads of shavings and saw dust were placed on the streets. Everything that was possible was done by his many friends for his comfort. About seven or eight weeks later he was removed to his home in Spring Brook and Dr. Palmer was given credit all over the country for performing one of the most difficult surgical operations of the time.

He continued to improve and on Saturday May the first the opening day of his show in Janesville, Burr Robbins was able to sit bolstered up in a carriage and with some friends headed the line of march. And when the parade entered the business portion of the city, thousands of people cheered him all along the line, as this was the first time they had seen him since the terrible accident.

He attended the performance of his show in the afternoon for a few minutes and H. A. Patterson, then a prominent lawyer of this city delivered an address of welcome and congratulated him on his narrow escape. In behalf of the citizens of Janesville, he was then taken back to his home in Spring Brook and did not join the show till five or six weeks later.

This was my first year as manager of the show and Mrs. Robbins, who was one of the finest business women that I ever knew took tickets at the main entrance every afternoon and evening.

Burr Robbins died about 3 years ago at his home on the North Shore Drive where his wife, one son and one daughter still make their home. A year ago Mrs. Robbins and her daughter, who is the wife of a prominent lawyer in Chicago, paid a visit to their old home and winter quarters in Spring Brook.

The show a few years later after the marriage and other ways, Burr Robbins finally traded it to Tom Grenier, a theatrical man of the West Side in Chicago. Grenier put it no the road one summer and then he sold out, being divided between several of the larger shows. This was the end of the famous Burr Robbins show which made Janesville its home for so many years.

And while this may not be interesting to some of the older citizens, I thought the younger ones might be interested in knowing something about Janesville in the days when it was prominent as the home of the Burr Robbins circus and menagerie.

Eye Witness' Description of The Battle of Chickamauga

A thrilling description of the battle of Chickamauga, in the valley of the Chickamauga creek on September 19 and 20, 1863, was published in the Janesville Daily Gazette on Oct. 9. The story of the battle was told in a letter to the Gazette written on Sept. 28, eight days after the great fight. Mr. Kimball, then a member of the signal corps attached to the Twentieth Army Corps of the Union Army, and saw the whole engagement from the top of Lookout Mountain. The movements of both the Union armies and the rebels were visible to him, and are graphically described in his letter, which is printed below.

Signal Corps, 20th A. C., Chattanooga, Tenn., Sept. 28, 1863. Editor Gazette: Since I wrote to you last we have wandered somewhat around the sacred territory of Dixie, and are now quietly resting from our toils in this much by Jeff Davis coveted place.

About a month ago a party of our signal corps was ordered to go on a station on a spur of the Cumberland mountains, near Jasper, called Wadon's ridge. About that time the whole army began to move from Stevenson, Bridgeport and Bellefonte, to invest this place. I need scarcely spend time or space to tell you of all the minor movements of the army which resulted in the rebel evacuation and federal occupation of this very important stronghold, on the 9th inst. What a thrill of joy passed through our whole system when we read the telegram to Gen. Rosecrans, on the evening of the 8th inst., telling him the enemy had evacuated Chattanooga.

On the 14th inst. Gen. McCook, having completed his reconnaissance of the enemy's movements in the direction of Rome, Ga., and Gen. Rosecrans finding the enemy concentrating a large force in the vicinity of the Pigeon mountains, to try to defeat us and retake this place as well as crush the army of the Cumberland, he ordered Gen. McCook to cross Lookout Mountain and join the balance of the army, then in the valley between Lookout and Pigeon mountains, with all possible dispatch. This movement was necessary to prevent the enemy from massing on Gen. Thomas' and Crittenden, crushing them and again occupying this place. The 20th Army Corps moved with all possible dispatch over the mountainous country it was compelled to traverse and by the 17th was nearly all encamped in McLamore's cove, about 20 miles from here. Gen. Thomas was encamped farther down the valley, and Gen. Crittenden still farther down, was encamped on the western bank of the Chickamauga creek. Pigeon mountains were on the front of our army and the rebels held several gaps through the range.

From our signal station on an elevated point of Lookout Mountain we could see through Bluebird and Dog Gaps and see the rebel forces concentrating for this terrible blow. For three days we could see the troops as they moved down the road toward the stream where the 21st army corps were posted, and every night we could see and note their camp fires.

On the 17th and 18 they made a complete reconnaissance of our lines and secured a number of fords on the Chickamauga. Gen. Rosecrans, finding how well aware the intentions of the enemy was to mass his whole vastly superior force on our left, turned, pushed a strong column into this place, and at the same time pressed our army up the valley where we would have no water, where we would be cut off from our supplies, and with a high mountain range at our back, he, at his mercy, made the necessary arrangements to checkmate any such move on the chessboard of war.

On the morning of Saturday, the 19th, the battle began on Gen. Crittenden, who was for a time compelled to fight the whole rebel force, but Gen. Thomas and McCook soon came up. The ground lost by Crittenden was regained, the enemy steadily forced back and night closed with the odds in favor of our arms. "Here, we had lost a number of our very valuable officers," among whom was Col. H. C. Heg, of the 6th Wisconsin volunteer, commanding the 3rd brigade, Gen. J. C. Davis' division. You know him well, as our old state prison commissioner. He had the name of being a fine officer, and certainly had a fine regiment of strong and brave men.

We had lost some guns, but had captured others. We had lost some prisoners, but had captured many more. Gen. B. W. Johnson's division of this army corps, which was so severely handled at Stone River, now covered itself with glory. It killed wounded and took prisoners more men than it took into action. The night closed in with our men very hopeful even against the terrible numbers of Hill, Longstreet and Bragg.

On Sunday, the 20th, about nine o'clock, the enemy began the attack again on Gen. Thomas, who repulsed them three times, but finding his men somewhat worn, he sent for more troops, and Gen. McCook had just started to help him, when Hill and Longstreet attacked his corps with their whole force. The onset was terrible, men and officers fell like grass before the scythe, brigades were crushed before they could get into line of battle, and corps was cut off from the remainder of the army, with the loss of many men and officers among whom is Gen. Lytle, of Sheridan's division. He fell while trying to rally his men. Gen. Rosecrans tried to rally those overpowered regiments. He rode into the thickest of the fight, and urged the men to charge once more, but it was of no avail. The battle now raged terrible, the roar of cannon was like long continued thunder peals, while the rattle of the musketry was like the rushing of a mountain torrent which bore down all before it.

It was about 11 o'clock and the enemy captured our hospital at Crawfish Springs, with about 2,000 wounded men. But true to their instincts they had to shell the camp before they could let it alone. Gen. McCook made the best of his way by a circuitous route to the rear of Gen. Thomas where the most of his men again re-formed, and were again in the fight before night.

The terrible storm now turned and vented its fury on Gens. Thos. and Granger. Their men were at once in position in the form of a hollow circle, on the crest of a hill. Against this line the rebel wave dashed in all its wild fury, until night, but the wall stood firm and no one was forced back.

Gens. Thomas and Granger were on all parts of the field, encouraging the men and holding up the line against the terrible storm of shot and shell and bullets which fell on it. Night came at last; blessed harbinger of rest, and our weary, overworked, but hopeful men still kept back the tide of rebel fury. In vain had been the terrible onsets of Longstreet, the cunning of Hill, and the rage of Bragg, with all their vast host of followers.

Our little band was not crushed our wounded were most all in Chattanooga, our trains were all safe and the army was secure. The rebels may claim just what they please in this battle, but they were defeated, and that by one-half their force. They collected the flower of their army, and many of their best leaders here to crush at a single blow this army, but now we hold the place fought for and they stay a defeated and crestfallen foe outside, mourning the loss of a dozen able generals and thousands of their best men.

Sunday night the army fell back to Rossville, where it remained until Monday, but were handsomely repulsed. At Rossville we could hold the enemy, but not so easily as we can here.

Since we arrived here, Tuesday morning, our men have been busy throwing up works, and now we have three good lines of defence, with smooth open fields in front. Let the foe come on now and we will slay them as fast as they have any desire to fall.

J. M. KIMBALL

A GREAT BUILDING FALLS when its foundation is undermined, and if the foundation of health—good digestion—is attacked, quick collapse follows. On the first signs of indigestion, Dr. King's New Life Pills should be taken to tone the stomach and regulate liver, kidneys and bowels. Pleasant, easy, safe and only 25 cents at People's Drug Co.

ONLY A FIRE HERO but the crowd cheered, as, with burned hands, he held up a small round box. "Fellows!" he shouted, "this Buckle's Arnica Salve I hold, has everything beat for burns." Right! also for boils, ulcers, sores, pimples, eczema, cuts, sprains, bruises. Surest pile cure. It subdues inflammation, kills pain. Only 25 cents at People's Drug Co.

Auction Bills

The Printing Department of the Gazette is equipped with the very newest latest type and material for producing auction sale bills. A well printed bill makes a better sale for you. Five line classified advertisement free in the Daily Gazette with each order of bills. GAZETTE PRINTING DEPT.

Madame, Here's a Comb You Can't Break.

We have just received a shipment of combs, made by a new process, absolutely unbreakable in use, not inflammable. These combs you can throw at the cat, saw kindling wood, or comb the knottiest hair without breaking. We give you a new comb for any broken in use. Price from 25c to 75c. Stop in and see them. Badger Drug Co., corner Milwaukee and River Sts.

You always get results from a want ad. Try it and see.

Buy One of These Chairs for Use in Your Home

You owe it to yourself to have at least one comfortable chair to sit in during your leisure moments. You'll get lots more pleasure and enjoyment out of life if you do.

Royal Easy Chairs

are sold by the thousands because so easy to adjust. "Just Push the Button and Rest."

Concealed newspaper rack, sliding foot rest and other features included. Each chair absolutely guaranteed. An ideal gift for any occasion. Also large variety of designs, all prices, from $10.00 to $30.00.

Stop in and see them at

W. H. ASHCRAFT

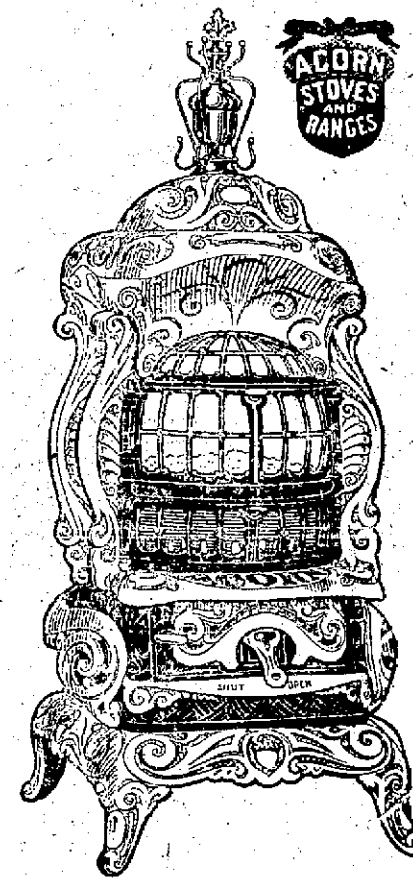

FURNITURE UNDERTAKING.

HOOSIER KITCHEN CABINETS

104 W. MILW. ST.

BOTH PHONES.

We Have The Stoves That You Ought to Have

We will be willing to let you have them on easy payments.

When it comes to stove business we are on earth with both feet.

Sole agent Acorn Stoves and Ranges.

It pays to Talk to Lowell

I Am The Domestic Vacuum Cleaner

The Domestic Vacuum Cleaner in use requires but one person.

See That Roller? An exclusive feature. It rolls and does not permit the nozzle to drag as others do.

The dirt was removed from a rug that had been cleaned by old methods.

DO YOU KNOW that the DOMESTIC is the original of all vacuum cleaners that operate on the carpet like a carpet sweeper?

DO YOU KNOW that all other vacuum cleaners that work on the same system are nothing but imitations of the DOMESTIC?

DO YOU KNOW that the imitation is a very crude affair beside of the DOMESTIC and does not do the work like the DOMESTIC?

DO NOT THROW away your money on cheap vacuum cleaners or imitations.

BUY THE DOMESTIC AND GET THE BEST

FREE DEMONSTRATION in your home.

Sold and guaranteed by

H. F. NOTT

Carpenter Block

Janesville

Republican Legislative and County Ticket

For State Senator:
LAWRENCE E. CUNNINGHAM.

For Member of Assembly,
First District:
MARSHALL P. RICHARDSON.

For Member of Assembly,
Second District:
CHARLES D. ROSA.

For County Clerk:
HOWARD W. LEE.

For County Treasurer:
FRANK F. LIVERMORE.

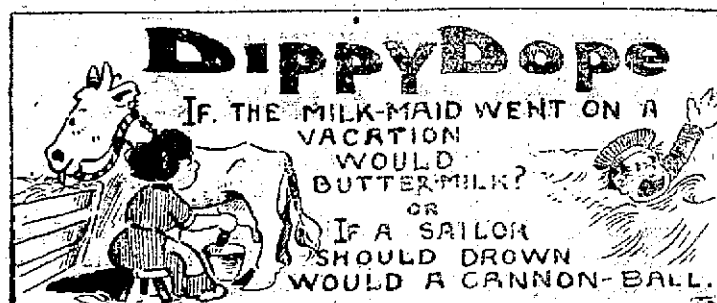

For Sheriff:
CASSIUS S. WHIPPLE.

For Clerk Circuit Court:
JESSE EARLE.

For District Attorney:
STANLEY G. DUNWIDDIE.

For Register of Deeds:
FRANK P. SMILEY.

Vote For Them!

DippyDope

IF THE MILK-MAID WENT ON A VACATION WOULD BUTTERMILK?
OR
IF A SAILOR SHOULD DROWN WOULD A CANNON-BALL.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, Nov. 2, 1872.—Commodore Foote and Fairy Queen.—Commodore Foote and sister, Fairy Queen and their Calcutta friends arrived this morning and gave an entertainment this afternoon at the opera house. The Commodore and Fairy Queen are the smallest people in the world, had are perfectly formed, highly intelligent and well educated. They were greeted by an interested crowd of spectators at the matinee. This evening another entertainment will be given at the opera house, commencing at eight o'clock. Dances, songs and recitations of character form a portion of the program.

Another Departure.—C. J. Cheney has disposed of his interest in the Janesville Furniture Company and intends to remove to Chicago, there to engage in business of a like character. The largest portion of Mr. Cheney's life has been spent in this city and he is only induced to take this step by the hope that a more extended field of operation will enable him to realize greater profits.

Trouble in Beloit College.—There is a rupture between the faculty and students of Beloit college. The faculty have demanded the manuscript of the College Register, which is about going to press and the students refuse to present it, claiming they have a right to issue a Register without the faculty's interference.

Proclamation.—Grand Excursion to Salt River.—(Verbatim copy)—The Amphibious steamboat will leave Pole Dock on Tuesday, the 5th inst. for the head of Salt River. At precisely six o'clock p. m., no delay on account of bad weather or rough sea, she will make the entire trip by moonlight, arriving at the head of Salt River at a quarter before twelve o'clock the same evening, passing the celebrated news of the fires at South City, five minutes before ten p. m., carrying election news to the head of Salt River two hours in advance of all telegraph dispatches. She will stop five minutes at the hot guises springs to coal and water and take baths. Cabins all taken; a few can get passage on deck; the rest will have to go in the hole at half rates. The sale of tickets will commence precisely at nine o'clock a. m. at my office.

Pole Dock, A. P. BURRUS.
P. S. Call early for tickets.

NOV. 3

IF TOMORROW IS YOUR BIRTHDAY

Keep your health in order and your mind alert, for you will need strength and wit against difficulties which means you will rule—yourself first, and then what you will.

Those born Sunday, November 3, will be emotional rather than practical, and capricious will sway them. They will have a good, though in certain professions their emotional gifts will help them to succeed.

UNCLE WALT
The Poet Philosopher
Copyright, 1909, by George Matthew Adams
BY WALT MASON

"You ought to walk five miles a day," the learned physician said; "you're bigger than a load of hay, and you will soon be dead, unless you take more exercise, so go and hit the road, and try to lose, but burn your eyes, that aldermanic lord." I walked five miles, and now I lie upon a couch of pain; my tendons all are pulled away, and I am one big sphinx, there is a spavin on my knee, a ringbone on my shin; when I can find that doctor he will have his head caved in. "Oh, sleep out doors and get fresh air," another doctor cried; "why do you sleep in your sleeping in swarms of germs inspire? The air that heaven sends to men inhale, and breathe your fill, and when you're well and as strong again, I'll send you in my bill." I slept last night upon the roof, and when I woke just now, I found some icebergs on my roof, and more upon my brow. And I am all bunged up with cold. I cannot sing a note; and all the quinine I can hold I'm pouring down my throat. One longing rankles in my dome. I have one great desire, which is to seek that doctor's home, and set the same afire. So after this when I have ills that make me groan and rant, I'll take the good old-fashioned pills that cured my uncle's aunt.

AS TO REALISM

Reggy—How is this in the second chapter of my great story: "The beautiful girl dropped her eyes?"
Peggy—How pathetic! Were they glass eyes?

Mrs. Fred Laabs, 168 High Forest, Wilton, Minn., states: "My husband had kidney trouble with severe pain across his back and was miserable and tired out. His bladder acted irregularly and there was a brick-dust-like sediment. Finally he took Foley's Kidney Pills with the result that the pain left him, his bladder acted regularly and he was strong and well again." Badger Drug Co.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Persons Answering Fraudulent Advertisements Asked to Notify Gazette.

The Gazette is desirous of keeping out of its columns fraudulent advertising and asks the assistance of its patrons to that end.

There are any number of concerns in the country who make a living through a nicely worded advertisement, offering golden opportunities, and these unscrupulous people find fertile ground for work among the masses.

Many orders are received in the Gazette mail for advertising which are returned as objectionable and where there is a question as to the qualifications the advertiser is omitted. All newspapers have this experience.

But even with the utmost care there will be an occasional advertisement which will pass the scrutiny of the business department of the paper and find its way into the columns.

The Gazette will deem it a favor if you will report to the office any trouble which may have been experienced through the answering of such an advertisement.

Always the Safest Road.

Though sometimes what is called "a happy hit" may be made by a bold venture, the common, halfway of steady industry and application is the only safe road to travel.—Samuel Smiles.

Beautiful Hair, A Joy Forever.

If you have a beautiful head of hair, try to keep it. If you have not, try to get it. Mergal Hair Tonic keeps the scalp clean, promotes a healthy growth of beautiful hair, and keeps it soft and lustrous. Try it. Reliable Drug Co.

Don't Let One "Want Ad" Failure Discourage You

THE RATE FOR ADVERTISEMENTS in these classified columns is 1/2 cent a word each insertion. No order for less than 25 cents. The charge rate is 1 cent per word. Address can be given care of Gazette if so desired.

WANTED

MISCELLANEOUS.

WANTED—Furnace work by young man before and after school and Saturdays. Address "Furnace" care Gazette. 11-2-3t

WANTED—Washing. 512 Chatham St. 11-1-3t

YOUNG MAN, 22, High School education, six years experience in time, cost, credit and collection departments desires position in Janesville. At present employed. References. Address "639" care Gazette. 11-1-3t

WANTED—Everybody to dump ashes and dirt on the lot on northeast corner of Cornelia and Walker St. No tin cans or sheet iron. 10-23-11

WANTED—People to know that we are equipped to do shoe repairing. Brown Bros. 10-10-26t

WANTED—To buy scrap iron, rags, rubbers and metals for which we will pay the highest amount. Call Cohn Bros. 202 Park street, Bell Phone 1309. 10-8-26t

WANTED—Everybody to remember that before the Rock County Telephone Co. entered the field there were only 300 telephones in Janesville and a residence phone cost $3.00 per month. Today under competition there are over 4000 and the rate for a residence phone is only $1.00. 10-5-11

WANTED—Lots of good cleaning, wiping rags free from buttons. Will pay 3 1/2 cents a pound at the Gazette Office. 8-25-11

WANTED—Farmers to buy their harness from T. R. Costigan. Best quality goods at lowest prices. 30-11

WANTED—FEMALE HELP

WANTED—Elderly lady to assist in care of two children. Permanent and good home to right party. Address "A" care Gazette. 11-2-3t

WANTED—Competent girl for general housework. 403 Center Ave. or phone Bell 835. 11-1-11

WANTED—Competent girl for second work. Inquire Mrs. Julia Myers, 7 South East St. 11-1-3t

WANTED—Housekeeper. Man with three boys attending school. Inquire Old phone 1364. 10-30-11

WANTED GIRL—Restaurant work. Ryan's Cafe, corner Milwaukee and Academy. 10-26-11

WANTED—Immediately Hotel cook, $10 a week, dining room girl and waitress, girl for private house $5 week. 522 W. Milwaukee, Old phone 420. 10-25-11

WANTED—Girls sixteen years or older to label cigar boxes. No machine work. Thoroughgood & Co. 10-24-11

WANTED—MALE HELP

LOCAL REPRESENTATIVE WANTED. No canvassing or soliciting required. Good income assured. Address National Co-operative Realty Co., V. 1290 Marden Building, Washington, D. C. 11-2-15t

WANTED—A man to attend to furnace. Inquire Mrs. Julia Myers, 7 South East St. 11-1-3t

WANTED—Harness makers and collar stitchers. Benjamin Young, Milwaukee, Wis. 10-21-16t

A LARGE well known company about to spend $100,000 on a tremendous advertising campaign, requires the services of a bright man or woman in each town and city. The work is easy, pleasant and highly respectable, and no previous experience is necessary. We will pay a good salary and offer an unusual opportunity for advancement to the person who can furnish good references. In addition to this salary we offer a Maxwell automobile, a Ford automobile and over $3000 in prizes to the representatives doing the best work up to December 31. In your letter give age and references. Address Ira B. Robinson, Advertising Manager, 7972 Beverly St., Boston, Mass. 8-24-12 2pts

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—Warm modern furnished room. Near depot. 329 No. Jackson. New Phone Blue 831. 11-2-11

FOR RENT—Modern 8-room house with barn. 429 So. Jackson. Telephone 235 Red. 11-2-3t

FOR RENT—Furnished rooms, modern conveniences. 159 S. Jackson. New phone, 784 Red. 11-2-3t

FOR RENT—House, 571 N. Washington. Inquire 557 Terrace. New phone, 784 Red. 11-2-3t

FOR RENT—Seven-room house, 214 Pearl street. Inquire 1214 W. Bluff street. 11-1-3t

FOR RENT—Four furnished rooms for light housekeeping. Gas city water and furnace heat. 457 Madison street. 11-1-3t

HOUSE FOR RENT—303 So. Locust street. Good location, convenient for one or two families. Address Mrs. Anna Young, Brodhead, Wis. A letter answered at once. 11-1-3t

FOR RENT—Strictly modern house in Third Ward, close in. Also two houses in Fourth ward. Jos. Flisht, Hayes Block. 11-1-3t

FOR SALE—One 2 1/2 size, white iron bed; one full-size, iron bed; both with springs and mattress, one 6 ft. extension table, 42-inch round top, oak; one rocker. Inquire evenings 419 S. High St. New Phone Black 224. 11-1-3t

FOR RENT—Seven room house 103 Union street and So. River street. Two blocks east of new school building. So Jackson St. Inquire of E. Raderham, 170 Lina street. 11-1-3t

FOR RENT—House and barn. Enquire at Reilly Bakery. 10-31-11

FOR RENT—Nice large room suitable for two, furnace heat, close in, board if wanted. Address "72" Gazette. 10-30-11

FOR RENT—Two light housekeeping rooms; steam heat, gas and bath. Old phone 1284. 10-30-11

FOR RENT—3-room house; modern conveniences at 338 Center Ave. Inquire New Phone 644 White. 10-29-11

FOR RENT—Furnished rooms with heat and bath. 170 So. Franklin Bell phone 1673. 10-29-11

FOR RENT—Furnished rooms. All modern conveniences. Old phone 990, 402 N. Bluff street. 10-29-11

FOR RENT—Flat 421 Madison St. 10-28-11

FOR RENT—Steam heated flat and store. S. D. Grubb. 10-22-10t

FOR RENT—Furnished flat; four rooms for light housekeeping. Modern. Depot two blocks. 103 Linn. 1222 White. 10-23-11

FOR RENT—3-room modern house on Ruger avenue. Furnace, gas, electric light, small barn. Old phone 563. 10-15-11

FOR RENT—Furnished room. 415 No. Bluff street. 10-10-11

FOR RENT—Furnished rooms. Heat, light and bath. 298 Milton Ave. P. E. Neuses. 10-17-11

FOR SALE MISCELLANEOUS.

FOR SALE—Second hand Edison and Victor talking machines in fine condition, at very low prices. A. V. Lyle. 11-2-3t

FOR SALE—Scottish bag pipe. New. Regular $45, now $25. Great Scott but you will miss a good thing if you don't get this. A. V. Lyle, 310 W. Mill. 11-2-3t

FOR SALE—Walnut parlor organ (Ester) only ten dollars. Very sweet tone. A. V. Lyle. 11-2-4t

FOR SALE—Hard coal heater. Good condition. Old phone 362. 11-2-3t

FOR SALE—New Ford automobile. Call 720 Western Ave. 11-2-6t

FOR SALE—Gas flatiron, gas lamp, white enamel iron bed, mattress, pillows, springs, double cot, sofa pillows, brass parlor stand and other household furnishings. 343 So. Bluff. Telephone 555 Blue. 11-2-3t

FOR SALE—40 cords good dry wood. Will McDermott, Rte. 7, Janesville. 11-2-3t

FOR SALE—Travellers sample piano at a price that will make you think I stole it. If you have been waiting to buy a second hand piano, forget it. This new one is fine and a second hand price will be accepted if you have the cash. A. V. Lyle. 11-2-3t

FOR SALE—A good upright piano, slightly used. Inquire at Kimball's. 11-1-11

FOR SALE—At Kimball's store, a full line of high grade Waltham pianos and player-pianos. 11-1-11

FOR SALE—Art Garland base burner, medium size. $15.00. Talk to Lowell. 11-1-3t

FOR SALE—Sterilized by Mrs. Ducaut White, 235 So. Main street. 10-29-5t

FOR SALE—Storm sash, all sizes. Cheap. Prepare for winter now. Schaller & McKee Lumber Co. 10-30-6t

FOR SALE—Art Garland heater in good condition $10. Airtight heater, $2. 1111 Olive street, Phone 863 Red. 11-1-3t

SECOND HAND STOVES of all kinds. Janesville House, Wrecking Co. 52 South River street. Old phone 457, New Phone 798 Red. 11-1-24t

FOR SALE—Ford automobile. 239 South Academy street. 10-28-3t

FOR SALE—Maple trimmings for kindling wood. $2.50 load. Nothing better on the market. Schaller & McKee Lumber Co. 10-30-6t

FOR SALE—One 6 H. P. Stover Gasoline Engine, One 2 H. P. McVicar Gasoline Engine. Good condition. Nitscher Implement Co. 10-28-6t

FOR SALE—Large size Favorite base burner. $25.00. Talk to Lowell. 11-1-3t

FOR SALE—Second hand Radiant Peninsular stove. Cheap. Inquire 541 So. Main. 10-30-6t

FOR SALE—Two large hot blast stoves. John C. Nichols, Harness Mfg. Co. 10-26-11

FOR SALE—Two-roll McCormick shredders. One 6-roll Appleton shredder. Two 8-roll McCormick shredders. All in good condition. Nitscher Implement Co. 10-28-6t

FOR SALE—One 16 H. P. Nichols & Shepard Engine, One 10 H. P. Nichols & Shepard Engine. First class condition. Nitscher Implement Co. 10-28-6t

FOR SALE—Good second hand black horse in good repair. Can be seen at J. W. Emminger's, Broadhead, Wis. 10-16-3t

FOR SALE—Largest size Art (Gav) and base burner. $20.00. Talk to Lowell. 11-1-3t

FOR SALE—All kinds of wood. Coal and coke. Willet T. Decker, Both phones. 10-19-11

FOR SALE—Heavy wrapping paper for laying under carpets. Gazette Office. 9-27-11

FOR SALE—Scratch tablets, big size for 5c, at Gazette office. 10-21-11

FOR SALE—Lot of strong packing boxes at Gazette office.

QUALITY CANDIES AT RAZOOK'S 27-11

POULTRY

FOR SALE—25 Barred Rocks, hens and pullets. 35 Rhode Island S. C. hens and pullets. 6 Bronze turkey hens, barred Rock cockerels. Few Rhode Island Red cockerels. Allan Welch, 167 Locust St., Bell phone 238. 11-2-3t

WANTED—50 Barred Rocks, 50 White Rocks and 50 White Wyandottes, pullets, April hatch. Want some spring roosters of these breeds. J. A. Grainger, Poultry Farm, Both phones. 11-1-2t

FOR SALE—REAL ESTATE

FOR SALE—OR RENT—Eighty acre dairy farm, near Janesville. "Farm" Gazette. 11-2-3t

FOR SALE—A few bargains bearing (Grand Fruit and Orange groves, Peace River Valley, La Soto county, Florida; also unimproved, send for list. J. G. LaCoste, Sterling, Ill. 11-2-11

FOR SALE—Choice 165 acre farm; good buildings, near Elkhorn, four miles from Genewa Lake, Walworth County, Wis. Splendid bargain; good terms. Owner retiring; going south. H. A. Mooser, 123 W. Milwaukee St., Janesville, Wis. 11-2-6t

FOR SALE—Land in 5 to 10 acre tracts, close to city; no better land in the county. F. L. Clemons, 205 Jackson Bldg. 65-11

FOR SALE—Eighty acres good land 2 1/2 miles east of Janesville. J. J. Roach, Rte. 1. 11-1-6t

FOR SALE—A Rock County farm at a real bargain. Also have 80-acre farm for sale near Janesville upon which owner would accept some trade. Joseph Fisher, Hayes Block. 11-1-3t

FOR SALE—$500 cash buys three good lots in second ward. 10 minutes from downtown. Address "Lots" care Gazette. 10-29-11

FOR SALE—Is there anybody who will help Mr. and Mrs. Ira Bryant out with $1900 for a nice six-room new house at 1015 Sharon street. Inquire of Ira Bryant, 323 block of Interurban street car line So. Main street. 10-28-3t

FOR SALE—At a reasonable price, 69 1/2 acres of very good land with a good set of farm buildings, in Rock county. Owner might take a reasonable priced house in Janesville in part pay. Thomas E. Mackin, 217 Dodge street. 10-26-11

FOR SALE—General store and building in live country town doing good business, fine opening for right party. B. H. Peterson, Sutherland Block, Janesville. 10-14-11

FOR SALE—A very desirable residence in the 3rd ward by Carpenter & Carpenter Janesville, Wis. 9-25-11

FOR SALE—Several choice Rock county farms well located and in size from 40 acres to 600 acres. E. H. Peterson, Sutherland Block. 12-11

FOR SALE—OR EXCHANGE—Several choice 40 acre tracts, farms and timber lands. Address E. H. Peterson, Sutherland Block, Janesville. 10-14-11

FOR SALE—OR RENT—Best located meat market in Janesville. Inquire Geo. Scordiff. 11-2-3t

FOR SALE—OR WILL EXCHANGE—for Milwaukee real estate, flat building in city of Janesville netting 6 per cent on $12,000. Well located in best part of city. One of the best investments offered recently. B. H. Peterson, Sutherland Block, Janesville. 10-16-11

EXCHANGE

EXCHANGE—Will exchange fine piano for painting. "B. B." care Gazette. 11-1-5t

AUCTION

AUCTION—Wednesday Nov. 6, at 12:30 o'clock. Five horses, 8 cattle, 50 ducks, 10 ton timothy hay in barn. Farm machinery, etc. George Hollins, Prop. W. T. Dooley, Auctioneer. 11-2-3t

DAIRY AUCTION—Nov. 9 at C. & N. W. stock yards 1 o'clock, 15 cows and heifers, 15 yearlings, 1 yearling registered Holstein, 1 high grade Holstein Bull, F. P. Welch & Son, W. T. Dooley, Auctioneer. 11-2-3t

MISCELLANEOUS

MUSIC FURNISHED for church and lodge entertainments. String orchestra including piano, only $5.00. We want to advertise the piano, hence, the low price. A. V. Lyle, 310 W. Mill. 11-2-3t

SEWING MACHINES repaired. Presmo Brothers, 21 No. Main St. 11-2-6t

HORSES BOARDED—Warm, clean barn. Geo. Woodruff, Rock Co. Phone. 11-2-6t

PATENTS SECURED OR FREE returned. Send sketch for free report as to patentability. Guide-book and list of inventions. Wanted sent free. One million dollars offered for one invention. Patents advertised free. Victor J. Evans & Co. 1060 Washington, D. C. 11-2-11

MONEY TO LOAN on real estate security. F. L. Clemons, 205 Jackson Bldg. 51-11

APTON BUCKWHEAT is made the old fashioned way. Stone ground. Ask your grocer. Made by Wm. Denoyer. 10-30-24t

OUT RATES on household goods to Pacific Coast and other points. Superior service, reduced rates. Transfer Co., Minneapolis, Minn. 11-2-312t

I GUARANTEE satisfactory work with Lee-Auto Vacuum Cleaner and would solicit your work for the fall cleaning. Place your order a week ahead if possible as in the rush of work I can then arrange to be at your place at, or about the appointed time. F. H. Porter, New Phone White 413. 9-16-11

LOST

LOST—Dark brindle Boston female dog, with white markings, bat ears. Return to 635 Pleasant street, reward. 11-1-3t

FOUND

FOUND—Small flat key. Owner can have same at Gazette Office. 10-31-3t

HARDWARE

If it is good hardware McNamara has it.

Exonerating the Hookworm.

"My suspicion is," said Uncle Eben, "that some hook worms ketch der laziness fun de folks dey been travellin' with."

SCOTT & JONES, REAL ESTATE AND LOANS

415 Hayes Block.
Rock Co. Phone 297.
Bell Phone 197.

J. E. KENNEDY

Real Estate, Loans and Fire Insurance, Western Farm Lands—a Specialty.
SUTHERLAND BLOCK.
Janesville, Wis.

CANDY

Our stock is fresh and complete.
Morses and Johnsons
Box Goods.
Take home a box to "Friend Wife."

Baker's Drug Store

Read the bargains in the Want Ads.
COLD WEATHER REPAIRS
FOR AROUND THE HOUSE.
Have your carpenter repair work done around your house before the cold weather sets in. Expert work, reasonable charges.

WM. J. MCGOWAN

Rock Co. Phone 1259 Black.
Randall Ave.

Travel

ALL ABOUT WHERE TO GO HOW TO GO AND WHEN TO GO AT THE GAZETTE TRAVEL BUREAU.
Folders, Time Tables, Official Guide.
ALL INFORMATION FREE FOR THE ASKING. GAZETTE OFFICE.

BRANCH OFFICE FOR GAZETTE AT BAKER & SON.

For the convenience of its patrons and the public generally, The Gazette has opened a branch office with the J. P. Baker & Son, Drug Store, corner West Milwaukee and Franklin streets.

Copy for classified advertisements orders for papers, subscriptions and matters of this nature, as well as items of news may be left at the Baker Drug store, and will receive the same prompt attention as if they were sent direct to the office.

Either telephone line, number 10, will reach the Baker Drug Store if it is desired to call them in connection with The Gazette's business.

Papers on sale each evening at the store.

DR. JAMES MILLS

Specialist
EYE, EAR, NOSE AND THROAT
Glasses carefully fitted.

W. R. Hayes

BUILDING CONTRACTOR
Jobbing and repair work given prompt attention.
Bell phone 320. Rock Co. phone, blue 226.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE OF HEARING.

STATE OF WISCONSIN.
County Court for Rock County.
In Probate.
Notice is hereby given that a Special Term of the County Court to be held in and for said County, at the Court House in the City of Janesville, in said County, on the third Tuesday, being the 15th day of November, 1912, at 9 o'clock a. m., the following matter will be heard and considered:
Application of Alexander E. Matheson to admit to Probate the Last Will and Testament of Elizabeth Ann Hollas, late of the City of Janesville, in said County, deceased.
Dated October 18th, 1912.
By the Court,
Register in Probate,
Whitehead and Matheson, Attorneys.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

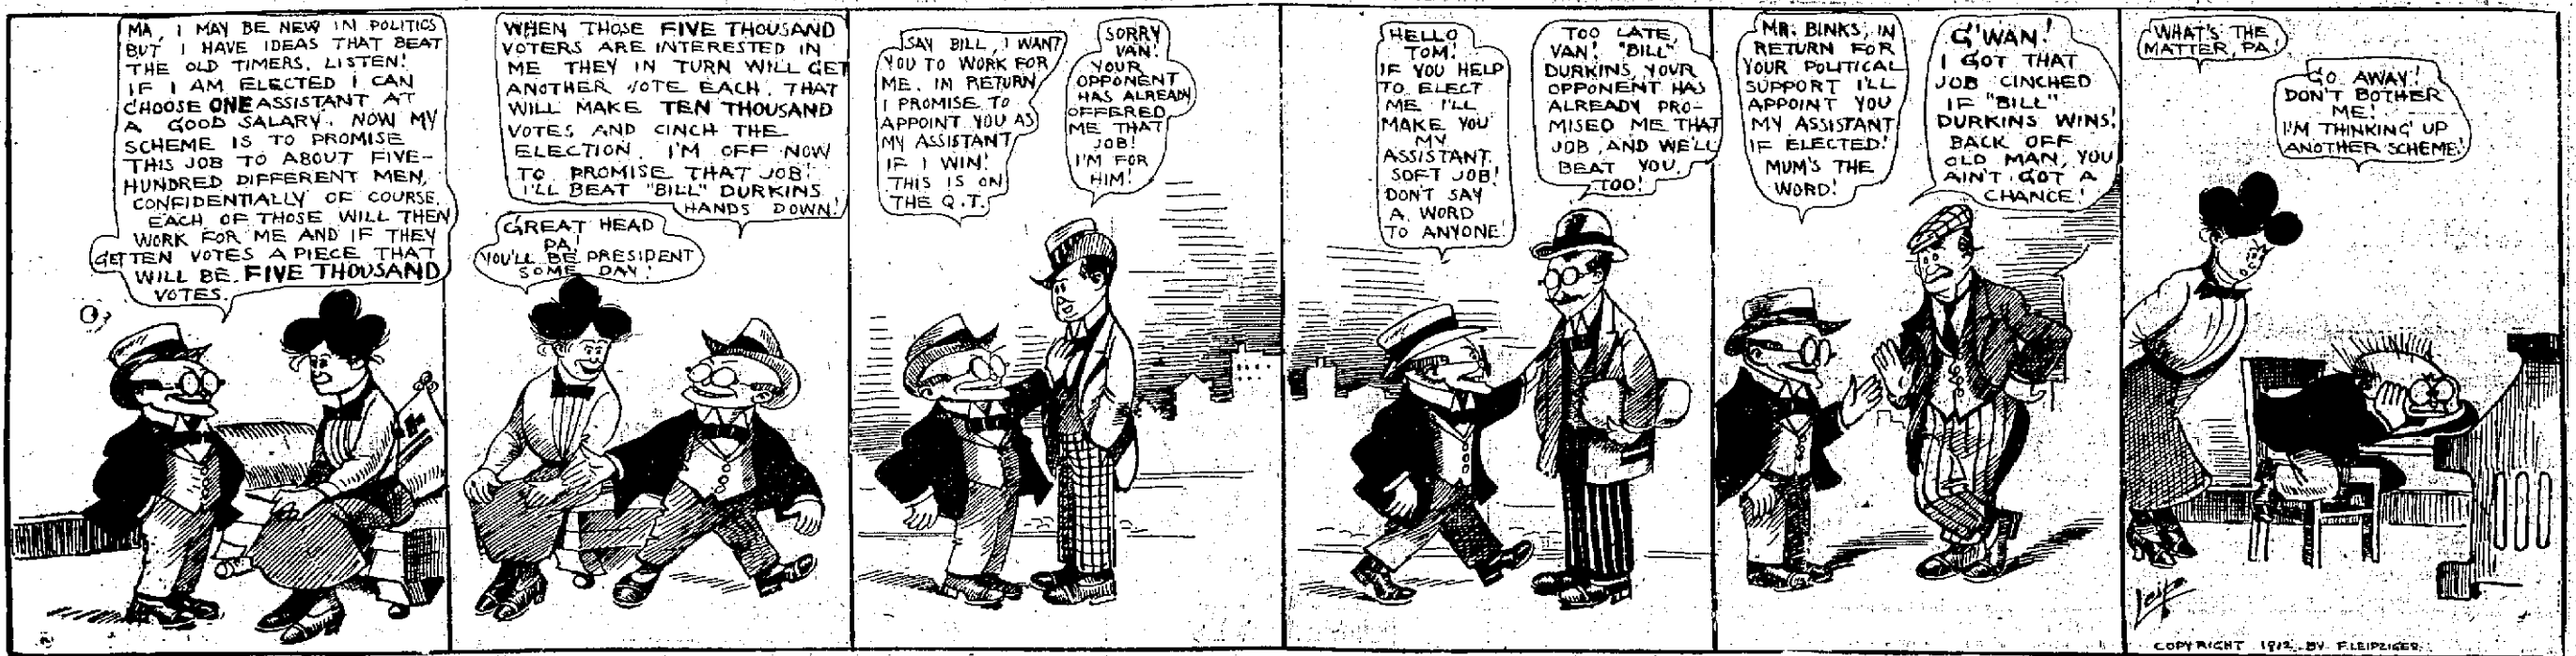

STATE OF WISCONSIN.
County Court for Rock County.
In Probate.
Notice is hereby given that a Regular Term of the County Court to be held in and for said County, at the Court House in the City of Janesville, in said County, on the first Tuesday of May, A. D., 1913, being May 6th, 1913, at 9 o'clock a. m., the following matters will be heard, considered and adjusted:
All claims against Olive Finch, late of the Town of La Prairie in said County, deceased.
All claims must be presented for allowance to said Court, at the Court House in the City of Janesville, in said County, on or before the 15th day of April, A. D., 1913 or be barred.
Dated October 18th, 1912.
By the Court,
John Cunningham, County Judge.
Attorney for Administrator.

FIRE INSURANCE

It is getting cold, more chances for a fire. What if you should burn out this winter. Are your buildings and furniture insured?
Let us talk with you about this.

HUMPHREY & BAUER

Bell, 1013; Rock Co., Red 411. 421 Hayes Block.

DOINGS OF THE VAN LOONS - Fut Father's opponent thought of the scheme first

Source of Slang.
For I said, Perhaps they might rejoice over me; when my foot slipped, they might magnify themselves over me.—Psalms 38:17.

SEVEN YEARS OF MISERY

How Mrs. Bethune was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Sikeston, Mo. "For seven years I suffered everything. I was in bed for four or five days at a time every month,
and so weak I could hardly walk. I had cramps, backache and headache, and was so nervous and weak that I dreaded to see anyone or have anyone move in the room. The doctors gave me medicine to ease me at those times, and said that I ought to have an operation. I would not listen to that, and when a friend of my husband's told him about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for his wife, I was willing to take it.
Now I look the picture of health and feel like it, too. I can do all my own housework, work in the garden and entertain company and enjoy them, and can walk as far as any ordinary woman, any day in the week. I wish I could talk to every suffering woman and girl, and tell them what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—Mrs.
DEMA BETHUNE, Sikeston, Mo.

Remember, the remedy which did this was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means have failed. Why don't you try it?

HARNESSES
Buy your harness direct from the manufacturer and save the middleman's profit.
T. R. COSTIGAN
Corn Exchange.

Piano Tuning

RALPH R. BENNETT,
1047 Park Ave. Beloit, Wis.
PLAYER PIANO EXPERT
Leave orders at Baker's Drug Store.

Professional Cards

DR. EDITH BARTLETT
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office hours 1 P. M. to 5 P. M.
Both Phones in office. Residence phone 973.

Office Phone. Residence
New, 338. New, 950
Old, 840. Old, 142

DR. Wm. H. McGUIRE
304 Jackman Block
Janesville, Wis.

G. M. LARSON
MECHANOTHERAPIST
Electric Light Bath, Turkish Bath,
Mechanical treatments.
Ladies every Tuesday, and every forenoon except Saturday.
Phone Red 485. 109 S. Main St.

B. H. WARREN, M. D.
DISEASES OF DIGESTION,
407 Jackman Bldg.
Janesville, Wis.

OSTEOPATHY

DR. K. W. SHIPMAN
402 JACKMAN BLOCK.
Phone, New 224 Block.
House Phone 237.
Office hours: 9 to 12 a. m.; 2 to 5 p. m.
Evenings and calls by appointment.

The LADY OF the MOUNT

by FREDERIC S. ISNAM
AUTHOR OF "THE STROLLERS UNDER THE ROSE" AND ILLUSTRATIONS BY RAY WATERS
COPYRIGHT 1908 BY THE BOBBY-MERRILL CO.
CHAPTER XVII.

The Mountebank and the Hunchback.
Up the Mount with shambling step, head down-bent and the same stupid expression on his face, the mountebank went docilely, though not silently.
To one of the soldiers at his side he spoke often, voicing that dull apprehension he had manifested when first ordered into custody.

"Do you think they'll put me in a dungeon?"
"Dungeons, indeed!" the man answered not ill-naturedly. "For such as you! No, no! They'll keep the oumbrellas, calottes, and all the dark holes for people of consequence—traitors, or your fine gentry consigned by lettres de cachet."

"Then what do you think they will do with me?"
"Wait, and find out!" returned the soldier roughly, and the mountebank spoke no more for some time; held his head lower, until, regarding him, his guardian must needs laugh.
"Here's a craven-hearted fellow!
Well, if you really want to know, they'll probably lock you up for the night with the rest of rag-tag," indicating the other prisoners, a short distance ahead. "In the cellar, or al-monry, or auberge des voleurs; and in the morning, if you're lucky, and the Governor has time to attend to such as you, it may be you'll escape with a few stripes and a warning."

"The auberge des voleurs!—the thieves' inn!" said the man. "What is that?"
"Bah! You want to know too much!
If now your legs only moved as fast as your tongue—" And the speaker completed the sentence with a significant jog on the other's shoulders.
Whereupon the mountebank quickened his footsteps, once more ceased his questioning. It was the soldier who had not yet spoken, but who had been pondering a good deal on the way up, who next broke the silence.

"How did it end, Monsieur Mountebank?—the scene with the devil, I mean."

The man who had begun to breathe hard, as one not accustomed to climbing, or wearied by a long pilgrimage to the Mount, at the question ventured to stop and rest, with a hand on the granite balustrade of the little platform they had just reached. "In the death of the peasant, and a comic chorus of frogs," he answered.

"A comic chorus!" said the soldier.
"That must be very amusing."
"It is," the mountebank said, at the same time studying, from where he stood, different parts of the Mount with cautious, sidelong looks; "but my poor frogs!—all torn! trampled!"
"Well, well!" said the other not unkindly. "You can mend them when you get out."

"When? If I only knew when that would be! What if I should have to stay here like some of the others?—
pour etre oublie!—to be forgotten?"
"If you don't get on faster," said the soldier who had first spoken, "you won't be buried alive for some time to come, at least!"

"Pardon!" muttered the mountebank. "The hill—it is very steep."
"You look strong enough to climb a dozen hills, and if you're holding back for a chance to escape—"

"No, no!" protested the man. "I had no thought—do I not know that if I tried, your sword—"

"Quite right, I'd—" said the other soldier, a big, good-natured appearing fellow. "He's harmless enough, and, as once more they moved on, "that tune of yours, Monsieur Mountebank," abruptly: "It runs in my head. Let me see—how does it go? The second verse, I mean—"

"Beat! beat!
Mid marsh-muck and mire,
For if any note
Escapes a frog's throat,
Beware my lord's ire!"

"Yes; that's the one. Not bad!"
humming—

"For if any note
Escapes a frog's throat,
Beware my lord's ire!"
"Are the verses your own?"
"Oh, no! I'm only a poor player," said the mountebank humbly. "But an honest one," he added after a pause, "and this thieves' inn, Monsieur," returning to the subject of his possible fate, "this auberge des voleurs—that sounds like a bad place for an honest lodging."

"It was once under the old monks, who were very merry fellows; but since the Governor had it restored, it has become a sober and quiet place.
It is true there are iron bars instead of blinds, and you can't come and go, as they used to, but—"

"Is that it—up there?" And the mountebank pointed toward a ledge of rock, with strong flanking buttresses, outfitting beneath a mysterious looking wall and poised over a sparselywooded bit of the lower Mount. "The gray stone building you can just see above the ramparts, and that opening in the cliff to the right, with something running down—that looks like planking—"

"Oh, that is for the wheel!"
"The wheel?"
"The great wheel of the Mount! It was built in the time of the monks, and was used for—"

"Hold your tongue!" said the other soldier, and the trio entered the great gate, which had opened at their approach, and now closed quickly behind them.

For the first time in that isolated domain of the dreaded Governor, the mountebank appeared momentarily to forget his fears and gazed, with interest around him. On every side new and varying details unfolded to the eye; structures that from below were etched against the sky in filmy lines, here resolved themselves into vast,
solid, but harmonious masses.

Those ribbons of color that had seemed to fall from the woolly sky, to adorn these heights, proved, indeed, callaceous, more somber effects, the black touches of age, confronted the eye everywhere, save on one favored front—that of a newer period, an architectural addition whose intricate carvings and beautiful roses of stone invited and caught the warmer rays, whose little balcony held real buds and flowers, bright spots of pink dangling from, or nestling at the window's edge.

"Yonder looks like some grand lady's bower," as he followed his cap-tors past this more attractive edifice, the mountebank ventured to observe.
"Now, perhaps, lives there—"

"Hark you, my friend," one of the soldiers brusquely interrupted; "a piece of advice: His Excellency likes not babblers; neither does he countenance gossip; and if you'd fare well, keep your tongue to yourself!"

"I'll—I'll try to remember," said the mountebank docilely, but as he spoke, looked back toward the balcony; at the gleaming reflection full on its windows; then a turn in the way cut off the pleasing prospect, and only the grim foundations of the lofty, heavier structure on one hand and the massive masonry ramparts on the other greeted the eye.

For some distance they continued along the narrow way, the mountebank bending lower under his load and observing the injunction put upon him, until the path, broadening, led them abruptly on to a platform where a stone house of ancient construction barred their further progress. But two stories in height, this building, an alien edifice amid loftier piles, stood sturdily perched on a precipitous cliff, darkened by time, made it seem almost a part of the granite itself, although the roof, partly demolished and restored, imparted to it an anomalous distinctness, the bright new tile prominent as patches on some dilapidated garment. In its doorway, beneath a monkish inscription, well-hunch oliterated, stood a dwarf, or hunchback, who, jingling a bunch of great keys, ill-humoredly regarded the approaching trio.

"What now?" The little man's welcome, as mountebank and soldiers came within earshot, was not reassuring. "Isn't it enough to make prisoners of all the scamps in Christendom without taking vagabond players into custody?"

"Orders, good Jacques!" said one of the soldiers in a conciliatory tone.

"The commandant's?"
"The commandant?" grumbled the grotesque fellow. "It's all very well," mimicking. "Turn them over to Jacques. He'll find room." If this keeps on, we'll soon have to make cages of confessionals, or turn the wine-butts in the old cellar into oubliettes."

"If any of our ancient flavor flingers in the casks, your guests would have little reason to complain!" returned the other soldier. "But this fellow, he'll make no trouble—"

"Oh, I suppose we'll have to take care of him!" muttered the dwarf. "In the thieves' inn there's always 'room for one more!' Obeying the gesture, at once menacing and imperious, that accompanied these words, the mountebank, who had been eying his prop-spective host not without visible signs of misgiving, reluctantly entered.

But as he did so, he looked back, toward the soldier who had displayed half-friendly interest in the play.
"If you care to know more about the piece—" he began, when the maledic-tions and abuse of the mishapen keeper put a stop to further conversation and sent the mountebank post-haste into the darkness of the cavern-like hall intersecting the ground floor.

On either side closed doors, vaguely discerned, hinted at the secrets of the chambers they guarded; the atmosphere, dark and close, proclaimed the sunlight long a stranger there. At the end of the hall the dwarf, who had walked with the assurance of one well acquainted with that musty interior and all it contained, paused; shot sharply a bolt and threw open a door.

The action was the signal for a chorus of hoarse voices from within, and the little man stayed not on the order of his going, but, thrusting the mountebank across the threshold, leaped nimble back, slammed hard the door, and locked it.

Cries of disappointment and rage followed, and facing the company that crowded the dingy little room almost to suffocation, the latest comer found himself confronted by unkempt people who shook their fists threateningly and execrated in no uncertain manner. A few, formerly spectators of his little play, inclined again to vent their humor on him, but he regarded them as if unaware of their feeling; pushed none too gently to a tiny window, and, deposited his burden on the stone floor, seated himself on a stool with his back to the wall.

As a squally gust soon blows itself out, so their temper, mercurial, did not long endure; from a ragged coat one produced dice, another cards, and although there were few sous to exchange hands, the hazard of tossing and shuffling exercised its usual charm and held them. The minutes were away; motionless in his corner, the mountebank now watched; then with his head on his elbow, seemed sunk in thought. Once he rose; stood on his stool and looked out between the heavy bars of the narrow window.
"Not much chance to get out that way," observed a fellow prisoner.
"What did you see?"

"Only a chasm in the sands."
"The sands!" said the man. "Cursed the day I set foot on them!"

To this malediction the other did not answer; stepped down and, again seated in his corner, waited, while the light that had grudgingly entered the narrow aperture grew fainter. With the growing darkness the atmosphere seemed to become closer, more foul;
but although he breathed with difficulty, the mountebank suffered no sign of impatience or concern to escape him; only more alertly looked and listened—to a night bird cleaving the air without; to muttered sounds, thieves' patois, or snatches of ribald mirth within; and, ere long, to new complaints.

"Our supper! What of our supper?"
"The foul fiend take the auberge des voleurs and its landlord!"

"Vrai dieu! Here he comes!" as the footsteps were heard without.

And the door, opening, revealed, indeed, in the rushlight, now dimly illuminating the hall, the hunchback, not laden, however, with the longed-for creature comforts, but empty-handed; at his back the commandant and a number of soldiers.

"You follow with the dolls!" Blinking in the glare of the torches, the dwarf peered in. "Where are you?
Come along!" as the mountebank
rose, "you are wanted."

"Wanted?" repeated the player, stepping forward. "Where?"

"At the palace," said the commandant.

"The palace!" stopping short. "Who can want me there?"

"Who?" The dwarf made a grimace.
"Who?" he repeated mockingly.

"Her ladyship," said the commandant, with a reproving glance at the jailer.

"Her ladyship!"

"Haven't you ears, my man?" The commandant frowned and made an impatient gesture. "Come, bestir yourself! The Governor's daughter has commanded your presence."

CHAPTER XVIII.

The Mountebank and My Lady.
"The Governor's daughter!" Had the light been stronger they must have seen the start the mountebank gave. "Impossible!"

"Eh? What?" Surprised in turn, the officer gazed at him. "You dare out with him!" To the soldiers.

But in a moment had the mountebank recovered his old demeanor, and, without waiting for the troops to obey the commandant's order, walked voluntarily toward the door and into the passage.

"Our supper! Our supper!" A number of the prisoners, crowding forward, began once more to call lustily, when again was the disk-studded woodwork swung unceremoniously to, cutting short the sound of their lamentations.

"Dogs!" Malevolently the dwarf gazed back. "To want to gorge themselves on a holy day!"

"Pious Jacques!" murmured the commandant. "But I always said you made a model landlord!"

"When not interfered with!" grumbled the other.

"At any rate he doesn't seem to appreciate his good fortune," with a glance at the mountebank.

"No," jeering. "A gallant cavalier to step blithely at a great lady's command!—your Ladyship overwhelms me!"
bowing grotesquely. "Your Ladyship's condescension!"

"Why, then, need you take me?" interposed the mountebank quickly.
"Can you not tell her ladyship I am not fit to appear in her presence—an uncouth clown?"

"Bah! I've already done that," answered the commandant.

"But how came her ladyship to know of me—here?"

(To be continued.)

FACT

Local Evidence.

Evidence that can be verified.
Fact is what we want.

Opinion is not enough.
Opinions differ.

Here's a Janesville fact:
You can test it.

C. F. Lester, 1017 Wheeler St., Janesville, Wis., says: "For several months I was in poor health and my system seemed to be filled with uric poison. My back ached intensely, and I had but little strength or energy. I decided to try a good kidney medicine and as I had often heard Doan's Kidney Pills highly spoken of, I got a supply at the People's Drug Co. It did not take this remedy long to bring me entire relief. At that time I publicly told of my experience and during the years that have since passed, I have not changed my high opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills. Whenever I use this remedy, it does good work."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo,
New York, sole agents for the United States.
Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

They Won't Believe It.
Many people who do not deserve them have good neighbors.

YOUR NEXT FIVE YEARS

WILL they still find you as Bookkeeper or Office man; wondering how to improve your condition and earn more pay, but with nothing done to better yourself?

Why not DECIDE NOW to become a trained accountant and in five years you will have an earning power several times greater than that of an ordinary bookkeeper or office man.

By thorough application to your studies under our direction, we can qualify you to become an Expert Accountant in two years, probably less time, according to your practical experience.

You will also be prepared to take the CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANT'S EXAMINATION and become a member of a dignified and honorable profession, with an income limited only by your own ability.

Our course of instruction has been adopted by prominent resident schools in New York, Boston, Chicago, St. Louis, Milwaukee, Cincinnati, Louisville, Los Angeles, Omaha, Hartford and Grand Rapids.

You will receive your training direct through Mr.
Lester, Walton, B. A., C. P. A., the Dean of our School, well known as a Certified Public Accountant and as Professor of Theory and Practical Accounting in two of the principal Universities in the Middle West.

The Walton School of Accountancy is endorsed by leading public accountants and is recognized as a school of the highest class.

BEGIN NOW to improve yourself. Fill out the Coupon and mail it to representative of the School will give you detailed information.

Walton School of Accountancy
130 Michigan Ave. Chicago

I am interested in your Course in Accounting and would like to receive detailed information.
My present occupation is _____ Name _____
Street and No. _____
City and State _____

Doctors Endorse

If we did not believe doctors endorsed Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for coughs and colds, we would not offer it to you.
Sold for 70 years.
J. C. Ayer & Co.,
Lowell, Mass.

Value of Agitation.
Agitation is the method that plants the school by the side of the balcony.—Phillips.

Carefully Select Your Fur Garments

We sell at more moderate prices, give better quality and produce better styles than other fur dealers, because we are manufacturers and importers, and the volume of our business is the largest of any fur house in the Northwest.

We carry the most complete line of ladies' or gentlemen's fur garments for street wear or automobile, and of ladies' coats and small fur pieces for evening wear.

It will pay you to come to Milwaukee and see this splendid assortment of fashionable and attractive fur garments and small fur pieces. Remodeling and alteration of fur pieces unusually careful attention.

Also a complete line of automobile coats, capes, rugs, etc.—suitable for men and women.

Reckmeyer's

Furriers and Importers
181 Wisconsin Street
Milwaukee

Magazines

For the lowest prices on magazines of all kinds and for the best club offers write or phone

Isabella S. MacLean

Janesville, Wis.
R. Co. Phone 402 White.

HARD WOOD KINDLING

Our Maple flooring ends make an excellent fuel for these cool evenings and mornings.

Try A Load At $2.50

and we feel that in the future you will never be without it.

Fifield Lumber Co.

"DUSTLESS COAL." BOTH PHONES 109.

COAL

It's a big satisfaction to buy of a dealer who advertises. A guarantee of good service and good faith.

Peoples Coal Co. Wood, Coal and Coke.
S. Soverhill, Pres. E. M. Calkins, V. Pres.
S. B. Heddles, Sec. Treas.

P. H. QUINN, COAL
Use Pocohontas For Kitchen Stoves
Good Coal Quick Service Full Weight

Phones
Bell 2061.
New 253.

Phones
Bell 138.
Black 965.

BULL MOOSE HOPES DECLARED UNFOUNDED

CLAIM REPUBLICAN GIBRALTARS SUCH AS PENNSYLVANIA AND ILLINOIS.

MORE TAFT SENTIMENT

Supporters Feel Great Encouragement Over Results of Work in Last Three Weeks of Campaign

(By Ellis B. Usher.)

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 2.—With three days left in which to determine the choice of President of the United States, the conflict of opinions and claims as to what will happen, is as great as, if not greater than at the beginning of the campaign. We have had many things to suggest, if not to prove that, "All men are liars." Not the least of these is the continual claim, on all hands, even in the filing of reports that no campaign committee has had any money. The census bureau has just announced that there are over 16,500,000 possible voters in the country. If a single postal card had been sent to each of these individual voters, the aggregate expense would be greater than the combined financial reports of all the national committees. I have received three separate Bull Moose envelopes with a number of enclosures, one of which came from National Headquarters in New York. If 50,000 voters in Wisconsin have had as much attention as I from this quarter the bill for postage alone would be $1,500,000, and the cost of clerk hire and printing would be more than double it. But no campaign manager would send on 50,000 voters, in a state that has 700,000 voters, the probability that the Bull Moose campaign in Wisconsin has run the limit and then some. All of the committees have been evading the state law by mailing matter in from National Headquarters. There are a lot of amateurs at work in each of the campaigns. This was illustrated to me this week, when a prominent Republican called up one of the Republican newspaper offices and the Republican Headquarters, to find out the dividing line between the 4th and 5th Congressional Districts in this city, and got misinformation from both sources.

Within the past three days I have talked with a close personal friend of Senator Dixon of Montana, who was fresh from an interview with the Senator, and the Bull Moose hopes are certainly extravagant. They really believe that the fight is between Wilson and Roosevelt, and that the latter has the pole. They claim such Republican Gibraltars as Illinois, Pennsylvania and West Virginia, and if anybody suggests to them that Tammany nominated Suzer for governor to sell out Wilson, they smile a knowing smile. They have no Bull Moose poll in Wisconsin, but scattering reports which they cite indicate Bull Moose strength in nearly all the other large cities, among the workmen. To me, the most significant reports of this sort are that many young men are following Roosevelt. The voters under 28 control elections.

The Wilson claims in the state are extravagant and I should discount them very heavily, not because those who make them are insincere, but because the Democratic organization has demonstrated its weakness so frequently. They claim the state largely on La Follette's cross-eyed influence. When it comes to talking about the country, they leave neither Roosevelt nor Taft anything. Mr. Bryan, as the special prophet of these claims has a record of 16 years standing for what "ain't so."

Mr. D. W. Mulvane of Kansas, who is in charge of the Taft Headquarters of Chicago, is an experienced political manager, and has long been a member of the Republican National Committee. Without quoting him, I can say that his feeling is one of great encouragement as to the results of the past three weeks. He thinks that Taft has gained substantially everywhere and that a lot of Republicans who were inclined to vote for Wilson to head off Roosevelt, have been brought back into line. He also believes that the old fashioned "Protection and prosperity," "bunc," which the Republicans are handing out so liberally recently, has lined up the "Old guard" so that the big stay at home vote of recent years will come out and "Save the country." I find that the Progressives of various shades admit that there's something in this claim and I have seen signs of it myself.

This is as well as I can summarize it in a few words the political situation this Saturday night. If there is a measure of truth in each one of these claims my predictions of last June of a possibility that there would be no president elected by the people, still has substance, but as the above survey of the field suggests one man's guess is as good as another's and it may be a mixup or a washout.

The woman suffragists have had the campaign in Wisconsin pretty much to themselves. While there are many women who oppose the proposition they have been without organization and have done little effective work. The main thing for the men who oppose suffrage for women, is to vote. The question will appear on a separate ballot and must not be forgotten, or the better organization of those who favor the constitutional amendment will give them great advantage. If the voters express themselves there is little doubt of the defeat of the proposition.

The slump in the stock market is the greatest evidence in sight, of the genuineness of political uncertainty. Along with this feeling the Balkan Turkish war has sent hundreds of thousands of American stocks home from Europe, and the market has held up pretty well under the double pressure. Capital, the east tells us, is scarce, and high interest rates indicate the truth of the assertion. A recent financial article brought out a phase of explanation for dear capital and dear cost of living, new, but to me, very significant. It is the tremendous conversion of capital into fixed investment through government activities, reaching from the United States with its Panama canal, which is taking $300,000,000 out of this country, the enlargement of the Erie canal, which is putting another $100,000,000 into the fixed investment, and so on through state and municipal activities. Wisconsin, for example, will invest nearly a million in roads next year, and the growth in taxation of all kinds is going into these permanent investments that not only exhaust our liquid capital but add fixed burdens for maintenance for all future time. Meanwhile our railroads borrow at high rates from hand to mouth because they can't get their bonds. If my harping on this subject is considered stupid by your readers, I wish they would explain why Canadian Pacific stock sells around 220 in the New York market, when Chicago and Northwestern, one of our "glit edged" stocks, sells around 140. The Canadian road runs through a newer country, and it is operated by Wisconsin men, who, presumably are not wiser than their teachers in the states.

Advertisement.
I see for example that the Erie road, the head of which is also a Wisconsin man, is pushed to take care of its traffic and at the same time is so pushed to get money for necessary improvements that it prefers to pay high interest on short time notes, rather than stand the discount on its long time low interest bearing bonds. The Erie is carrying the heaviest traffic in its history. There is no need of superior foresight to measure its future growth and insure its substantial future as a property. Trunk lines between Chicago and the Atlantic ocean no prophet to foretell their destiny. But the high cost of capital, of labor, of materials, and the growth of taxation, is a combination of burdens that the American shipper will have to get under if he wants to realize on his own crop and encourage general prosperity. W. W. Finlay, of the Southern Railway, hit one phase of the situation the other day, when he pointed out that the taxes of railways have increased 167 percent since 1900.

This year the aggregate was $130,000,000. We are a great people but "we can't eat our cake and keep it, too." This paragraph, you will notice, mentions the fact that the Erie is getting lots of business, so, despite the indefinite character of such mention I am going to pay for it as advertising. I don't want Uncle Sam to accuse me of sneaking on his new law.

Short Notes.
The opening fall exhibition of old masters at the galleries of the Milwaukee Art Society is proving the big hit of the Society's history. Up to Monday there had been over 4000 visitors and the time has now been extended to Nov. 7. So large a collection of this class of paintings is seldom seen, even in the east, and the examples of Murillo, Van Dyke, Hoppner, Beachy Raeburn and others are of rare quality and the variety of style as well of excellence is unusual. The registration in Milwaukee is the largest known, but no larger than the vote this city ought to poll. Nobody seems to know how it happened or what its significance. It is about 30,000. Like the rest of the campaign it offers an opening for more guesswork.
I see that T. R. agrees with me that he's no sot, and has sued two newspapers that have published the stories. I hope he'll beat them good. I hate that sort of campaigning.
Dr. R. G. Thwaites of Madison, secretary of the Wisconsin Historical Society, will deliver the address at the annual dinner of the Wisconsin Society of Mayflower Descendants to be held in this city on Forefathers' Day, Dec. 21st.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Editor, Gazette:—
Mr. M. P. Richardson, who is a candidate for the assembly from this district, went out of his way to make a slurring remark against the Janesville newspapers in introducing Gov. McGovern at the Myers theatre Thursday night. Not only was the remark uncalled for but it was entirely untrue.

After reading figures showing the amount paid to the state treasury by Rock county and the amount which is returned to the county from the state, he made the statement, "that the voters won't find these figures in the local newspapers, because they will not prove what they wish to show."

I want to call Mr. Richardson's attention to an article which was published in the Gazette of Friday, Oct. 25, which gave the very table in effect that he presented. In fact, his figures would indicate that the county larger sum is returned to the county from the state than the one he gave.

It may be the newspapers, but if such is the case he should not qualify himself as an authority to tell what appears and what does not appear in them. It would hardly be fair to doubt the correctness of these figures as given in the Gazette article as they come directly from the Assistant State Treasurer, Mr. Johnson, who is himself a candidate.

Furthermore at the time when the county's apportionment was received by the treasurer last year, the division of items was noted in the Recorder, and I am quite sure to be expected that it would hardly keep these figures standing in the paper after day in their columns just for the convenience of such men as Mr. Richardson who is condemning everyone and every paper who doesn't happen to agree with him in political matters.

I am sure, Mr. Editor, that all fair minded citizens will agree that the newspapers of the city are generally fairminded, in their news columns especially. They have to be in order to do business. They can't afford to color news to suit Mr. Richardson or any other office-seeking politician, and the public should respect them for their attitude. If Mr. Richardson was as fair in his discussion of political issues as the newspapers are in dealing with the news he could feel assured of liberal support at the polls next Tuesday. It seemed to me, Mr. Editor that the newspapers should not be accused falsely and I ask for space to treat the matter.

Equality.

Worth Remembering.
Just try to remember that your prejudice against a man doesn't necessarily make him contemptible.

SEEK NEW LOCATION FOR ORFORD DEPOT

Railroad Representatives Inspect Proposed New Sites But Fail to Come to Decision.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Orfordville Nov. 2.—The officials of this division of the St. Paul road were in town one day last week to consider the question of moving the depot, a matter which had been brought to their attention by certain Orfordville property holders. The spot proposed as the new site was at once vetoed by the men representing the railroad, as being in an inconspicuous and uninviting location. A place near the tobacco warehouses was suggested, but the matter was finally left in abeyance for a time.

Miss Rosey Rime was in Brodhead Tuesday on business.
Mrs. O. E. Overstrud has returned from Canada after an eight months' stay with her son, Orrin, on a farm.

Miss Mildred Dunn is at home after having finished her engagement with a millinery house in Milwaukee.

Mr. John Crowder has purchased a farm in South Dakota and has shipped a load of machinery and stock.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Clemetson are in Rochester, Minn., in consultation with Drs. Mayo regarding Mrs. Clemetson's health.

Fred Gaarder spent Sunday and Monday in Racine.

Our fishermen, Messrs. Heyer, Dahl, Coryell, Thorsen and Clemetson, have returned from a month's expedition near Rice Lake, Wis. Perch and pickerel were the main catch.

Mrs. George Smiley gave a delightful children's party on Wednesday evening for her sons, Delisle and Arch. About forty little guests were present. The event was a Halloween affair and the decorations and refreshments were in keeping with the season.

Thompson's moving pictures will make a return date in Orfordville next week, Nov. 5th and 6th, at the opera house.

Tough Plant.
The root of all evil seems to thrive in any soil.—London Mail.

MATINEE OF CANARY COLORED CHARMEUSE

Dainty matinee of canary-colored charmeuse with trimmings of violet satin and Valenciennes lace. The one-piece model is cut with a tunic effect and belted with folds of violet satin run through the loop holes. The model requires, in medium size, 21-2 yards of 36 inch material; 2 yards of velvet ribbon, 5 inches wide; 10 yards of lace insertion, 11-2 inches wide; 15 yards of lace edging; 1-4 yard of 19-inch all-over lace for yoke in back.

Flagged Train With Shirt.
Tearing his shirt from his back an Ohio man flagged a train and saved it from a wreck, but H. T. Alston, Raleigh, N. C., once prevented a wreck with Electric Bitters. "I was in a terrible plight when I began to use them," he writes, "my stomach, head, back and kidneys were all badly affected and my liver was in bad condition, but four bottles of Electric Bitters made me feel like a new man." A trial will convince you of their matchless merit for any stomach, liver or kidney trouble. Price, 50 cents at People's Drug Co.

Moving Letter From Prison.

A commission in an eastern state investigating jail conditions, requested letters from the prisoners. They told the prisoners not to be afraid to give them the facts about conditions. The first letter opened was eloquent. It contained a number of live insects. The board hasn't opened any more envelopes.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Read the Want Ads.

Actresses for Japanese Stage.

Although a woman is credited as the founder of the Japanese stage, no name of an actress adorns its history—the onagata has reigned supreme. But the artificial custom of substituting men for women is about to give way to the onrush of modern actresses, and one of the most unique customs of the stage is thus threatened to be superseded by real wearers of petticoats.

Twinges of rheumatism, backache, stiff joints and shooting pains all show your kidneys are not working right. Urinary irregularities, loss of sleep, nervousness, weak back and sore kidneys tell the need of a good reliable kidney medicine. Foley Kidney Pills are tonic, strengthening and restorative. They build up the kidneys and regulate their action. They will give you quick relief and contain no habit forming drugs. Safe and always sure. Try them. Badger Drug Co.

When You Throw a Monkey Wrench in the Machinery-- Something Happens

It is the same thing when you let the pores of your skin become clogged with waste matter and poisons of the body. You are simply dropping a monkey wrench into your bodily machinery. The body is a very delicate machine, and you can no more afford to neglect it than you can afford to let sand get into the bearings of your automobile. You may run along all right for awhile, but you stand a good chance of getting stuck about halfway along life's journey, with no help in sight.

The Electric Light Bath

The Turkish Bath, and Mechano-Therapy will remove the sand from your bearings—put ginger and snap into your system. You will feel like walking around the "horn" in the morning instead of sleeping just a few minutes longer.

G. M. LARSON

Phone Red 485. 109 S. Main
Ladies all day Tuesday and every forenoon except Saturday.

You Are Going to Use Kerosene This Winter

Then why not buy the kerosene which will give you guaranteed results. It will cost you less in the long run and be more satisfactory. We absolutely guarantee to go farther and give you better results than any other oil you can buy. Try it out and if you do not find that it does exactly what we say it will, bring back the unused portion of your purchase and we will refund you all the money you paid for the oil.

Imperial Kerosene

We have not had a gallon returned yet and this guarantee has been out since July 20th last. Try it out and see if what we say is not the truth. We mean business and we get results for you.

KINNIE & SON

Pennsylvania Oil
INDEPENDENT—NOT IN ANY TRUST. 417 So. Academy Street. Both Phones.

Stoves Delivered in Double Quick Time

Step into our store any morning, pick out the "Garland" heater, base burner, range or cook stove you like best, and on the same day we will deliver it to your home, set it up for you and build a fire in it.

Use the stove every day for a month. See if you have ever seen anything to equal it in any way.
We will guarantee you permanent satisfaction.
If a "Garland" ever fails to give the service of a first-class stove, you'll find both us and the manufacturer ready to adjust the transaction to your complete satisfaction.
Such is our faith in "Garland" Stoves and Ranges. For 41 years they have proven themselves the "world's best." Over four million families have used them. We have no hesitancy in saying that "Garlands" are the utmost in stove quality.
Makes no difference what style of stove you want or what you wish to pay, there is a "Garland" to suit you.
May we show you these stoves?
Won't you come in and take a look at them—and price them?

They're all new—right from the big factory in Michigan. See them today, if possible. Winter, with its cold, ice, wind and snow, will be upon us before we realize it. Best be comfortable now, in a warm cozy home.

Our Prices Are Right

FRANK DOUGLAS

THE PRACTICAL HARDWARE

Any Kind Of Milk You Want

And it's the best the market affords pure, clean wholesome and healthful. Phone and have one of our wagons deliver your order in the morning.

Janesville Pure Milk Co.

GRIDLEY & CRAFT, Props. North Bluff St. Both Phones

AUCTION

Having decided to quit farming, I will sell at public auction on the place known as the Vankirk farm, one-half mile west of the city limits on Mineral Point Avenue, on commencing at 12:30 o'clock P. M. sharp, the following property.

Wednesday, Nov. 6, '12

5—HEAD OF HORSES—5
One team bay geldings 5 and 7 years old; weight 1300 lbs. each; one bay horse 8 years old, weight 1000 lbs.; one 3-year-old Norman colt, one 2-year-old colt.

8—HEAD OF CATTLE—8
Milch cows, all coming in soon. About 50 Ducks. 10 tons of Timothy Hay in the barn.

FARM MACHINERY
3 lumber wagons, 1 milk wagon, 1 open buggy, 1 corn binder, 1 grain drill, 1 set of steel drags, 1 corn plow, 1 sulky plow, 1 walking plow, 1 hay rake, 1 hay rack, 1 set of bob sleds, 1 mower, tobacco rack, 1 tobacco planter, 1 corn cultivator, 2 walking cultivators, 1 beet cultivator, 1 cream separator, 2 sets of double work harness, 1 set of dump planks, and other articles too numerous to mention.

TERMS OF SALE: Sums of $10 and under cash; on sums over $10 six months' time will be given on good bankable paper, at 6 per cent interest. No property to be removed until satisfactory settled for.

GEORGE HOLLINS

W. T. DOOLEY, Auctioneer. CHAS. SHOEMAKER, Clerk. PROPRIETOR.